POWDER BLAST INJURES FOUR

WILLAMOOK, Ore., Apr. 22 (AP)—One man was hurt, probably fatally, and three others received serious injuries when a case of dynamite exploded at the site of Coats Delving and Boom company operations, seven miles north of here, yesterday. A report of the accident was received here today. The injured were Lee Hodgdon, arm blown off, skull fractured and internally injured; Harry Bellows, probable skull fracture, right eye lost; Robert Brantler, possible internal injuries, suffering from shock; and Floyd Wolfe, bruised and cut about the body.

Hodgdon, during the lunch hour, was sitting on an empty powder case whitening at a piece of fuse, according to an account given by Wolfe. Hodgdon was said to have struck a match to the piece of fuse. A spark fell into a box of dynamite caps near where he was sitting. The caps blew up and in turn exploded a full case of powder.

Hodgdon was thrown about 30 feet by the force of the explosion. All of the men live in this vicinity. Hodgdon is married.

ing provide much of the means by which these measures may be accomplished, as well as expansion into other common welfare fields.

The agriculture and health committee, headed by Dr. W. T. Phipps, president of the commerce chamber, has a program of several important phases. The members plan to sponsor the annual economic conference, to procure a milk ordinance for the cities of the county, to advance the production of clean milk on the farms, to make possible a botulism survey, with co-operation of the state board of health, to foster the rearing of scrub acres with purebred in the dairy herds, and to encourage the use of home-grown products.

Banquet Planned
A father-son banquet and one for mothers and daughters are two of the goals of the boys' and girls' committee, under leadership of the Rev. W. C. Ross. The members will seek additional playgrounds for children, and will stage an entertainment in honor of all boys and girls reaching maturity during the year.

The ornamental street lighting improvements will be the principal concern of the city planning committee, of which H. E. Dixon is chairman.

Three conventions coming to La Grande this year will give the entertainment committee, under A. Russell Fantasy, "Old Favorites," "A Roman Idyll" and "Rube and Dudes."

The combined show will be repeated Saturday evening. Tickets for tonight are about all sold, and tomorrow's house is more than half assured, Claire McKennon, business manager, announced.
