

NEW HATS

That Carry The Style and Colors of Summer

Smart new millinery reflects the spirit of the season and adorns itself with lovely flowers, sometimes conventionally applied as an all-over trim for the crown, and sometimes placed becomingly at the side or drooping from a large brim. Soft straws or silks, or a combination of the two, are smart for this type of hat, marked by a softness and subtlety of color that adds to their becomingness. You will find both large and small shapes in a range in price from—

Radio Corporation Winner in Wave Case

CHICAGO, Ill., Apr. 20. (AP)—The government cannot appeal the radio case in which the Zenith Radio Corporation and its president, Eugene F. McDonald Jr., successfully resisted prosecution last Sunday on charges of violating the 1912 radio law and establishing its right to broadcast on any wavelength in defiance of Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

SEEK SOLUTION RADIO MYSTERY—CRYSTAL DETECTOR

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—The mystery of the crystal detector now is being subjected to an intensive study by professor Ernest Merritt, head of the Cornell physics department, who believes important results hinge upon the solution.

Fascinating to all radio enthusiasts, this simple device has been known to physicists for twenty years, but no one has been able to explain its action satisfactorily.

"Most crystal detectors," said Professor Merritt, "are natural minerals of rather complicated composition and very likely to be impure. In my study of the subject I am trying to simplify the problem by using elements which are as nearly as possible chemically pure, instead of complicated compounds."

"I have found that selenium and germanium are excellent detectors and confidently expect that several other elements will show similar action. The most promising theory of the crystal's action now seems to be something as follows:

"If current passes from germanium to a metal, contact the electrons must cross the minute space that separates the element from the other metal, and in order to do this the electrons must be pulled out of the germanium.

"If a current goes the other way they must be pulled from the other metal. It may be that it is harder to pull them out of germanium than the other so that the current flows more readily in one direction than in the other.

"If some explanation of this sort is the correct one it may prove that a study of this simple little device may help very materially in giving us a better understanding of the behavior of electrons in metals and of the structure of crystalline materials."

HE DANCED TOO AWKWARD

NEW YORK—William J. Wilson will probably be careful when he dances the Paul Jones again. Mr. and Mrs. Russell (Owens) are suing him for $50,000 saying he was so awkward that he fell with Mrs. Gomez at a supper club, breaking one of her legs. He did not even apologize, it is averred, whereas a bunch of roses might have ended the whole thing in the beginning.

State Prisoners to Receive Education

SALEM, Ore., Apr. 20. (AP)—Correspondence courses in educational subjects have been started for the prisoners at the state penitentiary, Deputy Warden W. E. Golden said yesterday. The work will be done under the supervision of federal authorities, who, after a series of experiments believe the correspondence system is more effective than the direct teaching method.

Application blanks have been furnished all the prisoners. Among the subjects that may be elected by the prisoners are reading, writing, arithmetic, history, book-keeping, poultry raising, dairy farming, truck gardening, shoe-making, cookery, laundering, tailoring, electricity, machine work, wood working and printing.

A PLEASANT QUARREL

SEATTLE (AP)—The mayor and the county prosecutor have been enjoying a little duel of personalities. The mayor asked the prosecutor if his middle initial did not stand for "Dud," and declined a "Dud" as "one of those things that goes off with a big bang and leaves little children but is really harmless." The prosecutor wondered if the mayor's middle name was not "Jok," and referred to the approaching inauguration of Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, mayor elect. It seems that the mayor's policeman arrested two of the prosecutor's investigators.
