F. Bowman for recovery on a contract with Joseph R. Bowen, for whom the defendant signed as security. In the contract, Bowman is said to have agreed to take over a stock of goods that Barnes got from the Hawleigh company, and other pay, Barnes or to secure his credit to the amount of their value from the company.

Bowman claims that when he attempted to secure credit for Barnes, the company would permit it, requiring rather than Barnes turn the goods back to them that they might recall it to Bowman. For that reason, Barnes' successor has no consideration and that neither he nor his security are liable.

George Noble's trial on an appeal from a justice court decision convicting him of driving while intoxicated will follow the preliminary case sometime this afternoon. It will be the first of several criminal cases set for this term.

WOMAN HEAD OF JURY
 TILLAMOOK, Ore.—Mrs. Helen Harrison was sworn in today as forewoman of the Tillamook county grand jury and is thought to be the first woman forewoman to ever serve on a grand jury in the state of Oregon. This inaugurates the service of women on juries in this county. Mrs. W. B. Alderman is also a member of the same jury. Both women jurors are prominent members of the Tillamook Woman's club, Mrs. Harrison being the president of the latter organization.

SWINE RAISERS PROSPER
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Depression in corn prices, coupled with high hog prices, has spelled prosperity for the swine raiser who is now declared to be "on the strong ground" by the department of agriculture. In its February report on the farm situation, the department declared that the pig-breeding index of 117, based on an index number of 71, and beef cattle one of 55. This year, says the department, the figures are 59 for corn, 91 for hogs and 75 for beef cattle.

France to Become Germanized?
 Says Pennsylvania Professor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—France eventually must become Germanized, in fact, if not in theory, is the opinion of Dr. R. H. Fries, professor of botany, University of Pennsylvania.

This conclusion is based upon a study of the history of agriculture and populations from the earliest records to the present day, a subject of which he has made a special study.

CENTRAL TEAM AGAIN WINNER

Central school won a shut-out victory from Riveria last night in a basketball game before 500 spectators at the high school gymnasium. The score was 7 to 0. While the winners patiently outplayed their opponents, the Riveria youngsters managed to make an interesting evening for them. Riveria's shortcoming was in the shooting. But the team is resolved to overcome the difficulty before the third game of the five-game tournament. Central already has two wins to its credit. Young Daniels made the field goal, which with five fouls made up the winning score. Jimmie Rosenbaum refereed the play. Grade school children by the hundred were there for the sport, and gave a demonstration of organized support that would have reflected credit on a high school body. Some of the girls took a turn at the yell-leading and put real pep into the boosting. The next game will be played Thursday evening, February 11.

BISHOP IN FAVOR OF BEER, WINE

 The statement of the Rev. J. James Emery, bishop, national secretary, who, in announcing the new policy, said the Volstead act is a failure, has brought a storm of protest and denunciation throughout the country.

 Mrs. specifically gave the mother rights, but the father was not mentioned. Under the new law a mother may take her children away from the father and still force him to pay their maintenance and education.

British dairy farmers especially welcome women as helpers because, they say, it has been proven that women are better adapted to dairying than men.

A school has been opened at Belgrade to teach women to drive steam locomotives. The opening of a new railroad drew attention to the shortage in men.

The women pupils do not discard the skirt, which in fact they wear rather long, but practical work will probably make graduates adopt trousers and overalls as so many women did in France when forced by the war to take up men's professions.

Owing to Russia's isolation from foreign countries, styles in ladies' gowns, footwear and handbags are taking a long time to reach Moscow stores. So the Russian women and girls, who heretofore depended for the latest fashions upon Paris and London, now are creating their own styles.

These styles usually follow the simplest lines. Silks and satins are rarely seen, and picture hats, silk stockings, afternoon crochets and evening dresses are luxuries. Dresses are so plain and devoid of trimmings that there is almost a note of masculinity in them.

The "Vascely center" of exquisite supple doekin in all the newest colors is the rage along the Riviera. The skin, specially prepared and dyed, are soft and velvety, and the chic note is the absence of lining. On the outer side the coat is soft and dull in surface, and on the inner side it is as smooth as satin. The coats are for wear with white serge or chamois dresses in the morning, a smart little draped hat being made to match the coat.

Muslim women are not allowed to marry Christians by the terms of the modified form of the Swiss civil code now before the Turkish National Assembly for ratification. The law which prohibits polygamy and divorce by the mere whim of the husband declares an null marriages contracted with Christians.

Postgraduate Courses for English Cooks and Waiters

LONDON (AP)—To keep up with the times, English cooks and waiters are going to school again to learn the fine points of their jobs.

Several technical schools for cooks and waiters have been started by the London County Council, with the backing of all the larger hotels and restaurants.

Irish subjects only are admissible, and one of the aims of the enterprise is to improve the art of waiting so that foreigners will not be able to flock to the English cities and select all the first class positions because of their cleanliness and polite manners.

She Won't Take It Easy

Max Scovell of Chicago likes to work. Two years ago she went on the stage. Now her father has made a huge fortune in Florida real estate and has wired her to "come home and enjoy society." But she sticks to the stage, remarking, "I'll continue to dance, because you know the devil finds lots of work for idle hands."

INDICTMENT RETURNED FOR HILARY

 Along with the 10 indictments and the three not true bills returned, the grand jury presented its annual report to Judge J. W. Knowles, which has been placed on record at the court house.

The storage vault, where obsolete records are kept in the basement of the court house, was found to be in bad condition, but after a conference with the county judges and commissioners, it was learned that preparations are under way to have the situation corrected under supervision of the county officials and with permission of the state auditor.

The grand jury also stated that the sheriff should be relieved of some of his duties, stating that none of the most of the night and day at the court house.

Some Repairs Needed
 "We visited the various offices of the court house and from brief inspection found courtesy among the officers and their deputies," the report read, also calling attention to numerous rooms that are in need of repair. "These matters recently came before the grand jury, which did not make recommendations for the repairs because it felt the money could be expended more wisely on some other matter. The jurors also recommended placing new linoleum on a majority of the office floors. The report recommended using trustees to assist the janitor in an effort to keep the court house in a more cleanly condition. "The unkept condition is brought about largely because the janitor's hours are largely parallel with the hours of the other officials and if office rooms are properly swept out they must, usually, be cleaned white occupied," the report said.

The grand jury examined the prohibition enforcement fund records and found them correct. With the usual extension of thanks to officials and others who cooperate with them in their work, the grand jurors closed their report, which is signed by A. W. Nelson, foreman, D. B. Burkman, C. E. Moore, George Kelle, P. H. Lee, J. M. Mitchell and W. W. Langford.

WOOLGROWERS WILL BACK STANFIELD LAND MEASURE

SALT LAKE (AP)—Steps will be taken by the National Woolgrowers association to urge the passage of the Stanfield bill by congress, according to Frank J. Haggenbarth, president of the association, who arrived in Salt Lake Thursday, en route to Washington, D. C.

The bill, which would promote the development, protection and utilization of grazing facilities of public lands, was introduced and read twice in the senate, and referred to the committee on public lands and surveys.

Baker County Levy Cut
 BAKER, Ore.—Baker county's tax levy will be reduced about one-tenth of a mill, it was decided at a special meeting of the county budget committee. This will reduce by $25,000 the amount to be raised for the county general road fund this year.

Reduction of the levy was forced by a protest received some time ago from the tax department of the Union Pacific railroad, which informed the county that it had exceeded the 6 per cent limitation and the railroad would refuse to pay the increase. The reduction will cut the general road fund from $61,000, which would have been raised under the budget as previously adopted, to about $36,000.
