City of Eugene Sues Farmer.

EUGENE, Ore.—The city of Eugene instituted suit in circuit court against John E. Ryan, a farmer living between Eugene and the site of the intake of the new source of municipal water supply on the McKenzie river near Hayden's bridge, to condemn right of way.

GET AT THE CAUSE

Many La Grande Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Neck-And-Shoulder Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day aches, the suffering is tormenting and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant headache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many La Grande people. Profit by this La Grande resident's experience:

Mr. H. T. Dodd, 1519 Jefferson avenue, says: "I had occasional attacks of kidney complaint when I felt run down and had no energy. My back was weak and lame, too. My kidneys didn't act right and I knew they caused the trouble. I used Doan's Pills for the trouble, and they gave me relief by strengthening my back and kidneys."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Dodd had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Mae Marsh at Sherrys Today in "Tides of Passion"

It's good news for the fans that a picture starring Mae Marsh is coming to town. It's "Tides of Passion," a Vitaphone, and it opens a run at the Sherry theater for today and tomorrow.

Mae Marsh is not only recognized everywhere as one of the greatest of screen actresses, but she is universally beloved. The new production is declared to be one that is admirably adapted to her rare talents as an actress and one destined to give her a yet firmer hold on the affections of the public.

"Tides of Passion" is an adaptation of the best-selling novel, "In the Garden of Eden," which tells a powerful story, one that not only entertains but makes folks think. Its entertainment qualities are said to be without limit, and the height of thrills is reached when two girls find themselves marooned on a narrow ledge in the ocean, in imminent peril of death from the mad sea waves and the shifting winds. Their rescue forms one of the most startlingly realistic scenes ever filmed.

Miss Marsh is supported in "Tides of Passion" by a superior cast, with Ben Hendricks, Laska Winter, Earl Sorenson, Ivor McEadden and Thomas Mills in important roles. The picture was produced by J. Stuart Blackton, comedy showing "The South."

Kyne Novel Reaches Screen Via Paramount

A motion picture that moves with the speed of a machine gun! That's "The Enchanted Hill," celluloid Paramount version of Peter B. Kyne's latest dynamic novel, which Irvin Willat produced with a brilliant cast of players featuring Jack H. Hays, Florence Vidor, Noah Berry and Mary Brian.

The story gets its title from the fact that the ranch house, around which most of the action centers, has been built on a very high hill commanding a magnificent view of the country for miles around.

The plot has to do with the spectacular fight waged by Holt and Miss Vidor to keep their cattle ranches, which Berry and a gang of desperados are trying to take away from them. From start to finish there isn't a dull moment in the picture, what with fist fights, machine gun battles, airplane chases and sea battles.

Raymond Griffith Stars in Picture Now at Arcade

When you see Raymond Griffith at the Arcade theater tonight or Thursday you'll readily admit "He's a Prince!" in the picture by the title which leads a high class program.

"He's a Prince!" directed by Edward Sutherland from Kenneth Thompson's adaptation of the story by Reginald Morris and Joseph Mitchell, is a strictly Griffith story with Griffith as and Griffith ideas. As a young and exceedingly likeable Prince... declares a strike for shorter hours and more pay. He is informed that his appointment book is filled for months to come. He can't quit, so he decides to run away.

And run away he does, sneaking out of the castle with a party of tourists. Mary Brian is in the crowd and the Prince falls for her right then and there. She pools the idea that he is a Prince and Ray chases her all over the country with his love-making, only to be overtaken by his father's Prime Minister who hands him an official looking document which announces the death of the King.

So back to the palace goes Ray, fidgets through the coronation ceremony wondering why the girl, who had promised to be there, doesn't show up. Through with the King game for good, Ray sets about the business of ducking out from under his crown and erasing the role by arranging with an anarchist who has been agitating for years to dethrone him. Free again, Ray starts after Mary. This time he wins her. Now that he has the girl of his dreams, he believes his parade-reviewing, uniform-changing days are over, only to discover at the end of the picture that he has to do all these things just the same as when he was King. Now that he is President of the new republic.

Paramount furnished Griffith with his own special comedy production unit for this one. More power to them!

Remember Mary Brian as "The Little French Girl" and in "The Street of Forgotten Men?" She's more charming than ever here.

Tyrone Power is cast as the King, Ray's father. Nigel de Brere is the revolutionist, and Gustav Von Seyffertitz is cast as the Prime Minister. Others include Kathleen Kirkham, Carl Stockdale, Michael Dark, Lincoln Plummer, in a comedy role, as the tourist guide; Jacqueline Godson and Jerry Austin.

Another of the well known Hal Roach comedies is being shown on the same program.

BOARD APPROVES MOVE

SALEM, Ore.—Reports were received here that the board of education of the Methodist church, which is holding its annual meeting in Chicago, had approved officially the proposal to move Kimball college of theology from this city to Seattle.

Dr. E. C. Hiekkman, president of Kimball college, who went east to attend the meeting of the board will not return here for several weeks. He has been assigned, it was said, to interview a number of trustees with a view to convincing them of the wisdom of the college's move to Seattle.

How Skinny Kids Gain Weight and Strength

Everyone knows that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins, is a flesh builder supreme. In children where rickets are suspected it even helps to build up the bones and strengthen the body.

But let us all be glad the poor-underweight, sickly, puny little ones don't have to take the vile, nasty, oily stuff any more for thanks to science McCoys' Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets has taken its place.

Sugar coated they are and as easy to take as candy and if you will give them to your sickly child for thirty days, you'll be very happy indeed.

If you are not, Red Cross Drug Store, Glass Drug Co. or the drugist from whom you bought them is authorized to return your money. 60 tablets, 60 cents—but be sure and get McCoys', the original and genuine.—Adv.

PACIFIC MANAGERS MEET

PACIFIC COLLEGE, Newberg, Ore.—Faculty changes for the coming year occupied the attention of the board of managers of Pacific college at its regular quarterly meeting last night. There will be four changes in the force, though only one in the college proper. Miss Ella M. Dungan has resigned as head of the department of psychology and education.

There will be three changes in the preparatory department. Miss Mary C. Sutton, teacher of history, obtained a year's leave of absence for graduate work. The resignation of Miss Della G. Tucker was accepted. She has been assistant in English and in charge of the women's dormitory. Miss Mary L. Johnson returned to her work as commercial teacher, while Miss Pauline Terrell, who has handled this work during the year, will take graduate work next year. None of these vacancies has been filled.

The annual salaries for the entire year was raised from $75 to $100.
