Sport Wear for Spring

All young America and those who persist in staying young are sporting colorful garments. The snappy, bright patterns can be seen on every high school athletic field, college campus, on every street, on the golf links, on the tennis court--wherever sport wear is the vogue.

We have selected for our many patrons the best, both imported and domestic. From Scotland comes our famous "McGregor" sportwear -- the most fascinating imported sport wear found anywhere. Its superior quality and distinctive patterns make it recognized as a leader the world over in men's fashions for sport.

Our domestic selections include such famous makes as "Bradley" and "Dobbs" -- they need no introduction to you.

The call of Spring, with its golf, hunting, fishing, hiking, motoring, is near. We feel we have chosen carefully and well for the man who loves the great outdoors.

Come in and see our new "Sport Wear" -- it will please you.

Guest speakers, an illustrated sermon and rites of baptism give promise of well-attended evening meetings in La Grande churches tomorrow.

The Rev. Paul G. Stevens, D. D., of San Francisco, and the Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Portland, on their way home from the national conference of the church at Minneapolis, will address the Presbyterian congregation, at 7:30 p. m. At the same hour, H. E. Dixon will deliver a talk on "The Life of Washington" at the First M. E. church. The Rev. George Albert Pollard has announced an illustrated sermon centering around the biblical history of Damascus for the First Baptist evening service. Results of the afternoon canvass will be given and a baptismal service will be solemnized at the Central Christian church.

First Presbyterian.

An opportunity of hearing church leaders with a national viewpoint is offered the Presbyterian congregation Sunday evening, when Dr. Thompson, synodical executive, and Dr. Stevens, Pacific coast representative in the board of National Missions, are to speak.

The day's program will open with Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Classes for all ages are conducted.

The first of the Lenten sermons that the Rev. W. C. Ross, pastor, has prepared for his people will be preached at the 11 a. m., service. The subject of the series is "The Character of Jesus." Lawrence Dutton, tenor, will sing. Organ music will be played by Mrs. J. A. Tedford. At 3:30 the Junior C. E. will meet; at 6:15 p. m., the Intermediate society.

First Methodist.

The Rev. Henry W. Parker, pastor, will have as his sermon theme, "An Old Testament Call and a New Testament Statement."

"The Supremacy of the Kingdom" will be the sermon subject. A trio will be sung by Miss Bernice McKinney, Mrs. Dallas Green and Mrs. J. T. Harvey.

A rapid growth is noticeable in the Sunday school. The attendance last Sunday was 214. Central is now 600 points in the lead of Baker in the Sunday school contest.

A report of the canvass will be made at the evening service. The pastor, the Rev. C. Y. Dunn, will preach on "Opening the Prison Doors." Baptismal rites will be held after the sermon. Music for the occasion will be sung by J. J. Bunting and Mrs. Stanton C. Lapham, who are to be heard in a duet.

First Baptist.

Pictures of Damascus, the oldest city in the world, will be shown with the Rev. George Albert Pollard's evening service at the Baptist church tomorrow. Damascus has figured in many a Bible story. It will be an interesting attempt to try to enumerate the Bible connections of this ancient and modern city. A service of unique and genuine worship is promised by the pastor, who extends a general invitation to the public.

Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m., with the assembly period at 10:30 a. m.

Blacksmith Trade Is Faced With Extinction in Britain

ALFORD, England (AP) — The prospect of possessing brawny arms, standing romantically under a spreading chestnut tree, and going to church on Sunday, no longer appeals to English country lads. So few are becoming blacksmiths that the trade is faced with extinction.

Of 163 blacksmiths in this section of England only nine have apprentices. English wheelwrights and saddlers find equal difficulty in obtaining young men to carry on their craft.

Dr. W. J. Clark Will Conduct Service Here

Preaching Mission to Be Featured at Episcopal Church in Latter Part of March.

