Union Senior Class Presents 3-Act Play

UNION, Ore., Apr. 26. (Special)—Friday night the senior class of the Union high school gave a class play, "Sweet Sixteen," a comedy in three acts. The cast included Bruce Davis as Captain Heathcote, Sidney Dobbin, as Captain Lathrop, Dick Van Houten, as Mr. Greene, and Ralph Cook, as Mr. Smith, two husbands who lived neighbors; Clara VanHouten, as Mrs. Smith; Ardythe Harn, as Mrs. Greene who was the worried hostess; Bethine Miller, as Patty, her sister, cause of most of the trouble; Carl Gibson, as Captain Little's fiancée; Myrtle Webster as Hope Dunbar, and last but not least Gracie Haggerty as Hyacinth the colored maid who was very loquacious but not always truthful. All the parts were well handled and the audience had an hour of keen enjoyment, especially over the remarks of Hyacinth.

IT SEEMS THE COMPLAINANT SAT DIRECTLY BEHIND YOU IN THE MOVIE SHOW, CRACKED PEANUTS AND MUNCHED THEM, AND READ THE TITLES ALOUD AND KEPT TIME TO THE MUSIC WITH HIS FOOT ON THE BACK OF YOUR CHAIR. AREN'T YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT HE HAD A RIGHT TO DO SO?

YES, YOUR HONOR, I AM AWARE OF THAT, BUT WHEN A PERSON HAS NO MANNERS, HE—

THAT WILL DO! CASE DISMISSED!

La Grande Theatres

Last Showing of "The Silent Pal" Tonight

Do animals think? This question has been asked time and again but anyone who visits the Sherry theater can easily decide the question for themselves after seeing "The Silent Pal".

In this picture this famous four-footed screen star demonstrates that with the proper training an animal's power of thought may be developed to a remarkable degree. Thunder performs his remarkable feat without the slightest hesitation or coaching and of all the actors seen in the production he is the only one who never has a rehearsal.

In one scene of this thrilling picture, Shannon Day, the beautiful young screen star who has the leading feminine role, is carried away by a runaway horse. Miss Day is an accomplished equestrienne but the scene was not without great danger as the reins of the horse had been cut and she consequently had no control over it. A smart crack of a whip, a revolver shot and the startled animal was off. Director Henry McCarty simply said to Thunder—"Stop him, Thunder!" Like a flash the police dog sprang after the horse and headless of the pounding iron-clad hoofs he sprang for the reins and broke and stopped the horse within a few yards of the camera.

"The Silent Pal" was especially written by Frank Foster Davis to show the remarkable intelligence and ability of the greatest canine star ever seen on the silver screen. This Gotham Production was made in New York and California and every scene is replete with mile-a-minute action with Thunder predominating every inch of the film. Comedy showing "The Lost Waltz."

Plenty of Wholesome Fun in Coming Comedy—"The Gorilla"

For clean, wholesome laughter and thrilling entertainment the stage of New York, Chicago, Boston and London has recently offered nothing so thoroughly deserving of its popularity as "The Gorilla," a "thrilling, chilling, killing" mystery by Ralph Spence, which comes to the Arcade theatre on Tuesday April 27, direct from six months run in Chicago.

This whirl of fun and merriment will be interpreted by the original Adelphi theatre Chicago cast intact, including Lon Haseall, Elizabeth Carmichael, Harry Shannon, John Stokes, Wilbur Cox, Bert Kay, Julian Non, Thomas Bell, John Gray, Carl Hess and Ralph Theodore.

"Outside the Law"
Full of Big Thrill Scenes

There are thrilling scenes galore in "Outside the Law," featuring Lon Chaney, star of "The Phantom of the Opera" with Priscilla Dean in the stellar role, which opens at the Star Theatre for a two day run; scenes that keep one tense and keyed in powerful interest. And yet there are other scenes in "Outside the Law," with not an element of thrill in them, they have a quiet "pull" that make them tremendously compelling. Such scenes are those centering around the incident of Silky Moll (portrayed by Priscilla Dean) and the melting of her icy heart by Silky Moll.

Silky Moll does not love children and when she sees Dapper Bill (portrayed by Wheeler Oakman) play with the child and grow to love him, it fills her with wrath. When the child is with him one day, and Moll comes in on them, Dapper Bill discovers to his grief that Moll does not like children. But one day she scolds the child. When he cries with that fervor with which only children can cry when they are wounded, the unnatural barrier is broken, and the mother instinct in her makes her take him and hold him so close to her heart. And thus Dapper Bill finds them.

This scene of the awakening of the mother instinct in Moll, clearest of girl crooks, is remembered as one of the most forceful bits of acting in the whole picture and is to be classed with the most consummate portrayals the screen has offered.

"Outside the Law" is one of the first great pictures in which Lon Chaney was featured after his historic rise to screen fame through his great characterization in "The Miracle Man." After an enviable run which carried the picture to every city and hamlet in the country, it was shelved for several years. Many who saw the picture on its initial showing regarded it as the greatest screen portrayal they have ever seen, and exhibitors in various parts of the country began to ask for a revival.

It was no small task to re-issue the film, for the few prints available were in bad condition. But the demand became so insistent that the producing company, Universal, was finally prevailed upon to make new prints from the negative.

In addition to Priscilla Dean and Lon Chaney the cast includes Ralph Lewis, Wheeler Oakman, E. A. Warren, Stanley Goodrich, Melbourne MacDowell and Wilton Taylor.

Comedy Showing "The College Yell."

Divorce Brings Back Friendship in "The Far Cry"

A popular division is shattered beyond repair in "The Far Cry," a new First National picture at the Arcade tonight. This is that after divorce the parties to the estrangement are bound to hate each other.

According to the story of this film version of Arthur Ripman's stage hit, Max Prater, a French marquis, and Claire Marsh, his American wife, become, if anything, more friendly toward each other after the court disentangles them than they ever were during their married life.

The picture features Blanche Sweet, with important roles entrusted to Myrtle Stedman, Jack Mihaloff and Hobart Bosworth. Ballou, the suddenly famous young Italian director, made the picture. It marks his initial effort for First National. Those who have already seen "The Far Cry" are said to commend the work of its director superlatively.

MERELY BAD TASTE

MADRID—The government in a statement says Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford had no intention of slandering the Spanish people by burlesquing but merely displayed bad taste. Doing, however, made the picture which has aroused protests. Mary was not in it.
