BRITISH READY FOR INVASION

LONDON (By the Associated Press)—The American offensive on British sporting grounds this year will surpass all the previous and mostly successful entrances in international sporting contests on British soil.

The names of Hagen, Collett, West Gunn, Bobby Jones, Tilden, Wills and Paddock already are on the receiving list of English sport organizations and scores of lesser lights are among the entries for the 1926 tournaments.

In recent years the English have come out offensive second in their athletic contests with Americans, but 1926 saw the rise of several stars which make the nation hopeful that the tide will turn.

Golf Loss Hurts Most.
It is the loss of the open golf championship, captured by Americans in 1924 and 1925, that the British feel most and they expect it to be recaptured by the Manchester professional, Archie Compston, who made a rapid rise to the premier position among English professionals last season and now is playing in America.

Compston will have to play against his compatriots Mitchell, Duncan and the usual long list of leading British golfers as well as the Yankee contingent, including Walter Hagen, Jim Barnes, the present open champion, Gene Sarazen, Francis Gulmet and Bobby Jones.

Abe Mitchell has staged a remarkable comeback but he is not steady.

The open championship will be played the week beginning June 21 at Lytham and St. Anne's course in breezy Lancashire, and will be the first time this old course has been the scene of the open. Instead of holding the qualifying rounds immediately before the championship, they will be held three weeks in advance on three different courses, one in the south of England, one in the Midlands and another in Scotland.

It is likely that the American women as well as men golf invaders will arrive in England early in April from then on there will be international golf contests continuously for three months. The U. S. Walker cup team will appear in friendly matches with the Oxford and Cambridge golfing society and later will enter for the Royal St. George's Vase, won by Collett in 1922.

The amateur championship is to be held on the Muirfield course, near Edinburgh, the week of May 25 and lasts six days. The entrance of Bobby Jones, Sir Ernest Holderness, the present champion, Cyril Tolley and possibly Roger Wethered will make this the best amateur struggle of recent years. The Walker Cup matches will be held the week following at St. Andrews.

The women's championship will take place about the same time as the amateur, over the Royal St. David's links at Haverloch, Wales, for which Glenna Collett and Joyce Wethered have entered.

Tennis.
Tennis matches also will bring out the best stars of both countries. W. T. Tilden may join Vincent Richards and R. N. Williams in making his trip, while Helen Wills is to head a women's delegation. They will play against Longden, Borotra, Lacoste, Joan Fry and Kathleen McKane, among others. The contests start at Wimbledon about the third week in June and probably will extend to three weeks. America's women stars will contest for the Wimbledon cup.

The track meets at Stamford Bridge, Oxford and Cambridge probably will attract several Americans. The New York Athletic club already is on the books for the games at Stamford Bridge.

If all the channel swimmers who have announced an attempt to cross the channel make good their threats they will be doing so in schools—and all summer long. Gertrude Joderie and Helen Wainwright are the most conspicuous American entrants so far but there are eight from England, three from South America, six from France and Helen from Egypt.

A Trouble Saver.
A greasy wrench will often slip out of a greasy hand into the dust pan under the engine, into the clutch housing, or into some part of the car where it is very inconvenient to recover it. This may be avoided by tying a string about 15 inches long around the end of the wrench, then a loop around the wrist, or to an adjacent part of the car. This takes about ten minutes, while recovering a wrench that has slipped to some inaccessible part of the car has often caused an hour's delay.

Sometimes we think everybody is wrong about everything, but we know we are wrong about that.

Protector

"Red" Habel, captain of the Wofford S. C. College basketball team, is troubled with weak eyes but it doesn't affect his playing a particle. For "Red," as you'll note, has a specially devised mask which he wears to protect his "eyes." The protector is the work of "Flip" Major, Wofford coach.

TRAP TOURNEY BEGINS SUNDAY

The final practice shoot before the Baker-La Grande-Enterprise trap tournament, with scores to be entered in The Oregonian's telegraphic shoot, was held at the Lone Tree grounds yesterday with August Stange winning high honors. Mr. Stange got 25 birds out of 25. Leslie Kinsel was second with 22 and Joe Kingsley and Chase Bohlenkamp tied for third with 20. The Wing, 4th and Five-foot club members are hoping to end the telegraphic shoot one of the leading teams out of 22 entered in the state. The high ten will go to Portland in June for a final shoot for the championship.

The telegraphic shoot begins next Sunday with an at home shoot. Following that the three teams will alternate in at home and out-of-town shoots.

Kelly, of La Grande, Aspirant for Squad
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore. (Special)—Bern George Kelly, of La Grande, sophomore in the school of business administration, is one of the likely aspirants for the varsity track team. Bill Hayward, veteran coach, has more than 70 men working out for the various events, but only six of them are better men.

Kelly is one of the best looking youngsters in long distance; he is performing in the mile.

Oregon's prospects this season's track are the worst in years, according to Hayward, who has been training out teams here for 24 years. The difficulty is in developing experienced men as most of the material is from the freshman team last year, Hayward says.

snappy cap, gets a big play with most golfers.

However, we have noted that the best dressed golfers are usually the poorest players, Walter Hagen excepted, of course.

The world is full of dead ones, but none are so defenseless as those who are killed with kindness.
