Parkdale Club Will Enter Federation

On the unanimous vote of the 23 members present, the Parkdale club decided to enter the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday afternoon at the meeting with Mrs. William Anson, at her home in Parkdale. Action followed talks on federation advantages by Mrs. C. H. Scrantom, president, Mrs. E. P. Mossman and Mrs. J. D. Lynch, of the Neighborhood club, which will entertain the clubs of the state at biennial convention here the first week of May.

A picture library for the Parkdale school was voted after Mrs. Mossman, who is state chairman in the art department, had explained the movement that is spreading art knowledge over the state.

The Parkdale club was organized 22 years ago by a group of women living in May Park. Mrs. Sherwood Williams was the organizer. It was at a dinner at her home that plans were laid to form the club. About 12 women were members, and they called themselves the Busy Bee. About 12 years ago, the club was expanded to include women of Parkdale addition, the name being changed then to Parkdale.

There are now 50 members in the club. Mrs. Marcia Riddle is president; Mrs. May Gump, vice president; Mrs. Alice Standley, secretary; Mrs. Kate Hanley, treasurer.

Four new members were added to the roll Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Anson's home. She was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Carl Cook, and served luncheon after the business session. Mrs. Arno Voebe, Mrs. Clyde Davis and Mrs. Lloyd Carpenter were guests in addition to the three from the Neighborhood club.

With one of the three remaining charter members, Mrs. L. H. Russell, present, members of Hope chapter No. 13, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of the installation of the chapter last evening when they met in the Masonic parlors. The other two charter members are Mrs. Ida Cherry, who is at present on a trip around the world on the steamship "Heligoland," and Mrs. Almira Curtis, who makes her home at The Dalles and was unable to attend last night's meeting.

During the banquet, a feature of which was a large birthday cake, with thirty-five lighted candles, prepared as a surprise by Mrs. E. D. Steineamp, worthy matron, J. J. Broughton, president as toastmaster. He called upon past worthy patrons and past worthy matrons for short talks.

Among the past worthy patrons responding were George Cochran, Dr. E. P. Mossman and E. H. Ringo. John Hoaglin, although not a past patron of Hope chapter, but one of many years standing in another chapter, also spoke.

Other past matrons responding besides Mrs. L. H. Russell were Mrs. C. W. Noyes and Mrs. Frank Jackson. All speakers told of incidents that happened in the chapter during its 35 years of life.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers. The program and dinner was arranged by Mrs. Steineamp, with the assistance of A. V. Lindgren, worthy patron.

Previous to the entertainment there was a business and lodge session.

Besides the members of the local chapter there were several visitors from other chapters.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)

Breakfast—Baked apples, cereal, thin cream, broiled bacon with scrambled eggs, crisp whole wheat toast, rhubarb and orange marmalade, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Fish fritters, creamed celery, bread, orange sponge, milk, tea.

Dinner—Casserole of lamb, browned potatoes, curly onion, stuffed figs with whipped cream, Graham bread, milk, coffee.

If your supply of jelly and jams is running low try some of this rhubarb and orange marmalade. It's delicious and has enough tang to pep up a jaded morning appetite. A piquant marmalade of some sort is needed when so bland a fruit as baked apples is used.

This marmalade is good with hot biscuits for supper or luncheon and with hot buttered toast for afternoon tea. Combined with chopped nuts it makes an unusual filling for sandwiches.

Rhubarb and Orange Marmalade

Two cups finely cut rhubarb, 3 oranges, 3 cups granulated sugar.

Remove the outer stringy skin of the rhubarb and cut in small pieces; cut oranges in half, remove seeds and squeeze out juice. Put skins into a sauce pan, cover with cold water and bring to the boiling point. Simmer 15 minutes and drain. Scrape as much of the white part from the skins as possible and cut the yellow rind in thin strips. Combine rhubarb, orange juice—which is not strained—rind and sugar. Put into smooth sauce pan and bring slowly to the boiling point. Skim as necessary and cook until a spoonful of the mixture thickens when tested on a cold saucer. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffin when cold.

simply use 1/4 to 1/2 less Mazola than other shortening specified in your recipe. A rule that never fails!
