cabinet today proposed a decision regarding demands to be made upon China over the Taku incident of last Friday when two Japanese destroyers were fired upon while attempting to pass up the Pei river, owing to a desire to await Chinese reaction to the allied powers' note made following the attack.

It is understood that the members of the cabinet agreed upon a friendly interest toward China, not holding all China responsible but asking for punishment of the guilty Chinese who fired on the destroyers and also for proper reparation for the wounded and a pledge that there would be no further incidents.
