JAP SMASHES UP NEW AUTO

Sam Okada bought himself an expensive lesson in driving this morning when he rammed his brand new roadster into the rear end of a truck belonging to the Grande Irons Lumber company, just east of the post office on Adams avenue. The truck was not damaged in the least; the driver, Clayton Dehany, escaped injury, and only about a bushel of his load of shavings snowed to the pavement.

But Okada's shiny car—its front axle sprung, its lights and bumper smashed off and crumpled—looked for all the world as if it had taken the count in a badly matched bout. Worse yet, the traffic officers discovered that Okada was driving without an operator's license, and would have to be locked up until the city judge was free to hold a session of court after office hours tonight.

Sam had only been driving since yesterday. He had done pretty well on the back streets, and was turning confidently from Chestnut into Adams avenue when the crash came. He and the roadster and the young Jap with him all succumbed to paralysis after the impact, and had to be pushed out of the traffic by passersby.

VARE WET IS LEADING THE FIELD

 a position to present a modified platform which the drafters of the party platform would be compelled seriously to consider.

Philadelphia Votes For Vare
 Philadelphia gave Vare the vote which put him in the lead throughout the state. Senator Pepper ran first outside the city. Philadelphia complete gave Vare a plurality of 229,928. The vote was Vare 334,485; Pepper 113,547; Pinchot 23,956.

Senator Pepper ran ahead in Allegheny county which includes the city of Pittsburgh as well as in some of the rural counties. In 948 of the 1,405 districts in Allegheny the vote was: Pepper 60,629; Vare 48,514; Pinchot 25,886. In 3,528 districts outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny county Senator Pepper led Governor Pinchot by 40,044 votes with Vare third. These districts gave Pepper 228,293; Pinchot 193,264; Vare 146,925.

Governor Pinchot's heaviest vote was in the anthracite mining counties some of the industrial sections and few of the agricultural districts. The endorsement of his candidacy by the United Mine Workers and the state federation of labor was reflected in returns from counties embracing a large percentage of the members of these organizations. Vare, now serving his eighth term as a member of the congress long has been active in state and Philadelphia city politics. He was born in Philadelphia fifty eight years ago. Early in life he entered politics with his brother with whom he also engaged in the contracting business. After holding several city offices he went to the national house of representatives. Upon the death of his brother, he assumed the leadership of the political organizations which they had built up in Philadelphia and has remained in control since.

Industrial Concerns Pay $900,000 in Claims

SALEM, Ore., May 19 (AP)—In the last eight months industrial concerns in Oregon have paid personal injury damages to workmen based on court judgments, aggregating about $900,000, members of the state industrial accident commission said today. All these were concerns that are operating outside the workmen's state compensation act. The result of litigation, say members of the commission, is that many of the concerns are coming back to the compensation act, preferring state compensation for injured workmen rather than the inconvenience of litigation. The expense of furnishing witnesses for cases in court, who salaries continue while they are off duty, is said to be an important consideration with the industrial concerns.

RAILROAD EXPENDITURES

Alfred E. Clark For U. S. Senator

Oregon needs another man in the United States Senate who is familiar with the needs, resources and problems of state development.

Oregon needs another United States Senator with energy, industry and ability to translate these needs into results.

In Alfred E. Clark, candidate for the republican nomination for United States Senator, we have such a man.

Below are quoted some estimates of his fitness and ability from impartial sources. Mr. Clark's pre-eminent qualifications for the office which he seeks are conceded by all—even by those who are opposed to him for political reasons.

Oregonian Dictation Attempted

An attempt is being made in this campaign by The Oregonian to dictate the senatorial nomination, and coupled with it is a movement, led by The Oregonian, to destroy the direct primary system. The direct primary law versus the old convention system, popular government by the many versus secret government by the few, has become one of the leading issues of this campaign.

An Old Political Trick

This type of political propaganda is as old as the hills, and is the usual trick of an unfriendly newspaper to break down the political strength of a candidate which it fears. In spite of this colored and unfair political propaganda the candidacy of Mr. Clark has gained strength rapidly. In the opinion of most unbiased political observers he is now the leading candidate, and his nomination is confidently predicted.

READ THESE ESTIMATES OF HIS FITNESS AND ABILITY BY MANY LEADING NEWSPAPERS AND EDITORS OF THE STATE

THE OREGON VOTER in its issue of last week, speaking of Mr. Clark, said: "He may now be regarded as one of the three foremost candidates for the republican nomination."

"For sheer intellectual ability and force of character we are compelled to rate him as the superior of any other contender for Senator Stanfield's seat."

The Portland Telegram Said:
 "The Telegram is convinced that Mr. Clark is the best qualified of all candidates in the field for the office."
 "He is a man of unquestioned integrity."
 "He is a man of rare political courage."
 "As a lawyer he ranks with the best in the state."
 "As an orator he has few peers."
 "As a student of public affairs he has a profound grasp of the questions of the day."
 "Politically, Mr. Clark has always been and is now a Progressive Republican."
 "In him popular government has always had an ardent and powerful champion."
 "He is unalterably opposed to the restoration of the old corrupt convention system, which has become one of the leading issues of the present campaign."

The Portland Daily News Said:
 "If we were entirely businesslike in the conduct of our public affairs, intent only upon getting the best man available for the money, there is no doubt whom we would employ."
 "We would employ a man of proved achievement, proved honesty, proved fearlessness and trustworthiness. We would employ a big man. And that man is Alfred E. Clark, of Portland."

From Other Newspapers:
 SOUTHERN OREGON SPOKESMAN, Grants Pass, May 14th: "The situation in the senatorial campaign has been rapidly changing during the past two or three weeks. Everywhere there has been noted a decided swing towards Alfred E. Clark in the republican contest, and in political circles, and among political writers of the daily newspapers, it is figured that at the present time he is probably the leading candidate for the republican nomination."
 "While The Oregonian is attempting to nominate either Stelwer or Stanfield by keeping them in the limelight, many public-spirited and sober-minded citizens all over the state are building up a strong support for A. E. Clark."
 LINCOLN COUNTY LEADER—"Mr. Clark is a man who has had a world of experience, has the age, the dignity and the ability to represent the people of this great state in the national law-making body as they should be represented."
 THE EASTERN CLACKAMAS NEWS—"The few men in the state who are so well qualified for senator as Mr. Clark."
 THE GLENDALE NEWS—"We are confident that if Mr. Clark is elected to the senate he will not betray the trust of the voters of the state."
 THE CONION TIMES—"His knowledge of public affairs, his prominence as a lawyer, and his reputation as a speaker will prove valuable assets should the people decide to send him to Washington."
 A vote for Alfred E. Clark is a vote for an able, fearless, honest, progressive man, who if nominated and elected will serve the interests of the people of the whole state.
