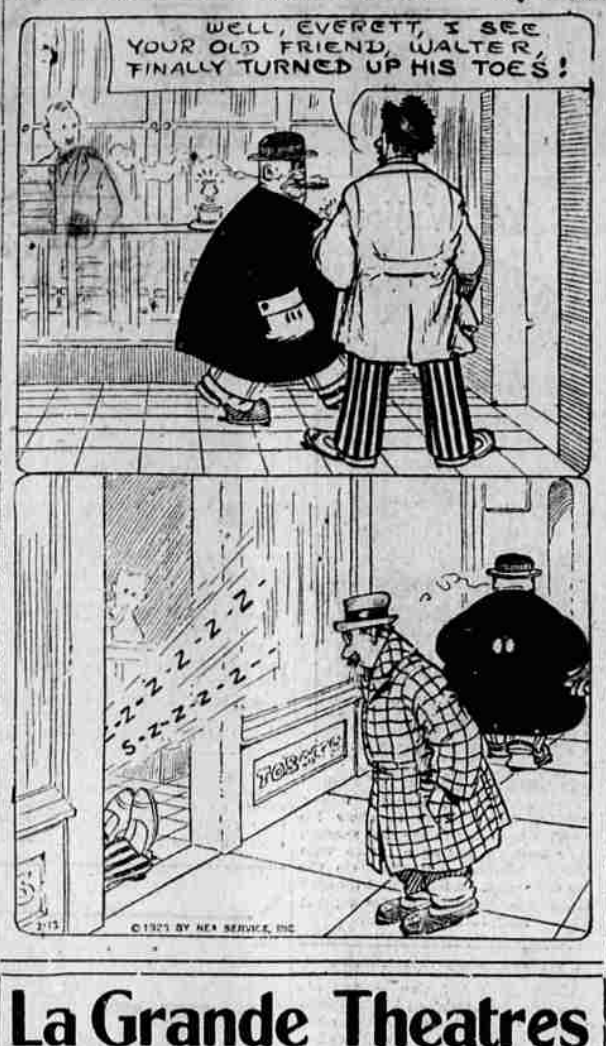
OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE By Condo



La Grande Theatres

"Joanna," First National Film, Coming to Star

"Joanna," an Edwin Carewe-First National production, based on a newspaper serial by H. L. Gates, starts a showing Sunday at the Star theater. Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall appear in the featured roles.

The story concerns the activities of a beautiful young dress model after she is given a mysterious legacy of a million dollars. Among the unusual features promised in this film are a gorgeous fashion show and a midnight bathing party in which the bathers are rather scantily attired.

Clyde Cook in his newest two reel comedy will also be shown.

New Adaptation of "Stella Maris" Unlike Past Movie Version

Mary Philbin, in two separate roles, one made possible by the use of a makeup as elaborate as that of Lon Chaney in "The Phantom of the Opera" or "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," will be the attraction at the Arcade theater Monday only when she will appear in the outstanding role in her career, in "Stella Maris," Universal's filmization of William J. Locke's romantic classic.

Some years ago Mary Pickford played the role, but the new version, as directed by Charles Brabin, the famous creator of "Driven," is so different that the roles can hardly be compared. Critics hold that it is Miss Philbin's greatest achievement since her leap to fame, practically overnight, in "Merry Go Round."

The story centers about the love of two men, devoted friends, for a beautiful cripple, and the doglike devotion of a little housemaid, befriended by one of the men, who gives up her life to save the happiness of the only man who had ever been kind to her.

Miss Philbin plays the two roles—one a beautiful creature as fragile as a Dresden doll—the other a coarse working girl of the London lower classes, but whose soul proves the greatest thing in the story at the dramatic denouement.

Strong Vaudeville Anticipated at Arcade Sunday

An entirely new program of sparkling novelties, beautiful girls, catchy songs, intricate dances, and comedy producers will be seen at the Arcade theater on Sunday.

The present vaudeville show is an unusually strong one with headline honors going to the Chester Trio who present one of the classiest and cleverest tight steel wire acts billed as "Sensational Gymnasts and Dancers on the Thread of Steel." Many daring and seemingly impossible feats are performed by this clever trio. Dawson and Jackson in "This and That," a duo of beautiful young ladies presenting a song and story program of popular song hits which they render most exquisitely, clothed in beautiful gowns and the stage appropriately draped.

