RIVERIA TEAM OUT TO WIN

The grade school boys are all set for a real basketball battle at the high school gymnasium Thursday evening, when they meet for the third game of the tournament.

Co-Rivalry is at its height. Last week Central's team carried off its second consecutive victory, leaving the Riviera players without a score. The defeated youngsters quickly marshaled their scattered spirits, however, and went into the practice game Saturday with courage accorded to the sticking point.

If Central boys take another game tomorrow night, they will have to overcome a deal of determined playing, their rivals declare.

Of course, the grade school boys are in the tournament for sport as well as for the pennant. The competition not only lends a lot of fun to the play, but it gives them a chance to show what good fellows they are, when they lose as well as when they win.

J. P. Hummel, who coaches the youthful athletes, said this morning that he has not yet decided on a referee for tomorrow's game.

Mike Yokel Wins Bout From Sallor Woods

MARSHFIELD, Ore. (Special)—Mike Yokel won two out of three falls from Sallor Woods of Coos Bay at Coquille Monday night. Yokel took the first fall with a Japanese toe held in 24 minutes. Wood scored the second in 23 minutes with a headlock. The third fall went to Yokel in eight minutes with an airplane rpt.

HOISE BATTLES GETS OFFERS FROM RICKARD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mickey Roekson, rugged Hoise, Idaho, middleweight, has been offered a bout on the card which brings together Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, and Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, in a title clash at New York City on February 18. Bennie Ford, Roekson's manager said Tuesday he had a telegram from Tex Rickard proposing that Roekson meet Kayo (Phil) Kaplan, the Newark, N. J. boxer, who appeared in several engagements on the Pacific coast recently.

The Hoise fighter is anxious to accept, it was said, but whether he will be able to do so has not yet been determined.

Billy Evans Says:

In football, Michigan has always been noted for turning out high-class centers. It seems to be a habit.

In recent years two Michigan centers have won All-American honors. I have referred to Jack Blott and Ernie Vick.

Great players, they deserved all the honors handed them, yet I am convinced that a certain amount of luck goes with each as mythical an honor as the All-American eleven.

Last year in Bob Brown, Michigan had a center whom I regarded as the equal if not the superior of Blott or Vick, yet Brown did not attain the prestige that went to the other two stars.

Some western critics gave Tim Lowery the preference over Brown in Big Ten circles, while McMillen of Princeton was generally rated higher in the All-American selections.

In addition to being a great center, Brown was the ideal fighting captain, who inspired a never-say-die spirit that did much to make the 1925 Michigan team an outstanding eleven.

Coach Yost regards it as the best team he ever coached; quite some compliment when you consider the many famous teams he has turned out.

ALL-AMERICA SELECTION.

Recently in discussing football with Coach George Little, who had such a big first year at Wisconsin I brought up the play of Bob Brown.

Little, who formerly assisted Yost in football at Michigan, is familiar with the play of Vick and Blott and helped to develop Bob Brown.

"The no-Brown was the outstanding center of the Big Ten, if not the entire country," said Little.

"As a defensive player against the line attack and forward pass, Brown had no equal in the country."

"Brown's play and fighting spirit was the spark plug that made Michigan a great team. If I had been selecting an All-American team in the midst of writer, Bob Brown would have certainly been placed at center."

"I rate him on the equal to Vick or Blott in all things and in certain points of play their superior. That Brown wasn't selected unanimously for All-American honors

So Close the Judges Couldn't Pick One

For the first time in the history of racing at the Louisiana Jockey Club track, New Orleans, two horses ran a dead heat—and Photographer "Doc" Ashby was lucky enough to get the picture. It was a long enough that four horses had run a dead heat, but after a conference the judges decided only two were dead. The photograph of the finish shows Georgia next to the rail; Hilarion second to the rail; Hilary next, and Hilarion on the outside. From the angle at which the picture was snapped it does not look as though the four horses ran a dead heat, but the judges declare there was not a whisker's breadth between any of the four.

Radical Books ON DECREASE

A great many coaches do not look on the All-American teams with favor, but the reading public likes them, so the critics will go on picking 'em.

PITCHER ERNIE NEVERS
Major leaguers are wondering what happens Ernie Nevers will have as pitcher for the St. Louis Browns. Nevers was a big star in baseball as well as on the gridiron. That makes something when you take into consideration that his coach, Glenn Warner, who also developed Jim Thorpe, pronounced Nevers the greatest football player of all-time.

If Nevers makes good in big league circles he will kill off a line that has followed football-baseball stars for years. Mighty few of them have delivered in the majors.

As a matter of fact, college players, even those who didn't dabble in football, had a tough season of it in the American league in 1925.

Not one, with the possible exception of pitcher Carroll, the Holy Cross star, got very far and he just about reached base.

Ernie Carroll, who had won 48 out of 50 games as a college pitcher, found the going much different in the majors.

For several years college stars have not been such howling successes in the majors. In addition they have come mighty high, for most of them are good business men.

Aggies Defeat W. S. C. At Corvallis, 31 to 21

CORVALLIS (By the Associated Press)—The Oregon Agricultural college basketball team defeated Washington State college here last night by a score of 31 to 24.

