MAN KILLS SELF WITH SEARCHERS WATCHING HIM

MEDFORD, Ore. Mar. 8. (AP)—T. C. Beckett, former assistant post master here committed suicide Sunday morning in a wheat field on the outskirts of this city, in sight of a party who were in search of him, to thwart his death plans.

Beckett returned last December from McNeill's island, where he served two years for an $8,000 postal defalcation to which he plead guilty. Despondency was given as the reason for the deed.

Beckett left home Friday morning with a rifle, saying he was going on a hunting trip. Sunday morning a special delivery letter mailed at Central Point, near here, by his wife, telling of his suicidal plans, and where his body would be found. A notation on the letter instructed that it be left in the box, if no one was home. Upon receipt of the letter, local authorities rushed to the field and lay in wait for Beckett. They saw a man across the field, but did not think it was Beckett. The report of a gun told them of their mistake. They rushed to the spot, and found Beckett dying.

Your Poor Kid, Why Are You So Skinny?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamines and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly, thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask Red Cross Drug Store, Glass Drugs, or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy—and if at the end of 30 days if she isn't glad she bought them, your druggist is authorized to return your money.—Adv.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE By Condo

La Grande Theatres

Syd Chaplin at Sherrys in "Man on The Box"

If you laughed with glee when you saw Syd Chaplin in "Charley's Aunt," you'll howl yourself into hysterics when you see him in "The Man on the Box," the Warner Bros. Classic of the screen which opened yesterday at the Sherry theater, with Syd scoring a tremendous hit in his first starring role for Warners.

Involved in a series of romantic adventures, and in political intrigue Syd is wildly amusing; but as the flirtatious ladies' maid, he is simply a riot. This is unquestionably the best of his excellent characterizations and this picturization of Harold MacGrath's celebrated novel and play is ideally suited to the star's comedic talents.

The supporting cast includes David Butler, Alice and Kathleen Calhoun, Theodore Lorch, Helene Costello, E. J. Ratcliffe, Charles Gerrard and Henry Barrowes, all giving consistentry entertaining performances. Charles "Chuck" Reisner was the director and he made every gag good for a laugh.

Julien Josephson wrote the scenario and Charles A. Logue adapted the play to the screen.

Whether you like to laugh, or find it difficult to indulge in hearty guffaws, you'll find "The Man on the Box" will get you gurgling with glee. It gets everybody.

Also showing "Aloha Land."

Crook Melodrama to Thrill Audiences At Arcade

The Arcade theater offers "The Shadow of the Law" as its featured attraction today only, the same being Associated Exhibitors version of Henry Chapman Ford's celebrated story, "Two Gates."

"The Shadow of the Law" is heralded as one of the best crook melodramas of the present season and stars Clara Bow aand Stuart Holmes, with Ralph Lewis and Forrest Stanley.

The plot concerns the evil machinations of a master crook who gathers many innocent and honorable victims into his diabolical net. Clara Bow is one who spurns his advances, and she pays for her impertinence by serving a term in jail under his false accusation. When she emerges from behind the bars the action begins, and never ends until the villain is well thwarted and properly given his due.

Wallace Worsley directed.

Betty Compson Stars In Picture at Star Today

By all means see the "Counsel for the Defense" now playing at the Star theater for today and Tuesday.

Here is a picture that any motion picture fan would enjoy because it has all the necessary qualifications for a good movie. Betty Compson as the star delivers everything required in the way of drama while the supporting cast consisting of House Peters, Rockcliffe Fellowes and Jay Hunt add their share to the enacting of a corking good story.

"Counsel for the Defense" is an Associated Exhibitors screen adaptation of the Leroy Scott novel that met with such nation-wide popularity under the title of "The Attorney For The Defense."

Jay Hunt, who will be remembered for his admirable work in "Lightnin'," portrays a somewhat similar role in this picture that of a kindly old man. As the village Doctor he has made a life time fight for improvement in the water conditions of the town and at the opening of the picture the townfolk are celebrating the opening of the new waterworks.

Private interests are at work to gain control of the plant and the old man is framed and faces prison. His daughter (Betty Compson), just graduated from a law school undertakes his defense when every other attorney turns the case down for political reasons. Despite her efforts the old man is sentenced to prison, but she finally manages to free him, but therein lies the tale and we would not spoil the picture for you by telling you about it.

On the whole it is our opinion that you will enjoy this picture.

The Clyde Cook comedy "Wandering Papas" is also being shown.

"Vanishing American" Coming to Arcade Thursday.

"Their retreat into the desert fastness is marked by a trail of blood."

This portion of the story of the western hemisphere's first citizens is included in "The Vanishing American", filmed by Paramount from the story by Zane Grey on the Navajo Indian reservation, 165 miles from a railroad.

This epic of the American Indian, written in the sincere, direct dramatic manner that characterizes all of Zane Grey's works, is not a tragedy but in it he did not gloss over the transgressions of the white man against the red. George B. Seitz who was entrusted with the directing of the picture, has followed the story faithfully, both in letter and spirit.

The bitter, courageous, determined but hopeless stand of the Indians against their white enemies, their retreat from the green fields and well watered country they had called their home for centuries into the barren desert wastes is a powerful episode of "The Vanishing American," which opens at the Arcade on Thursday.

At the head of a company of 500 persons, Seitz established a base camp at Kayenta, on the Navajo reservation in northeastern Arizona, and remained there approximately four months. Richard Dix, Lois Wilson, Noah Berry and Malcolm McGregor are the featured players.

Unidentified Body of Man Found Near Drain

-ROSEBURG, Mar. 8. (AP)—Coroner Ritter has been unable to secure any identification of the body of an aged transient found dead yesterday afternoon near Drain. The body was that of a man about 70 years old. He had apparently been ill and had endeavored to get water from a ditch about three feet deep and lacked strength to crawl out of the depression. He evidently fell with his body partly in the water and died from exposure. He had been dead about 24 hours when the body was found. A careful search was made of the clothing and personal effects but no names or addresses could be located.

CARTHAGIANS ADVERTISED

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 8. (AP)—Assertion that the ancient Carthagians relied on advertised and used time-defying rouge was made before the Philadelphia forum by Count Baron de Prorok of Paris. He spent seven years in northern Africa as a member of the Franco-American expedition excavating on the site of the ancient cities of Carthage and Utica.

Included in the discoveries was a submerged city of the island of Direrba which the count visited in a diving suit.
