Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary) Breakfast—Apples, cereal cooked with dates, thin cream, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Scalloped oyster plant, brown bread and butter sandwiches, ring of prunes, milk, tea.

Dinner—Brotted lamb chops, creamed potatoes, buttered peas, head lettuce with Bénédict cheese dressing, whole wheat bread, caramel custard, crisp cookies, milk, coffee.

With the exception of the salad dressing there are no dishes suggested on the day's menu not suitable for a child of 4 years of age.

Ring of Prunes One pound of prunes, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1 cup whipping cream, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, few grains salt.

Wash prunes well and let stand over night in cold water to cover. In the morning stew slowly in this water until tender but not mushy or broken. Drain and measure juice. There should be two and one-half cups. Soften gelatine in 1/2 cup cold water for 10 minutes. Combine prune juice and granulated sugar and bring to the boiling point. Add softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Remove from fire and let stand until cool. Remove stones from prunes, keeping the fruit as perfect as possible. Dip each prune into liquid and arrange in rows in the ring mold. When firm to the touch pour in jelly and let stand until "set" and chilled. When ready to serve unmold onto a large plate. Whip cream until solid, adding powdered sugar and vanilla when cream thickens. Fill center of mold with whipped cream and serve. Candied cherries and strips of citron can be used to garnish the dish if desired. This recipe will serve eight persons.

Seeds Are Always Bargains. Seeds are always bargains. They are the cheapest things we can buy and we get more for the money in a seed packet than in anything else we can purchase.

It is best to order seed early, particularly of the more popular types, so that it will not be necessary to accept substitutes because of the selling out of stock.

Many housewives think that a stone crock is the best receptacle for restoring bread as it does not cause the bread to become musty or damp. The moisture has a chance to escape through the porous crock, and the flavor of the loaf is better maintained.

Greasy spots are removed from wall paper by covering the spot with a clean blotter and a warm iron. The spot gradually disappears.

Tarnish is removed from silverware by soaking it in whey or sour milk. When thoroughly soaked, it is washed in hot soapy water and polished with a dry, soft cloth.
