

UNION RAISES RELIEF FUND

UNION, Ore. (Special) — Le Fawn Boyton and Robert Smith were over from La Grande Sunday, visiting with friends in Union.

Scott Callahan, who has a position in a drug store in The Dalles, is here for a short vacation. He is visiting with his parents.

Monday evening the Cozy theater was the scene of a benefit program for the Near East Relief fund. This work was encouraged by the Commercial Club and parts of the program furnished by the public schools and other organizations of the town.

Builds Unique Cabin

Superintendent R. H. Bonney of the state fish hatchery has built a cabin near the hatchery building that is very unique. The logs are practically all the same size and the entire outside and inside is finished only with rough logs, except the roof and floor. In one end he has built a fireplace and the walls are decorated with deer heads, pelts and other trophies.

All the furniture is made of limbs and the chairs are covered with bear and deer skins. Gun racks, shelves and other such conveniences are made either of limbs or deer feet. The whole cabin gives one an impression of being in a mountain home many miles from civilization, and the men who visited the place during the picnic last Sunday were loud in their praise of the ingenuity and painstaking work of the builder. The door, which is made of split logs, has the proverbial latchstring, which Mr. Bonney says, is always on the outside for visitors.

To help out the Near East Relief funds a benefit program was given at the Cozy theater Monday evening. The regular movie films and all the numbers by other organizations were donated to this cause, as were also the use of the theater and the expenses that go with it. Besides two films there were two numbers by the high school glee club, gypsy dancing by Bethline Miller, and Japanese reading by Miss Alma Braecht. The local band played several pieces on the street before the beginning of the program. A donation fee was given at the door and all this money will be turned over to the Near East Relief fund.

Mrs. Lauchlin who teaches music in connector with the Union schools will give a recital on Thursday evening of this week. The program will consist of both vocal and piano numbers. It will be given at the high school assembly and will be free.

R. H. Bonney and Frank Harn went to the Umatilla river last week to try steelhead fishing, but they found the stream too muddy and had no success.

Program Well Attended

The musical program given at the L. D. S. Church last evening was well attended and appreciated by all those who heard it. Following is the program as given: community singing; chorus by the Junior boys and girls; mixed quartet by Louis Zaugg, Clair Ord, Alvin Orton, and Bob Hanson; reading by Mrs. Atkinson; instrumental duet by Vivian and Beulah Korford; vocal solo by Johnny Geertson; address on "The Effect of Music on Mankind" by Elmer Stoddard, of La Grande; dance, The Highland Fling, by Nellie Geertson and Othello Richins; vocal solo by Jack Ord; male quartet, by Messrs. Baxter, Geertson, Hanson and Anderson; mixed chorus by Junior girls. The meeting opened with an invocation and closed with a benediction.

The boys of the high school have begun running and limbering up preparatory to the more strenuous work for the track meets to be held during the spring. The girls are practicing indoor baseball and anticipate a very successful season, as there are several new players who are showing up well at the first practices.

Woman's Club Meets

The Woman's Club held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fursel in North Union last Thursday afternoon. After the business session there was a general social hour. A delicious lunch was served by Mesdames Parker, Gilmore, Titus, Williams and Miss Cadwell.

Mrs. K. J. Martin arrived home from Portland last week and will soon open up her millinery shop.

E. R. Cline who is acting as deputy assessor, is looking after the assessment of property in this end of the valley.

Charles Kuhn, who was ill of the flu for some time, is again able to resume his truck work between Union and La Grande.

MUCH TIME NEEDED.

PENDLETON, Mar. 13, (AP)—It will take several months for the land settlement committee of the commercial association here to obtain data for a program to secure settlers for Umatilla county. The local body will join the Portland chamber of Commerce and the state chamber in a two-year program to secure new people.

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL TO GOV. PIERCE

force to aid in bringing together the farmer and business man. "Cooperation must come or there may be trouble ahead," he said. "You are plowing ground."

He predicted that if the price of wheat remains above $1.25 there is no question that "things will grow brighter." He declared that the general condition in Oregon is exceedingly good, especially in the fruit sections. Farmers must be educated, he said, in the best way to solve their problems. "Our farmers must sell the better picked products in order to get the best price. Competition rules and we must study it from every angle."

During his address he explained the proposed McNary-Haugen bill, before congress last year, adding that a similar measure is up in the senate. He urged that every farmer read "Farm Life Abroad" by Goddard, in order to learn the details of the Danish system.

He touched upon taxation, deplored the burden placed on real estate.

From here Gov. Pierce leaves for Salem, ending a three-day Eastern Oregon visit.

Entertainment Program

Prior to the governor's address, Miss Bethline Miller, of Union, danced and responded to an enthusiastic encore with a presentation of the Charleston.

The Neighborhood club sextet sang three numbers at the opening of the meeting, which was presided over by Dr. W. T. Phy, chairman of the conference.

