MUST LICENSE ROADHOUSES

PORTLAND, Ore., April 2. (AP)—Roadhouses that permit dancing must obtain dance hall permits. Presiding Circuit Judge Stevenson decided today in the case of 12 roadhouse proprietors who had been arrested for failing to obtain such permits. The proprietors had contended that under a decision by Circuit Judge Skipworth handed down a year ago they were not required to obtain dance hall licenses. Judge Skipworth held that the roadhouses were holding places and that dancing was purely incidental. Multinomial county authorities prepared the case against the 12 roadhouses to find if they could not force the proprietors to obtain licenses, as the authorities had no way of regulating them without licenses. Judge Stevenson overruled a motion for a directed verdict. The roadhouse owners now can ask separate jury trials, or can appeal to the state supreme court. "Anyone patronizing these places may dance and most of them do so," this certainly constitutes a public nuisance and commits the premises of the defendants to use for public dancing," said Judge Stevenson.

Driller Believes He Has Reached Oil Sand

KLAMATH FALLS, Apr. 2. (AP)—Declaring he was in an oil sand, C. E. Randall, driller at the 84th men's well, 11 miles south of here, this morning pulled his string of tools and announced an effort would be made to shut off water in order to test the formation. The well is down 1957 feet and the casing is full of water. Due to the enormous weight of this column of water, no test can be made until the hole is bailed. Local stockmen have financed the drilling, which has been carried on over a period of six years. Some oil is now showing on top of the water in the casing.

French Senate Adopts Paret Financial Bill

PARIS, Apr. 2. (AP)—The senate adopted the governments financial bill this evening by a vote of 232 to 12. Finance Minister Paret introduced the budget-balancing measure in the senate today. He began his speech by dealing with the stabilization of the franc, the determining factor of which, he said, would be credit abroad. This credit he said, depended upon settlement of France's debts abroad. The ministry of finance and the entire government were agreed on a policy of seeking settlement of all debts owing to foreign countries, without abandoning any of France's rights and at the same time without undertaking to pay more to her war creditors than was received from her war debtors.

"Ape-Man" Proves to Be Only a "Dummy"

NEW LONDON, Conn., Apr. 2. (AP)—The North Stonington "ape-man" has been "captured" by the state police, so declared Sergeant Clifford Gorman of the Gorton Barracks today. The so-called "ape-man" is nothing but a dummy, according to Sergeant Gorman, who says it was constructed by the Miner sisters, Muriel and Mildred, for the purpose of scaring away unwanted visitors. The mystery has haunted the residents of that vicinity for more than a week. According to the report of the policemen, Muriel Miner confessed her part in the alleged hoax after she had directed the police to Haystack Rock with an exclamation: "There he is now, so catch him." At the rock the police found the dummy wrapped in a sheet with a large April Fool sign hung on it.

BRITISH DEFEAT SYRIAN AND ARAB ARMIES NEAR IRAK

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Apr. 2. (AP)—Two thousand Syrian and Arab tribesmen have been repelled by British forces. The tribesmen planned a surprise attack on troops of the Kingdom of Iraq guarding the frontier. Learning of the intended foray, the British, who held the mandate over Iraq, brought up armored cars to reinforce the native guard. When the tribesmen swept across the border, they were quickly scattered. The British men, they were quickly thrown into disorder as the guns in the British armored cars began to bark and the machine guns were opened up on them. To add to their discomfiture, British airplanes carried out bombing operations. The tribesmen fled in disorder. They left forty five dead on the field. Many of their wounded were taken away in the retreat. The British say that prior to the attack they instructed the Iraq guard not to begin hostilities when the tribesmen appeared. After the tribesmen were defeated the British prevented the Iraq guard from pursuing them across the frontier.
