Mrs. Mossman

Mrs. E. P. Mossman, of La Grande, who is achieving prominence in national art circles.

Convention Will Devote Much Time to Art Division

To the clubwomen of La Grande and Union county, part of the program for the coming biennial convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs here May 2-8 holds more of interest than the moments that will be devoted to the work of the art division.

The whole federation has felt the urge to new activities in the field of art this year under the leadership of Mrs. E. P. Mossman's chairmanship.

Almost amazing are the results that she will report when she addresses the convention in the short period allotted to the fine arts chairwoman Wednesday morning.

Union county has been a very hotbed for picture libraries. Mrs. Mossman expresses it. "Every club has made from one to six of the collections, and they have gone out to hospitals, Indian agencies, forcing camps, fishing hamlets, schools and public libraries."

Backlogs, federated just a few weeks ago, although it has been organized for 22 years, has already completed four picture libraries.

Twenty-five picture libraries have been finished by Union county clubs and there are eight more in the making.

It is no wonder to Oregon clubwomen that Mrs. Mossman's work has won her national recognition.

Something of the volume of her work as state chairman is realized when one notes that her report lists 1000 letters written, 75 packages of art supplies mailed, 16 art talks given to more than 1800 persons.

And the picture propagation, with its accompanying circulation of stereopticon slides, has been in addition to the burden that falls upon any chairman of a special division in the state federation.

Tuesday noon, Mrs. Mossman will preside over the art division's conference luncheon that will be held jointly with the state music division.

Problems of specific importance to the division workers and that cannot be given attention at the general convention meetings will be discussed in the conferences.

Mrs. Mossman has determined on a question box, and probably will superintend a demonstration of the way a picture library should be made.

ity and all others interested. Mrs. C. B. Johnson, president of the association, presided. The meeting opened with the reading of the Lord's prayer, after which Miss Isabella Miller sang two numbers, "Swallow" by Cowan and "A Little Brown Owl" by Sanderson. She was accompanied by Miss Myrtle Wilcock at the piano.

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. C. B. Johnson, Mrs. A. E. McEachran, and Mrs. Carl G. Helm was selected. This committee will submit names of officers for the ensuing year at the next meeting of the association.

The principal feature of the afternoon was a talk by A. H. Hutchinson, candidate for state senator from Union and Wallowa counties on the democratic ticket. Mr. Hutchinson explained two of the questions to come before the public at the next election, "Free Textbooks for Oregon" and "A State Normal School for Eastern Oregon."

Following Mr. Hutchinson's talk the Little Cooper girls, Matilzabeth and Alice Jeanette played a violin duet number "Barcarolle" by Ly Little Vardet. Little Matilzabeth played "Polonaise Brillant" by Henry Wieniawsky as a solo number.

Breakfast — Stewed rhubarb, crisp broiled bacon, poached eggs on Graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon — Vegetable luncheon, steamed brown bread, apple pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner — English cut of beef roasted, potatoes baked with meat, creamed cauliflower, head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, grapefruit pie, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Vegetable Luncheon. One pound spinach, 3 small new beets, 4 new carrots, 1 bunch asparagus, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 4 strips of toast.

Wash and clean spinach. Cook in its own juice until tender. Chop finely. Wash beets carefully, taking care not to break skin, and cook until tender. Dip into cold water and rub off skins. Scrape and dice carrots. If the carrots are very thin, one bunch should be used. Wash and scrape asparagus. Cook carrots in boiling water. Cook asparagus, heads out of water for 15 minutes, then place flat in water and cook 10 or 15 minutes longer. Arrange vegetables on a deep hot platter, separating one vegetable from another by the strips of toast. Season spinach generously with butter, add salt and a sprinkling of lemon juice. Sprinkle beets lightly with sugar, salt and a bit of cinnamon. Pour a rich cream sauce over the carrots and asparagus and sprinkle with minced parsley. Serve at once.

Australian Government Plans Export Subsidy

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24. (AP)—An export subsidy to apply to the Australian canned fruit industry has been decided upon by the Australian government, the department of agriculture reports.

The subsidy will be 14 cents for every dozen thirty-ounce cans of apricots and six cents for every dozen cans of clingstone peaches exported from Australia to Great Britain before February 27, 1927.

The subsidy is to enable the surplus of the fruit pack to be sold in Great Britain in competition with California fruit.

MUST BE SEPARATED

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Although in perfect health, Joanne and Joseph Navarret, will lose their minds unless they can be induced to occupy separate rooms.

This prediction was made by Dr. F. W. Callison, who is treating them at a local hospital, for sympathetic neurosis. They are obsessed with the idea that they are both going to die within a few days. The pair came to the hospital for treatment for minor ailments, and would recover rapidly in separate rooms, the doctor said.

PRIME U. S. ADVERTISING NEW YORK—The British recognize a good thing when its merits are proved. Mrs. Charles Higham says that newspaper advertising in the United States stand head and shoulders above every medium for public announcement. In two years, as an agent he spent $400,000 advertising tea in American newspapers and his clients' sales increased by 6,000 tons.
