WAS THE ROCK A FRAGMENT OF SMALL METEOR?

UNION, (Special)—One evening last week as Vera Shaw was returning from La Grande along the highway about a mile northwest of here she heard what she thought to be the report of a small gun. Hearing a rattling noise on the back door of her car which sounded like glass breaking, she looked and discovered a large three cornered note torn in the top of the car directly above her head.

Upon arriving home she found a rock about five inches in circumference in the back seat of the car. The rock had come in through the top of the car over her head, hit the back door on the left side and finally landed in the back seat. It came with such force that it left a scratch on the lower part of the floor where it hit.

Upon examination of the rock a hole was found entirely through it where a bullet may have gone. It is thought that the rock was hit by a shot and forced into the car, but since the reports of astrologers are that on that day a meteor was supposed to be so near the earth that it would crumble on the edges and shower the earth, it may have been that, some think. Unless the hole in the rock was caused by a bullet it is not known how it came there.

MEXICO CITY, Apr. 27. (AP)—The claim of the United States government for indemnification for the killing of 16 American mining engineers by Villa bandits at Santa Ysabel in January, 1916, has been decided adversely.

Dr. Rodrigo Octavia, of Brazil, the neutral presiding judge of the Mexican-American special claims commission, and Fernando G. Roa, Mexican member of the commission, ruled yesterday that Mexico was not liable to damages. The claims, totaling $1,225,000, were regarded as a test case for loss of various American lives in Mexico.

THREE FARM AID BILLS PRESENTED at this time acquire funds necessary for the purpose.

Tincher's Arguments

Mr. Tincher asserted that the administration proposal "places at the disposal of farmer controlled agencies additional resources of the government, and will stimulate their development along sound and constructive lines."

Mr. Aswell, in listing the merits he claimed for his bill, compared them with disadvantages he ascribed to the other proposals. His bill, he said proposes:

Farmer control and management—not governmental control of farming marketing.

"That the farmers elect their own officers—not to throw the selection of officials into political campaigns.

Continuous service for efficient officers—not that administrations periodically change officials.

Would Curb Surplus

"To control production and curb surplus—not encourage over-production.

Repayment of loans by commodity assessments—not an equalization fee assessed by a federal board.

To stabilize farm prices under economic laws—not to establish artificial federal price fixing.

To protect the consumer—not to allow exorbitant price raising to the consumer.

To abolish the unnecessary profits of useless middlemen—not to increase the handling costs.

To prevent gambling and speculation—not state socialism.

To recognize economic independence—not to establish paternalism.

The agricultural committee decided to request house leaders to bring up the bills the first of next week. The rules committee has indicated that it will give farm legislation the right of way.

The committee voted to report the three bills after defeating 15 to 5, a request by Chairman Huggins, to have them voted on in the committee separately.