Easley and Elkins are known as "The Beau Brummel and the Monk," and will furnish the comedy for the bill. Laughter reigns supreme while these colored punsters and dancers are portraying the different characters they represent. Leon Lang presents a "Comedy Juggleologue" in which he handles his objects with a dexterity that has made him famous. He is a juggler and comedian, Wallace and Jayne present a banjo specialty that runs the gamut from opera to jazz. They are both exceptional artist and their number is bound to please.

"O. U. West," With Lefty Flynn, Now Showing at Sherrys

"O. U. West," fourth of the Harry Garson productions starring the handsome and hard-riding Lefty Flynn, proves the best of the series thus far and will do much to add to the growing prestige and popularity of the former Yale athlete when it comes to the screen of the Sherry theater today. A novel story from the pen of Helen Broneau has been finely directed by Mr. Garson and Lefty himself was never seen to better advantage than he is at the head of a sterling cast of players which includes Ann May and Evelyn Francisco. "O. U. West" is distinctive among westerns in that it starts out with a rip-roaring comedy opening and carries a heavy load of laughter all the way through, blazing out into spectacular melodrama before the story has progressed very far. The title is both the name of the leading character, portrayed by Mr. Flynn, and an exclamation. Raymond Turner, Milton Ross, Bill Donovan and the Burns brothers have important parts in the production, which will rank as one of the most colorful and amusing westerns of the season.

Also showing a comedy.

Fascinating Festival In Song, Dance and Novelty Promised

The joy of a story told to lilting tunes does not die easily. The motion pictures, in spite of their great popularity, have not lessened in the least, the demand for musical comedy. Everywhere the people are re-acting to the speaking and singing stage and seemingly enjoying more than ever the twinkling toes, the comedians, the smiling girls and the glitter and sparkle that is a part of musical comedy.

"My China Doll" one of the latest musical fantasies to be claimed a hit and which is coming to the Arcade theater Tuesday night, February 16, is well known to the stage world. Its lyrics and musical numbers have been sung, recorded and played by orchestras for nearly two seasons, yet the show as a whole has not before visited here.

Chinatown and its mysticism, together with Fairyland, has been called into the making of this novel offering, with its locale laid in New York's Oriental quarters the story unfolds through a series of transformations including the Land of Story Books, the Valley of Flowers, Melody Town in the Land of Music and leads right up to a happy ending to the sound of wedding bells. Here again will be seen a prettily mounted production combining tuneful melodies with a mirthful melange of effects and novelties, eye-dazzling costumes and smiling dancing and singing girls.

Barbara Bronell, dainty musical star is playing the title role. She is pretty, artful, agile and fond of fun. She dances and sings through the lilting songs in a way that has caused her to be acclaimed, the "hit of the show." The supporting company includes Bessie Delmore, Leona Slater, Florence Wardle, Amos Harper, George Wakefield, William P. Murphe, Tom Crowley, Don Shafer and others.

"Below The Line" Features Rin-Tin-Tin At Sherrys

Rin-Tin-Tin, in his latest Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, "Below the Line," will be seen at the Sherry theater on Sunday for a two-day engagement.

This dog star heads a cast which includes June Marlowe, John Harron, Pat Hartigan, Victor Potel, Charles (Heinie) Conklin, Gilbert Clayton, Edith Yorke and Taylor Duncan.

"Rinty's role is that of a vicious dog who has been brutally trained for pit-fighting and who has never known love or kindness from his master. Donald Cass (John Harron) and his pretty sweetheart, May Barton(June Marlowe), befriend him, and, through affectionate training, the dog becomes a brave and loyal friend.

When Jamber Niles (Pat Hartigan), the village bully, attacks and steals the jewels of a wealthy young woman who is visiting the village, it is "Rinty" who brings him to justice. He again proves his courage when "Cuckoo" Niles, Jamber's brother, (Victor Potel) loses a pack of bloodhounds, who pursue May and Donald, and "Rinty," in a terrific fight, protects the girl and boy from death.

Charles (Heinie) Conklin has the comedy role of the deputy sheriff, and Edith Yorke plays the frail, appealing mother of Donald. The remainder of the caste includes Gilmore Clayton and Taylor Duncan.

"Below the Line" was written and adapted to the screen by Charles A. Logue, and directed by Herman Raymaker, who is also responsible for the direction of "Rinty's" last success, "Tracked in the Snow Country." John Mescall was the cameraman and the shots in the southern locale are said to be among the most beautiful of any recent screen production.
