—thousands of surplus badges, buttons and medals which were awarded by the government for meritorious work in the collection of war funds—are being eradicated via the smelting furnaces at the Washington navy yard.

After the war these insignia were returned in vast numbers to the treasury department and the method of disposing of them long has been a problem. A plan finally was evolved to melt them, down upon by a three-masted and it is likely that some of the medals may be diverted into the channels of the gun factory.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE By Condo

La Grande Theatres

Jack Hoxie Coming To The Star in New Western

Jack Hoxie in another of his vigorous, breezy Western melodramas, "A Six Shoutin' Romance" will be the chief screen attraction at the Star theater on Wednesday and Thursday. A fine outdoor picture with plenty of hard riding, gun battles, beautiful photography, with Hoxie as a gallant cowboy who is left half-shore of a ranch, finds his partner to be a girl with a strong dislike for him. She is wooed by an unworthy suitor, taken captive, rescued by the man she despised and finally acknowledges that she loves the latter.

Besides Hoxie's fine work in the hero role, that of Olive Hasprouck as the girl commands admiration. A strong supporting cast in evidence.

The comedy "Going Good" will also be shown.

Vivid Sea Wreck In "Only Woman" At Arcade

There is a shipwreck scene in Norman Talmadge's new picture, "The Only Woman" which, to our way of thinking, is one of the most vivid and real bits of action ever brought to the screen.

As a rule such scenes are done, for the most part, in miniature necessitating long distance photography which dilutes the realism of the effect. Here, however, is a method of disposing of them long has been a problem. A plan finally was evolved to melt them, down upon by a three-masted and it is likely that some of the medals may be diverted into the channels of the gun factory.

of minor players, are seen battling for their existence.

Sorted in the Arcade theater last evening, one could almost hear the crash as the big vessel smashed into the yacht, catching it amidships and sending it into splinters. And the cries of the perishing sailors seemed to rise above the roar of the sea as they fought each other for seats in the lifeboats.

There was no miniature work in the scene. It was all real, so vividly real that the audience gasped at the thrilling climax was reached.

Both Norma and Eugene ably vindicated unusual burlesque in the filming of this action. As a rule, where there is danger to life or limb, an expert is employed to substitute for a motion picture star. In this picture, however, both Norma and Eugene stuck through it to the end, battling the mountainous waves which wash over them, knocking them off their feet, and climbing desperately to the raft of the tossing yacht. Their acting is truly remarkable.

Others in the cast include Matthew Betz, Edward Davies, Walter Hall, Percy Williams, Stella Alanto, Murdoch MacQuarrie, Louis Dumar and Neal Dodd.

"The Only Woman" will be the attraction at the Arcade theater tonight and Wednesday.

Morrison Staged Cattle Stampede in Picture at Sherrys

In "Stampede Thunder," which will be shown at the Sherry theater tonight motion picture patrons will have an opportunity of seeing a real cattle stampede. This occurs when a band of rustlers attacks the ranch and drives off the

Protection Is Urged for California Ring-Tailed Cat

San Francisco (AP).—A cat with "an almost human facial expression of kindness," which after all is not a cat but belongs more properly to the raccoon family, is in danger of extinction unless given the protection of legislation banning trapping.

Even Alice, whose trip through Wonderland, might consider this creature somewhat unusual for again quoting the Nature Guide Service of Sequoia National park, the little animal has a diet ranging from mice, lizards and gophers to berries, fruit and insects.

Known variously from Costa Rica on the south to Oregon on the north as California Ring-tailed cat, Miner's cat, Cooncat, Band-tailed cat or, in Mexico, "Acinacate," it can easily be tamed and made an affectionate house pet. It has striking black and white fur, "eyes large, mild and expressive" and is possessed of a nature "kind and unquitting."

In national parks they are protected but elsewhere they are subject to trapping and are decreasing in number so rapidly that they are likely to disappear entirely unless shielded by the law, say those in charge of the Sequoia nature service.

NAME CORN SHOW DIRECTORS

WENDELL, Idaho.—Directors of the Wendell Corn Show and Harvest festival were elected at a recent meeting here. They are George Barrett, Leroy Schouweiler, Austin Schouweiler, Ben Dyar, George Smith, P. H. Beveridge, Ira Anderson, Virgil Halbert and Ray Ward.

The corn show and festival is an annual affair, held during the fall at Wendell. During the fall just passed the show was a decided success, both financially and from the standpoint of exhibits.

Influence of the annual show, directors feel, can be noted in the increase of high grade corn raised in this vicinity. During the recent international fair and grain show at Chicago, yellow dent corn grown in the Wendell district won eight prizes, including first place.
