Parkdale Club Meets With Mrs. Mossman

Complimenting the newly federated Parkdale club, Mrs. E. P. Mossman, state chairman of the art division, yesterday entertained 40 women at her home on Spring avenue. The guests included 18 members of the club, whose admission to the state federation is of recent date also. They came as a surprise courtesy to the Parkdale organization.

News of the club's doing was given by Mrs. Lewis Laird, president. Mrs. C. H. Seranton, president of the Neighborhood club, which is to be hostess to the state convention May 3-6, spoke on the federation and plans for the coming biennial. On behalf of her club, she presented the Parkdale women a book on club work. Some stereoscopic pictures were exhibited with an explanatory talk by the hostess. A short business meeting was conducted by the Parkdale club.

With Mrs. John Speckhart as honor guest, Mrs. Mossman then invited the company to luncheon. Bouquets of apple blossoms and narcissi on the tables and about the rooms gave the party a seasonal atmosphere.

Mrs. Longfellow Entertains

Mrs. J. T. Longfellow was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon with a prettily appointed luncheon at 3:15 o'clock. Lovely bouquets of lilacs in the center, bouquets of apple blossoms and narcissi on the tables and about the rooms gave the party a seasonal atmosphere.

Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon following luncheon with Mrs. J. P. Ravenscroft winning high score among the club members. Mrs. P. S. Robinson received the guest prize.

Auxiliary Serves Annual Banquet

The annual banquet for the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers was given Tuesday evening at the K. P. hall by the ladies' society to the same organization. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock. Beautiful bouquets of apple blossoms, tulips and lilacs were used to decorate the long tables where about one hundred people were served.

The following program was given after dinner: Vocal solo, Margaret Thumfall, accompanied by Grace Burgess; piano solo, Clara Harvey; vocal selection, Charles McCorkle; piano number, Grace Barnes; piano number, LeNore McCorkle; the Charleston, Doris Cade.

After the program cards were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening.

Aid Society Meets At Rynearson Home

The spacious living room of the Rynearson home closely resembled a flower garden in full bloom yesterday afternoon when sixty-five members of the general aid society of the first Methodist Episcopal church met there with Mrs. Clair Serber as hostess. Mrs. Serber was assisted by Mrs. E. E. Hughes, Mrs. H. E. Richey, Mrs. R. W. Leighton, Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Mrs. Oscar Wiley, Mrs. R. P. Tyler, Mrs. G. M. Pierce and Mrs. Sherwood Williams. After devotional services by Mrs. G. C. Headley, Mrs. Sherwood Williams, president, presided over a short business meeting. During the program Mrs. Williams gave a musical reading and Mrs. H. E. Richey and Mrs. G. M. Pierce each gave readings.

Refreshments were served before adjournment by the members of the second division of the society.

Loyal Sisters Enjoy Session

The communal room of the Christian church was prettily decorated with bouquets of spring flowers—tulips, apple blossoms and lilacs—yesterday afternoon when the Loyal Sisters of the church met in regular session. Mrs. Harry Sandoe, president, presided over the business meeting. Twenty-seven members were present.

The hostesses, Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, Mrs. Clyde Zimmerman and Mrs. O. W. Jones, served dainty refreshments following the business hour and the remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed visiting.

Mission Study Class Meets

Mrs. Oliver Riley gave a review on the Dominican republic yesterday afternoon when the ladies of St. Peter's Episcopal church met for mission study at the home of Mrs. H. A. Zurbrick.

At the next missionary meeting—the third Wednesday of next month—Mrs. Harriett McDonald will have charge. Her topic will be on the Panama Zone.

Bible Class Is Entertained

Mrs. Jennie Thompson and Mrs. C. E. Robertson, of Perry, were hostesses to the members of the Presbyterian Bible class yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chester Thompson at 803 N. avenue. About thirty members and friends of the class were present.

After the business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. Harry Turner, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Medical Springs (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. F. Whitten entertained with a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of their father, O. Whitten, who celebrated his 75th birthday anniversary on that day.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wanker and family, Miss Bohmer, Miss Stone and D. Laurie.

WOULD TRAIN WOMEN
PHILADELPHIA — Commanding McQuigg of the American Legion wants women trained in peace time for war work. He says women could have done a lot of work in Washington that kept men from the field in the last war. Perhaps he referred to the fellows who wore spurs so their feet would not slip off their desks.

Announcements
Social announcements may be printed in this column free of charge. Any announcements pertaining to any functions such as cooked food sales, etc., will be refused. Announcements to be printed the same day, must be in society editor's hands by 9:00 o'clock.—News editor's note.

The public is invited to attend the meeting of the Central Parent-Teacher association Friday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock in the L. D. R. tabernacle. Questions to be voted on at the next election will be discussed.

Summerville (Special)—The Summerville ladies' aid is planning a bazaar to be given Friday night, April 23, at the Masonic hall here.

Sister Mary Says:

(By Sister Mary)
Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cooked wheat cereal, thin cream, ham toast, crisp rye toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Cream of asparagus and tomato soup, croissants, maple custard, cookies, milk, tea.
Dinner—Porterhouse steak, baked potatoes, dandelion greens, whole wheat bread, dried fruit conserve, keswick pudding, milk, coffee.
These are simple, easily prepared meals calculated to appeal to those housewives who are busy with spring renovating. When we're making a fresh coat of paint we don't want to stop for an elaborate salad or dessert and yet the family must be well fed.
Maple Custard
Three-fourths cup maple syrup, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, six halves canned peaches.
Scald 1 cup of milk in top of double boiler. Beat eggs slightly. Add syrup, salt and cornstarch mixed with a little cold milk. Mix thoroughly and add to hot milk. Cook over hot water until thick. Add remaining milk and cook ten minutes longer. Put halves of peaches in individual molds pour over custard and put on ice to chill.

Song Cycle To Be Presented

Lovers of the best in music will have an opportunity to indulge their tastes Sunday when the quartet at the First Presbyterian church sings Charles Wakefield Cadman's song cycle, "The Morning of the Year." The cycle is typically Cadman, who of all American composers has best caught the spirit of the living outdoors. This composition particularly thrills with awakening life, a gladness thing fragrant with honey-scented blossoms, green grass and honey-laden breeze.

Mrs. A. L. Richardson, director-soprano; Mrs. Hal Holmstrom, contralto; R. J. Dykhuus, tenor, and Ray Williams, baritone, who compose the quartet, have caught the full significance of the cycle and their trained voices rise to its musical demands in splendid style. Probably there are not four voices in the city equipped for a better balanced harmony. Their quartet numbers are delectable, with chorals as pleasantly vibrant as a harp's. The four voices are heard also in solos, gratefully sung. Mood, tempo and rhythm are varied to meet the changes of the lyric. The piano accompaniment breaks twice from the voices to augment the variety with preludes and inter-choral solos. Mrs. J. A. Ted has quite mastered the difficult score.

"The Morning of the Year" is to be sung in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian church, and will form the entire evening program Sunday. A delegation of Pendleton people will drive here for the musical evening. Mrs. Richardson has been informed.