The attendance last night was not as large as had been expected, possibly due to inclement weather.

Beauty Treatments Aid Deranged Minds

Patients at the Missouri state hospital for the insane, St. Joseph, Mo., are getting a new kind of "cure." Dr. J. H. Paetzer, superintendent, holds that marcel waves facial massages and the like help restore women's minds, and now there's a busy beauty parlor in the institution.

Figures in Indiana's "Worldly" Trial

Because Clyde Martin, former high school principal at Palmyra, Ind., built a community house, organized a basketball team and provided recreation facilities for the young people of the town, elders of the Palmyra Church of Christ have accused him of being "worldly and un-Christian" and are seeking to oust him from the church. These pictures were taken at his first trial, when he was voted to refer the case to the entire congregation. At the left, above, is Charles E. Hines, elder who brought the charges against Martin; below is William Boston, who presided at the trial. At the right B. B. Boston, his brother, and editor of the town's only paper, is shown carrying a huge Bible to the church to use in this testimony against Martin.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE PARK

THE PARK. (Special) — About one inch of snow fell at The Park Monday night, but it melted almost as fast as it fell, practically disappearing by Tuesday morning.

George McDow butchered a beef Sunday and delivered it to Baker Monday. Mr. McDow reports the roads between The Park and Baker are in good condition.

Othello Lay went to Big Creek Monday morning to help Mr. Wanker with his spring work. He will drive tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vanorder celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday.

Bob Wanker, Virgil Duncan, Gullid Lay and Kenneth Vanorder went to Baker last week to get the O. E. Woodman cattle, which have been in Baker valley all winter. They have been feeding at the Charle Colten ranch there. The cattle will be taken to the Vernon Love ranch at Eagle valley, where they will be kept until time to turn them on the range.

Frank Wigglesworth, when on his way to the mountains to cut wood Sunday morning, found a dead dead coyote in the trail. Mr. Wigglesworth put some poison out for coyotes several days ago.

ants have agreed to pay 25 cents a crate more for home grown berries than they do for those from outside shippers.

Powers Speaks.

Some popular fallacies about soils and productivity were exploded by W. L. Powers, head of the soils department at O. A. C., who gave a compact lecture on "Soil Probing of the meeting, which was presided over by Dr. W. T. Phy, chairman of the conference.

The attendance last night was not as large as had been expected, possibly due to inclement weather.

lems in Orchard and in Grain Field."

Mr. Powers gave the farmers rapid-fire information on the factors that enter into the increasing and diminishing of crop yields, and suggested means by which the valley can be made to serve at capacity. He took his hearers into the confidence of the experiments at the college, and told of fertilizing tests that are being worked out.

Touching on the investigation of irrigation feasibility in the Grande Ronde valley, Mr. Powers advised the farmers to recognize that successful and profitable irrigation can only be conducted with the aid of more numerous farmers who will be willing to go into more intensive farming.

R. H. Kipp, Prtland chamber of commerce marketing specialist, who was to have spoken this morning, deferred his address till afternoon when the program fell behind schedule at lunch time.

Miss Maude Wilson and Miss Lucy Case, home-making specialists, surveyed the home economic work in Oregon for the women this afternoon. Miss Wilson this morning enlisted the aid of Union county women in her investigation of the expenditure of the homemaker's time, supplying them with charts by which they are to keep daily records of every five minutes of the coming week.

Reports and recommendations preceded the round table discussions this afternoon in all departments.

Tonight the boys' and girls' clubs will inspire the program, which is to be featured by the presentation of medals to the judging team by O. M. Zimmerman, manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition.

H. E. Seymour, state club leader, will give an address on "Oregon Club Work for 1926." Motion pictures of the work, and a demonstration of Boy Scout maneuvers will combine with music to supplement the speeches.

Good Bread Is Essential

It's the main food for many menus --- toast or sweet bread for breakfast, muffins or sandwiches for lunch, hot rolls or hot bread for dinner. Nothing is more delicious than good bread and good butter.

Since it is so important an item, your flour deserves special attention as to food value and baking economy. Laboratory tests prove as do kitchen tests --- Federation Flour is ideal for your use. A home product from Grand Ronde Valley flour.

Advertising Pays You!

Advertising brings to millions, at reasonable prices, comforts and conveniences that without advertising would be luxuries that only a few could enjoy.

America is an advertising nation. That is one reason why the man with moderate means here enjoys more comforts than most wealthy men abroad.

Because thousands on thousands of people ask for a certain article by the same name, which they have read in the same advertisements, it is possible for the advertiser to sell this item at a minimum of effort.

It is therefore possible to manufacture and to distribute this product at a saving which you share with the advertiser.

When you figure the number of items in your daily life built by advertising, you can appreciate that advertising does pay you!
