BAKER TEAMS BREAK EVEN IN LOCAL GYM

 The local's teamwork and he is able to go the entire route without slowing up.

Fans who saw the local team early in the season and again Saturday night, are of the opinion that by the time the Union tournament rolls around, La Grande will have an equal chance with the Copper City team.

As Strong as Pendleton.
 After the game, Coach Glendon of Baker, declared: "La Grande and Pendleton will play an even game when they meet."

He said that the Baker team was in much better condition against the Tigers than in its game with the Buckaroos.

This week end, the Tigers face one of the toughest spots on their schedule. Friday night the strong Joseph quintet will play here and on Saturday the blue and white contingent will play a return game at Baker.

Girls Superior.
 In the opening game, the La Grande girls were easily superior to the Baker squad in every department of the game. The Tigers took an early lead and added to it steadily until by the time the third quarter arrived, they led 22 to 7.

The last quarter was the brightest spot of the game. Miss Campbell, forward, exhibited some basketball playing that is the equal of the ability of many a male player. Dribbling and converting field goals with a finish that is remarkable in a girl. During the final quarter La Grande scored 29 points while Baker gathered in four.

The entire team played excellent basketball, passing accurately and putting forth a defense that Baker could not break through.

LA GRANDE PEOPLE AT CONCERT
 Three soloists, a saxophone and a five sextet gave the program variety. Miss Marjorie Moody, with a soprano voice of moorishly beautiful timbre, seemed like the spirit of the band as she fluted "I Am Thine" from "Mignon" by Thomas, and responded to cheers with "Garry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Comin' Through the Ray." William Tong was cornetist; George Carey, saxophone artist.

Of the La Grande attendants at the concert, a partial list is given here:
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thornberg, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hever, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Strick, Miss Irene O'Connell, Miss Louise O'Connell, Miss Alvin Ash, Mrs. Anna Leslie, Graver, C. Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Appleby, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Roberts, Mrs. R. J. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Biggers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Forrest Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, Miss Mary Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby.

Local people en route to Baker, ran into a snowstorm the other side of Powder valley. On their return, with the snow packed by a drizzle until the surface was like ice, several cars went into the ditch trying to pass other automobiles. No one was hurt and none of the cars were damaged.

PRICES BUY THE TIFFIN

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Price today assumed the proprietorship of "The Tiffin," which they will continue to manage as a combined restaurant, cafeteria, soda fountain and candy shop, with the addition of a complete line of pastries and bakery goods.

The Tiffin has been owned, for the last two years, by J. G. and J. Harry Snodgrass, John Macpherson and Mr. Price, with Mr. Price and the younger Snodgrass acting as managers. The latter has not yet announced his plans for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Price plan especially to encourage the patronage of bridge and luncheon parties, offering attractive service in the tearoom and the rear of the open diningroom.

The place was remodeled about a year ago, and adapted to the serving of larger parties. Eighty persons can be accommodated at one time by using both the dining room and the tea room.

Before coming to La Grande, Mr. Price was for three years with the A's and K's establishment at Corvallis. He is a graduate of O. A. C.

YOUTH HAS LARGE PART IN SERVICES

 Several of the young people gave personal expression of their regret at the departure of the Hells. Within a couple of weeks it is expected that the Astoria Lutheran pastor will pay a visit to the church here, as a prospective candidate.

The Rev. Mr. Hamilton, whose home is at Boise, spoke at the First M. E. church in the morning, using as his theme, "The Word of God That Endureth Forever." Mrs. H. N. Ashby was guest soloist.

In the evening, the Rev. Henry W. Parker, pastor, preached a sermon that was supplemented with music by the girls' choir.

Program Announced
 A Charles Gounod program was announced for February 7, in keeping with the choir's custom of presenting monthly musicals.

During the afternoon and evening, the Rev. Mr. Hamilton was inspirational speaker at the joint meeting of Epworthians at the Community church in Island City. The sessions were well-attended, and the programs spirited throughout. Among the talks that composed the afternoon services was one on "Epworth League and Their Bibles" by Miss Eleanora Hines of La Grande.

The afternoon meeting was adjourned at 6 o'clock for two hours of sociability, with a basket supper as the feature event. The usual young people's service was conducted at 7 o'clock, with the lesson centering around the education of Mexicans this side of the border.

Mr. Hamilton's address was the principal number on the evening program.

C. E. Anniversary Celebrated.
 In recognition of the forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor, the Presbyterian young people conducted the evening service at their church yesterday, with Dr. Thompson as their prime speaker. Other talks were: "The Call of the Church," Robert Eakin; "The Claims of the Church," Cecile Pague; "The Conquests of the Church," Boss Gelsbeck; "The Purpose of the Christian Endeavor as a Training School for the Young People of the Church," the Rev. William Ross.

Ralph Gelsbeck and Jack Kinsaid, of the Junior League, sang the incidental solos in two congregational hymns; Misses Myrtle Wilcox and Lulu Amell sang a duet, and Miss Gladys Miller played three organ numbers. A reading was given by Miss Corinne Baker, in costume representing the church.

The offering composed that of the Christian Endeavor by the board of Christian Education.

Pageant Next Sunday
 Celebration of Christian Endeavor week will culminate in a pageant under direction of Mrs. I. C. Hovers next Sunday.

The largest congregation since the Rev. Oliver Riley's pastorate began here the first Sunday in January was present last evening for the initial program in a series that will be given at intervals of a month by the members of the choir. Mrs. H. N. Ashby, director, sang a duet with Mrs. E. L. Holmes; G. S. Birnie offered a solo, and the choir was heard in a special anthem.

missions in China who addressed the little folk at the South Methodist church Sunday morning, giving them information as she received it from her daughter, who is head of a Chinese Christian school.

Good attendance marked both morning and evening services, for which the sermons were delivered by the Rev. J. A. Hall, pastor. Wyatt Starmer led the Epworth League.

Baker-La Grande Contest
 The Central Christian Sunday school yesterday entered a contest with the Baker school, attendance, offerings and new members to be points of competition. The contest will continue to about Easter time.

Favorite or "gold" chapters of the Bible will be featured at a special session of the midweek service Thursday. It was announced yesterday. An effort to raise the attendance figure to 49 will lead zest to the occasion.

First of the workers conferences instituted by the Rev. C. V. Dunn will be held Wednesday at 7:30. Special music yesterday morning included a duet by Mrs. Stanton Latham and Mrs. C. F. McPherson. Mrs. Coleman George sang a solo in the evening.

Evangelistic Sermon
 At the Church of the Nazarene, evangelistic sermons eliminate the problem of Sunday evening attendance. The pastor, the Rev. L. D. Meggers, preached for both services.

Bible study was announced for Thursday evening at the chapel.

The Rev. George Albert Pollard explained the world court to his juvenile congregation at the morning service at the First Baptist church Sunday.

A visit sold by Dick Lindsay was a pleasant feature of the musical portion of the worship.
