PLANT TROUT NEAR UNION

UNION, May 21 (Special)—A load of approximately 19,000 Eastern brook trout fry was yesterday taken to the South fork of Catherine Creek and planted by R. H. Hennessey, superintendent of the Union Fish hatchery, because the institution's capacity was becoming taxed with the addition of many new hatcheries from eggs received from various sources.

One-half million steelhead eggs from the Clackamas hatchery was the latest addition to the hatchery's stocks here, and these now are being raised in the ponds. Not long ago a million rainbow eggs were received from the Spencer Creek hatchery and these have evolved into almost a million lively minnows. The local hatchery also has a half million Eastern brook hatched from a shipment of eggs received last October, besides the regular stock of fish.

The ponds heretofore used to grow fish in the streams flowing into Wallawa Lake, have been abandoned this year, through a decision of the state game commission and the cabin which the local hatchery had maintained at Wallawa lake has been torn down and the lumber hauled to Union. It seems that the cabin interfered with the new golf links being constructed at the popular resort. The Union hatchery will stock the Wallawa streams in addition to the Union county streams this year.

Billy Evans Says:

GROVE DELIVERS

Connie Mack is beginning to cash in on Southpaw "Lefty" Grove. This year he is pitching as if worth the $100,000 and a bit more the Athletics paid for him.

Someone is responsible for a drastic change in his delivery and I might add it is all for the better.

Grove is pitching overhead entirely this year. Last year he shifted to suit his fancy between the sidearm and overhead styles. His greatest trouble was controlling his sidearm ball.

In all the games I have seen Grove work this year, he has used nothing but the overhead style and, as a result, his control has improved at least 50 per cent.

Another change in Grove's style from that of last year is a near-stop as he reaches the top of his swing, instead of a quick follow through as formerly used.

This also appears to have greatly helped his control. That is all he needed, for he has always had plenty of stuff.

Grove should win a lot of ball games for Mack this summer.

GOLF POPULARITY

Recently someone asked me why golf was so immensely popular with major league ball players.

My answer was that I believed that the two games had something in common, particularly as to the desire to get distance to the driver.

However, I decided to get firsthand information and, selecting a dozen stars whom I knew were keen for the game and good players as well, I put the question of why they liked golf to them.

"It's the long game that appeals to me in golf. I like to hit them a mile from the tee. It's a great thrill."

That in substance was the reply that I received from all the players to whom the question was put.

"Say, I get about as much pleasure out of driving a long ball from the tee in golf as I do hitting a home run in baseball," was Babe Ruth's reply.

It's the long drives in golf that makes the game so popular with major league ball players. That's the big appeal.

Not a single player said he cared for the short game and all admitted their weakness was on the greens.

SACRIFICE ERA

While home runs continue to be made in the majors, the records prove the sweat game is on the decrease.

If you would have proof of this fact give thought to the sacrifices hits that are daily made in the big leagues as you peruse the summary of the box score.

Of course the new rule that permits the scoring of a fly ball that is caught as a sacrifice, provides a runner advance a base on the out, has increased the sacrifice total, but it fails to accurately account for the greatly increased figures in this style of play.

With pitching much improved, many ball games are being won by one-run margins this year, in which the sacrifice hit as a rule plays a prominent part.

EARLY UPSETS

Major league pennants are won on October percentages, rather than those of May and June.

With one month of the season

Hennie Groh, veteran third baseman of the New York Giants, who has been given his unconditional release. Groh came into the majors in 1912 as a member of the Giants. The following year he was traded to Cincinnati where he remained until the winter of 1921 when another exchange brought him back to New York. Groh was a sterling infielder and fair hitter, but in the last two seasons showed old Doc Time was setting in his work.

WALKER LOSES WELTER CROWN

SCRANTON, Pa., May 21 (AP)—Anthracite miners of the Wyoming valley, home of Pete Latzo, went into the earth today with smiles and bulging pockets—the fruits of an amazing conquest.

Pete Latzo, 23-year-old son of the miners, is welterweight boxing champion of the world. He got the decision in ten rounds last night over Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., a 2 to 1 favorite. Walker won the crown by a decision over Jack Britton in New York three years ago and lost it in a desperate struggle before 12,000 spectators, most of them friends of Latzo.

Prayers Answered

Prayers said in the mining region for Latzo's victory were answered. The bunch of his bride that he would become champion was correct.

At times blood spurted from the faces of the combatants. But neither gave an inch. Too late for the youngsters, one the product of the city and the other of the country, lashed out at each other, first one and then the other seeming to have the advantage.

Blood Spilled Early

Lazo had met Mickey before and suffered. But, knowing that many a slender purse had been staked on his chances, Pete fought last night as he never had fought before. In the first round, blood came from his nose after a pounding at close quarters.

A "Longfellow's Club" has recently been organized in a western city. Its purpose is not to honor Henry W. Longfellow, but rather to foster comradeship among the tall men of the city.

CARPENTIER TO FIGHT HUFFMAN, COAST SLUGGER

NEK YORK, May 21 (AP)—Handsome Georges Carpentier, of France, tonight makes another effort in the ring.

The former light heavyweight champion of the world, veteran of the world war who has been a pugilist since he was 13 years old, will tackle Sailer Eddie Huffman, of the Pacific coast, in a ten-round contest at Madison Square Garden.

Georges is 32 years old. In all of his battles he has given weight to opponents four times he has gone before the American public and only once has he been victorious. That was against Battling Levinsky.

When he returned to America last summer, he said that he would not accept challenges to box. But he was lured and a victory tonight will place him in line for another chance to the light heavyweight crown.

Huffman is a rugged, upstanding fighter, shifty but lacking the speed of the Frenchman, he has been an "in and out" in his bouts in the east.

Having followers favor the chances of Gorgeous Georges, who has trained faithfully for two months in Atlantic City. They argue that he may have lost some of his