A preaching mission — for the purpose of awakening interest in the message that the Christian religion has for both the individual and the community in the present disturbed condition of world affairs — will be conducted at St. Peter's church beginning March 17 and continuing daily until March 28, according to the Rev. Oliver Riley, rector. Dr. W. J. Loring Clark, a distinguished representative of the National Council of the Episcopal church, will be the missioner. He comes at the invitation of Mr. Riley and the vestrymen of his church.

Mr. Riley explains that a preaching mission consists of a series of services, with addresses by the missioner, a "question box," congregational singing and devotional exercises. It is designed for the benefit of persons of all religious denominations and those of none, but particularly for the skeptical. The rector especially stresses the point that the preaching missions which Dr. Clark is conducting throughout the country are not what are known as revival meetings appealing for the most part to the emotions, but rather are they services in which the emphasis is laid equally upon reason and fact.

Originated in Detroit.

The missions, he continues, are a development of plans which were originated at the Episcopal general convention in Detroit in 1919, which directed the appointment of a commission to consider the whole subject of preaching missions in their relation to the obligation of the church to exert its influence in showing what the Christian religion can do in assisting in the restoration of world peace and order.

"These are practical times in which men and women have to be shown," said Dr. Riley in announcing the preaching mission at his church. "Almost everyone agrees that religion is a good thing, yet many of our people continue among the non-churchgoers largely because they do not take the trouble to inform themselves as to what Christianity means and stands for, and how its practical application makes for infinitely better, happier and more useful lives, and a greatly improved community. We take up with new ideas as fast as they develop, attend lectures on the latest scientific discoveries, go in for radio and follow the latest fashions, yet it is not too much to say that after almost 2000 years, the majority of us lack intelligent comprehension of what the teachings of Jesus Christ really are. It is simple fact that adherence to them would have diverted all the ills that the world has suffered in the past decade. If this statement is denied, the answer is, 'How can you intelligently deny when you haven't given them a trial and have little more than a vague idea about them?'"

Everybody Invited.

Everybody will be invited to the mission, Mr. Riley said. And he added that the missioner will have an interesting story to tell as any that has been heard here for a long time.

Catholics Will Build Rectory in Enterprise

Catholics in this vicinity watch with sympathetic interest the progress of plans for making a settled parish of St. Mary's church at Enterprise, which thus far has existed as a missionary territory. With the help of the diocese, the members are planning to build a rectory this year. The plans are being drawn now and bids will be asked shortly.

A large lot owned by the church and located near the house of worship will provide the building site. The house will be a six or seven-room structure, to cost about $4,500. About $2200 of the amount is in the treasury.

One-Fifth of Austrians Living at State Expense

VIENNA (AP)—One-fifth of the population of Austria is living altogether or in part at the expense of the state. Here are the official figures.

Government employes	190,000
Government pensioners	122,000
War invalids	60,000
Unemployed receiving aid	152,000
	$524,000

Official inquiries have resulted in finding that on an average two persons are dependent on the 524,000 receiving direct maintenance from the government, which includes city and communal administrations. The estimated total consequently is 1,572,000, or considerably more than one-fifth of the population.

The taxes which rest heavily upon the city especially, are calculated as being from 35 to 46 per cent of income, depending upon who does the ciphering. Housewners complain passionately of their treatment by the state.

Foch Says Demosthenes Was Too Talkative For Service

PARIS (AP) — Marshal Foch does not share that enthusiasm for Demosthenes which led Clemenceau to devote the leisure of his retirement to writing a book on the great Athenian orator.

"Demosthenes does not interest me," remarked the eminent soldier. "He talked a great deal. But that did not save his country."

Dempsey says he will fight Labor day. Dempsey, whose first name is Jack, is a former pugilist.

What Is This Thing DIS-EASE?

When there is interference to transmission of Mental Impulses there is a lack of ease in some part of the body.

THE NERVES OVER WHICH MENTAL IMPULSES TRAVEL ARE IMPAIRED BY A VERTEBRA (bone in the spine) becoming out of its proper position and pressing upon the NERVE — this means Interference to Mental Impulses — Dis-ease.

The Chiropractor adjusts this vertebra back to its normal position. Health invariably results.
