St. Peter's Church Scene of Wedding

St. Peter's Episcopal church was the scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at 6:30 o'clock when Miss Ruth Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Hill of this city, was united in marriage to Duwain M. Warnock, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Warnock of Kansas City, Missouri. The wedding was solemnized by the Rev. Oliver Hilly, rector of the church.

The church was beautifully decorated with huge bouquets of white daffodils tied with white in the same color. An aisle formed of green shrubs led up to the altar which was banked with white tulle and lighted with stately candles.

While Mrs. E. L. Holmes played Lohengrin's wedding march the bridal party entered headed by the mothers, Roy Purush, of Pendleton, Audmer Dwyer and Warren K. Gilbert. Next came the maid of honor, Mrs. Blanche Furnish of Pendleton, the bride's cousin, and the bride's matrons, Mrs. Warren Gilbert and Mrs. Oscar Warnock. They were followed by little Miss Isabelle Hill of Pendleton as ring bearer. She was dressed in a ruffled dress of green tulle and carried the wedding ring on a large white satin pillow and was followed by the bride accompanied by her father. The little twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, George and Gerald, were pages and followed the bride carrying the bridal train. They were dressed in white satin.

At the altar the bridal party was met by the groom and his best man, Oscar Warnock, his brother. The bride was beautiful in a dress of white imported pussy-willow tulle trimmed with silver beads. She wore slippers of silver to match her gown. Her full veil bordered with lace was a cap effect adorned with orange blossoms. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley and ophelia roses. Her attendants were dressed in the pastel shades. Her maid of honor, Miss Furnish, wore a dress of peach georgette and a picture hat in the same shade. Her bouquet was of lavender sweetpeas and ophelia roses. The bride's matrons, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Warnock, wore gowns of blue and pink georgette respectively with picture hats to match and curled muff corsages of sweetpeas and rosebuds. The bride's mother was charming in a gown of green georgette. The men of the party wore conventional evening clothes.

Mrs. James Hill of Pendleton, aunt of the bride, sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "Oh Ring." Mrs. Holmes was her accompanist. As a recessional Mrs. Holmes played Mendelssohn. Seventy-five people witnessed the nuptial ceremony.

After the marriage a reception was held for the happy couple at the home of the bride's parents with only relatives present. The rooms were decorated with gorgeous bouquets of cut flowers. Mrs. Anna Furnish of Pendleton cut the wedding cake and Mrs. David Hill, also of Pendleton, poured. Misses Kathryn Furnish, Evelyn Struve and Jacqueline O'Brien served. Misses Furnish and Struve are both of Pendleton. Mrs. Claude Hanscom of Pendleton, assisted as hostess.

Immediately after the reception the young couple left for Kansas City, Missouri, where they will make their future home. Miss Hill has lived in La Grande many years of her life and graduated from the local high school. After her graduation she attended the Oregon Agricultural college for three years where she became a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Warnock came to La Grande about three years ago from Kansas City and was connected with the Bowman-Hicks Lumber company here up until about two months ago when he was transferred by that company to the Kansas City office, where he is now connected with the sales department.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hanscom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Struve, Mr. and Mrs. David Hill and Mrs. Anna Furnish, all of Pendleton, and Dr. W. H. Lytle, of Salem.

Seven women of the club composed the cast. Mrs. Dwight Jessop took the part of Clive Champion Cheney; Mrs. Lloyd Scriber was Arnold Champion Cheney; Mrs. Richard Claycomb, Lady Catherine Cheney; Mrs. Dale Cox, Elizabeth Cheney; Mrs. L. H. Russell, Lord Pyorthous; Mrs. Robert Newlin, Edward Lutton and Mrs. J. E. Woodell, Mrs. Shonemans.
