Adjoining Allev. High grade Sandridge soil. Five acres in 10-year-old apple trees, of the delicious variety. Only a few minutes ride to La Grande, on the La Grande-Joseph highway. Five-room house, and outbuildings.

Someone working at the shops or mills should visit this opportunity. This commercial orchard is worth more than the price asked for the entire tract.

A cow or two, a pig or two and several hundred chickens, an acre in berries and a garden means that some thrifty family can make as much on this tract as the father can and at the same time have a real home. The price is $3500. Enough said.

Two Headliners On Sunday Vaudeville Bill

Comedy, music, singing and dancing and picturesque novelties are promised on the vaudeville at the Arcade theater on Sunday. Two headliners of the bill are the Jolly Jesters and Althea Lucas and company. The Six Jolly Jesters with Curley McNeil present a saxophone revue. Althea Lucas and company presents muscular movements, cradle work, and posing. Houston and Whiting in "Fore and After" offer a comedy singing and talking act pertaining to before and after marriage, a rollicking rapid-fire comedy skit of originality and fun. Officer Ted Murphy has an act that is packed full of wit and laugh-provoking situations.

Sherry's Showing "Midnight Molly" Tonight

With all the melodrama of such a picture as "Time When Danger" and all the mystery and charm of "Cornered," "Midnight Molly," at Sherry's tonight bids fair to be one of the outstanding movie successes of the year. The third Evelyn Brent production shows the star to great advantage; and the dual role in which she is cast gives her exceptional opportunity to display the skill in characterization which has made her the best actress on the screen in crook-drama roles. "Midnight Molly," which is from the pen of Fred Kennedy Myton, is the story of a girl who by an unusual twist of fate is called upon to take the part of the wife of a prominent attorney, running for governor. Her resemblance to the real wife makes

Harold Lloyd's Latest Coming To Arcade Monday

Sophisticated America and Americans are leaving their marks on the once broad field of comedy. Do you recall the days when you used to laugh at the Dutch comedians, and the green whiskered Irishmen, and the burlesque and vaudeville stage? Those days are gone, never to return. Today is the age of sophistication, intellect and it goes for motion picture comedies as well as anything else.

Harold Lloyd, of all the screen's comics, has maintained the leadership in providing the kind of humor the public demands today. This is quite apparent from the tremendous success that has greeted all his feature length pictures. It will be even more apparent when "For Heaven's Sake," his first Paramount release, is exhibited before the motion picture public of the United States.

"For Heaven's Sake" is crowded with gags that will rate among the finest the bespectacled comedian ever has given the screen. And you can tell that to your aunt or uncle, as you will.

Based on a theme that might easily have made a great dramatic story, Lloyd has blended one of his choicest comedy combinations in "For Heaven's Sake," which opens on Monday at the Arcade theater.

THREE SUNDAYS
GUJDA, Morocco—There are three Sundays every week here, Friday for Moslems, Saturday for Jews and Sunday for the Christians. The Jews who control the retail trade, are open for business Fridays, but not Saturdays and Sundays.

Director Turns Beauty Expert for New Movie

One of the most important things in casting "Bally, Irene and Mary," the Edmund Goulding production which is coming to the Sherry theater on Sunday was finding a beautiful assortment of girls, perfectly formed, to portray the "show" girls in the picture.

It fell to Goulding's lot to select them and he carefully chose the best until the group was perfect in every detail.

Molly McKay, for instance, as a child appeared in the Gus Edwards Revue, later becoming a dancer on the stage. She is five feet three inches tall and weighs one hundred and ten. Her ankles were recently insured for fifty thousand dollars and are said to be the most beautiful in Hollywood.

Jane Arden is a dancer and winner of many beauty contests. She is five feet three and one-half inches tall and weighs one hundred and twelve pounds.

Janice Peters is a Canadian girl who has been in pictures only a short time. She is five feet three and one-half inches tall and weighs one hundred and eleven pounds.

Mary Stuart is a high school girl who hopes to become permanently connected with pictures after she leaves school. She is five feet five and weighs one hundred and twelve pounds.

"The Lucky Lady" Opens Run at Star Sunday

A sterling cast headed by Greta Nisbon, William Collier Jr., Marc MacDermott and Lionel Barrymore; a great directorial staff headed by the man who made "The Wanderer," Raoul Walsh; an honestly funny story written by the editor of Life, Robert E. Sherwood and Bertam Bloch; and a fine scenario prepared by James O'Donoghue. In the words of song "put them all together, they spell—"

"The Lucky Lady," Paramount's newest contribution to the screen which will be shown at the Star theater Sunday and Monday.

The story is the whimsically amusing one of a little princess who, on the death of her father, is being forced to marry a "slightly decayed" nobleman. She falls in love with a handsome young American. In their effort to wed, she disguises herself as a peasant girl. He is thrown into jail having been captured while leaving the palace on a visit to his loved one.

The prime minister decided that the only way to bring about the marriage he has planned, is to desert the girl who has stolen the proposed husband's interest and the American who bids fair to steal the heart of the princess. Needless to say, when they once find themselves outside the gates of the kingdom, Antonette discloses her identity to the man she loves, and they are married without anyone's interference.

"The Lucky Lady" is both amusing and entertaining. You won't be sorry if you see it.

Theda Bara, the "Siren of the Screen," returns once more in the most novel role of her career. She has the stunner part in "Midnight Mystery," the flat French comedy feature of the bill. It is a gay, rollicking satire on the eternal "camp," and Miss Bara is said to be excellent in her first appearance as a comedienne.
