CHANGE DATE OF REPORTS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Changes in the dates on which crop reports will be issued during the year were announced Sunday by the United States crop reporting board.

Acreage estimates for spring wheat, barley, oats and other crops except cotton, will be published July 10, instead of June 9, as formerly, a preliminary report on wool production in 1926 has been added to the schedule and will be released July 25.

SEEK BALDNESS CAUSE

NEW YORK, (AP)—The causes of baldness and other deformations of the human thatch are to be sought scientifically. An initial donation of $500 toward establishment of a "college on hair research" was announced Sunday by Charles Nessler, president of the American Hair Dressers' association. A member of the faculty of physicians and surgeons of Columbia university will be in charge of the proposed laboratory.

"Hair is too important a factor in the life, health and happiness of humanity," the donor said, to suffer longer the results of haphazarded handling.

GRADE GRADS ENTER SCHOOL

While authoritative reports on the influx of new students with the beginning of the second semester this morning probably will not be ready before the latter part of the week, the class enrollments have enlarged sufficiently to suggest that some records may be broken.

Sixty-five boys and girls were graduated from the grade schools in La Grande. Not all of them entered high school, but the number of those who did is augmented by tuition pupils from neighboring districts as well as by the families of newcomers to La Grande this winter.

Superintendent J. T. Longfellow states that reports are coming in from the four grade buildings, and that new pupils are being entered all along the line, from beginners experiencing the first thrills of school days to pupils from outside districts come to finish eighth grade in the system where they plan to take their high school work.

Central has 20 new first graders; Riveria counts six or seven beginners. A complete report from the grade schools probably will be ready for publication by tomorrow, the superintendent said this noon.

Lemon Cocoa Butter

Wasn't it only the other day you said, "This weather is bad for the hands"? Well, you needn't let that worry you.

Lemon juice, as you know, is slightly astringent and specific for the treatment of roughness; the cocoa butter is of course, the best of all tissue builders. Combined they make the best possible skin treatment.

This lotion is also an excellent skin bleach.

the Grande Ronde presbytery when he died.

CHICAGO (By the Associated Press)—The coroner's jury decided today that the Rev. Leslie L. Boyd, of Portland, whose body was found in his room here Saturday, came to death through knife wounds self administered. He is known to have been despondent.

900 ATTEND CONCERT BY LOCAL BAND

Harry Price and Harry Snodgrass, saxophone players, appeared in two duets—"June Night" and "On The Blue Lagoon"—given as encore numbers and their melodious interpretation of the selections tickled the taste of the music-lovers and resulted in heavy applause.

R. K. Jones Dies Suddenly.

KELLOGG, Idaho.—Robert K. Jones, age 58, apparently in good health, walked into a Wardner pool hall and sat down by the stove. When the proprietor wished to close the place he found that Mr. Jones was dead.

Mr. Jones was well known at Wardner and Kellogg, having been a resident of this region many years. He was unmarried and had no known relatives in this country.

Kellogg Meat Market Looted.

KELLOGG, Idaho.—Early Sunday thieves looked a truck 'go to the rear door of the Quality meat market on Division street, broke open the door, took 1620 pounds of meat, eight cases of eggs and six cases of butter and drove away.

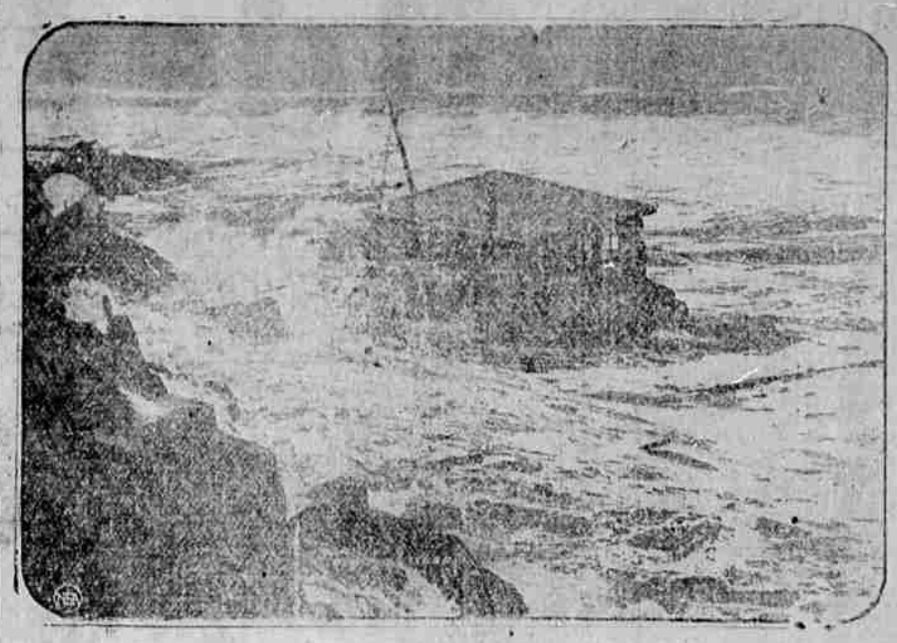
GALE AND ROCKS TAKE TOLL



Four died when a storm swept the Atlantic coast, sending small craft to rocks and to the bottom. The crew of the barge T. J. Hooper was rescued by coast guards. She is shown piled on the rocks at Sandy Hook, N. Y.

The third encore number was a popular march "The Yankee Navy" played by the entire instrumentation.

Squaw's Suite Played

The concert began with the playing of John Philip Sousa's "The Black Man" and "The White Man" from his famous suite "The Dwellers of the Western World." Sousa's ability as a composer other than marches was attested to by the brilliancy of this number.

"Seminola" (Klug-Warren) an Indian novelty of more than ordinary appeal, was next presented and was followed by scenes from the opera "Lucrezia Borgia" by Donizetti.

"Down South" by W. H. Myddleton proved its right to a place on the program and was followed by a clarinet solo "Serenata" (Bellini) featuring Harry Price, a recent addition to the band.

L. J. H. Hemdl's overture "Zampa" brought the concert to a successful close.

During the afternoon announcement was made that the band will give a dance Friday evening. Further details will be given later.

Obituary

T. H. WILLIAMS

Thomas Henry Williams, 58, for 25 years a resident of La Grande, died at 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. Rexie McCoy, where he was a roomer. He had been ill for several weeks.

Funeral services, under Masonic auspices, will be conducted at the Snodgrass & Zimmerman chapel Tuesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. W. C. Ross, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon. Interment will be in the Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Williams was born May 24, 1867, at Pittson, Pa., the son of Dr. and Maggie Lind Williams. He came west with his parents in 1869 and settled at Truckey, Cal. His father was killed in an accident there in 1870, and four years later his mother died, leaving the boy an orphan at the age of 7 years.

Twenty-five years ago, Mr. Williams came to La Grande. He worked as a machinist, and until a short time before his death was in the employ of the O.-W. R. & N. Co.

The only surviving relatives are two second cousins residing at Walla Walla.