The Washington State college team worked strong until the Aggies lead kept mounting and they began making scratch shots. All through the game they checked on closely and guarded so well that two of the Aggie team members, Dikowsky and Pinkerton, contributed no field goals at all. Both contributed by strong attacks and Dikowsky rang three points on free throws.

PENDLETON GOLF COURSE WILL BE LENGTHENED OUT

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special)—The Pendleton Golf club course is to be lengthened 415 yards, bringing the course from 2500 yards to 2915 yards, standard length, and thus enabling local members to join the Pacific Northwest Golf association, which membership will entitle them to play in P. N. G. A. tournaments and give them the right to pay only nominal greens fees when visiting P. N. G. A. courses.

For the lengthening of the course, land south of the links will be used, permission having been given by the owners. Work has begun and the holes which will be lengthened are Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

Veteran Naval Monitor Is To Be A Floating Hostelry

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Built as a floating fortress, the navy monitor Amphitrite is destined to finish her days as a floating hostelry.

The one-time "goddess of the sea" is now in dry dock transformed into a fully equipped hotel which will be used to supplement the crowded housing facilities of Florida.

It is understood the sea-going hotel will be established off Miami. A fleet of launches will be used to transport guests to and from the hotel.

In the hull of the ship, provision has been made for a balcony, dining room, dance hall, barber shop and quarters for the crew. In the three stories being erected will be accommodations for 200 guests.

The Amphitrite was 275 feet long and 55 feet wide. Until acquired by the present owners it had been out of commission at the Philadelphia navy yard, after a long service in domestic and foreign waters as a member of the country's naval forces.

COPELAND IS DOCTOR-SOLON

(By Charles P. Stewart)
WASHINGTON (NEA Special)—Dr. Royal K. Copeland of New York is a hard senator to account for.

He left hard to account for on the ground that he's a doctor. Medicine may not seem like a profession that should lead very naturally to politics, but it does, quite frequently.

Half a dozen doctors held down seats in the two houses of congress, not counting a couple of dentists.

Dr. Copeland's peculiarity in different.

He must be an extremely clever politician, but he isn't in the least of the senatorial type, nor has he the senatorial mental equipment.

His mental equipment's all right, but it's a doctor's, not a senator's. Representatives John J. Kindred of New York, Ludinus Logans of Louisiana, Ed. W. Irwin of Illinois and J. W. Sammons of Washington, all of whom are doctors, are congressionally-minded, as well as medically so.

Dr. Copeland isn't.

The "doc" has a charming personality.

He doesn't know the slightest thing about legislation. They tell him in his bowtie every time he says anything, but he does it anyway. They like him.

His sentiments do him credit. For instance, the suffering caused by the coal strike exercised him dreadfully. He demanded action. "All right," said his fellow senators, "what's your program?" "I haven't any," replied the "doc," "but I want something done about it." That's "Doc" Copeland.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE FILED AGAINST BOXER

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Walter Broderick of this city, known in boxing circles as "Kid" Broad, was arrested Tuesday charged with manslaughter following the death of the Stamford hospital of "Tiger" Smith of Norwalk. Smith's death resulted from blows received in a boxing bout here Monday night.

A blow in the stomach in the third round sent Smith to the canvas and when he failed to recover consciousness he was taken to the hospital. He died three hours later.

HEALTH

DAILY EXERCISE

(By Dr. Frederick Stricker)

Daily exercise is necessary for all-around development of the body and mind. The right kind of exercise has a tonic effect on the mind. Good, wholesome athletic sports inspiring enthusiasm and enthusiasm in itself, is a benefit to health. Systematic exercise is essential and beneficial. It keeps a healthy mind in a healthy body. This means a healthy life.

Outdoor exercises are preferable the year around. There is no reason for a "shut-in season" in Oregon. It is easy to acquire the walking habit in the summer, but there is nothing more training and stimulating than a walk during the winter months. Walking in an ideal all-around exercise, available to everyone, and gives one an opportunity to enjoy the wonders of nature in a way in which they were meant to be enjoyed.

Walk with body, erect, chest well expanded and arms swinging. A daily three mile jaunt should be taken by everyone whose duties are indoors.

Exercise accomplishes the purpose only when carried to the point of moderate fatigue. Daily exercise sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, very greatly increases the assimilation of food, and aids in the excretion of waste products. Sedentary habits and physical inactivity contribute largely to the ill of man. Poor circulation, as evidenced by cold feet and hands, is one of the indications of sedentary living. The circulation of blood is directly influenced by the contraction and expansion of muscles. Perfect circulation, therefore, demands daily exercise of the muscles. Exercise increases the force and frequency of the heart beat.

Daily exercise followed by a cold shower is a great preventive of colds. Exercise develops full, deep breathing. Most persons leading a sedentary life, use only one-half their capacity for breathing. Stagnation of air due to lack of proper air motion makes them susceptible to colds and respiratory diseases. Physical exercise increases the amount of oxygen taken into the lungs and the amount of carbon dioxide and other waste products given out. Physical exercise, suitable to age, skill and ability, regularly practiced, is an invaluable aid to the acquisition of a pleasant disposition and the full enjoyment of life. Why not treat your body as you do your business—keep it going and improving the whole year round—quarterly or season or weather?
