SENATORS WIN ONE, LOSE ONE

Billy Evans Says:

PLAYERS SUFFER

Big league ball players, infielders and outfielders, have spent a busy spring season causing professional football.

Last fall the pro game, due to the great popularity of "Red" Grange, thrived throughout the country. Most of the big league players played in the major league ball parks.

In some cases the schedule extended well up into December, so that weather conditions and hard play, did much to destroy the billiard surface of infields and outfields.

Despite every effort of the capable groundkeepers, many of the parks are still in bad shape as to soil surface and the players are paying the penalty of bad bounces and many errors.

GREAT RECORD

"Let Alphonso do it." That was a byword last year on the Baltimore club of the International league, champions of that organization, when some extraordinary bit of pitching was desired.

And, despite the handicap of a handle like Alphonso, Pitcher Thomas of the Baltimore Orioles won 22 games for Jack Dunn, three more than his closest rival, George Earnshaw of the same club.

Here are some of the twirling feats Thomas put over for Baltimore.

Worked in more games than any other pitcher in the league—55. Worked 23 complete games. No one else had a better record for starting and finishing. Was the most-used relief pitcher, going to the aid of some faltering twirler in 18 contests. Led the league in strike-outs with 253.

COLLINS TALKS

I understand that because of some working agreement as to players, the Chicago Americans had the first choice of the Baltimore club. I am afraid it was a question between Shortstop Boley and Pitcher Thomas.

At that time it seemed as if the Chicago club would have a hard time getting a capable performer at short. Boley, who for five or more years has been touted as a big leaguer, was I am told, much considered, but the choice finally fell upon Thomas.

While Thomas hasn't started off seasonally in the early stages of the 1926 race, Manager Eddie Collins thinks highly of his chances to make the grade.

"Thomas has the stuff and knows how to pitch, but must first learn his batters and acquire control to win consistently," says Eddie.

A big, husky fellow who thrives on work, Thomas should prove a most valuable addition to the White Sox when he is more experienced.

USES MACK'S SYSTEM

In the handling of his ball club, one can see Connie Mack sticking out all over in the system used by Eddie Collins of the White Sox.

Collins was trained under Mack. He leaped into fame as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics. He once told me that after being appointed manager of the White Sox, the first person he went to see was Connie Mack, to talk over the situation.

In his selection of pitchers, Mack prefers to gamble with a second-stringer in an effort to save a game, rather than rush a couple of regulars to the mound and thereby upset his team's pitching routine.

Collins takes the same viewpoint. He prefers to take a chance with a so-so pitcher rather than disrupt the workings of the regular staff.

Mack has demonstrated by the success he has attained, that it is a pretty good system.

AUTO TO GO 200 PER
LONDON.—The biggest automobile in the world, which is expected to buzz more than 200 miles an hour, is under construction. It will have one thousand horsepower and travel only in a straight line. It is for racing, not for joy riding.

What exasperates a man more than hitting a pedestrian with his new car and getting his fender all bent?

Look to Him

Track followers at the University of Pennsylvania are looking to Ray Wolf, captain and star hurdler, to bring in a bunch of points for the Quaker school this season. No less an authority than Lawson Robertson, Penn coach, thinks Wolf one of the greatest timber-toppers in America today. Wolf will lead his team in the coming intercollegiate at Cambridge.

Electric Refrigeration

Interest continues unabated in the metal cabinet electric refrigerators recently announced, models of which are on display at the salesrooms of the local dealer, Jesse Rosenbaum Electric Shop, New Foley Bldg.

The electric refrigeration industry is growing by leaps and bounds due to the widespread interest in this new convenience and the popularity of the idea, that one can have the ice-box always cold, without putting in ice and without giving it any attention.

The electric refrigerator means freedom from buying ice and from having the ice man deliver it. It means a crisp, clean, dry cold, with the food compartments kept at an even temperature, ranging around 45 degrees above zero or colder. It means an abundance of hard, pure ice cubes frozen in the ice trays in the refrigerator.

It means appetizing desserts and salads frozen in the same trays. It means a great many possibilities in the preparation of attractive dishes, of food saving, of the saving of labor, annoyance and general inconveniences.

An electric refrigerating unit can be installed in your own ice-box, or you can buy it in its own cabinet complete. However you have it, you will be assured of something new in the way of refrigeration service, and a new piece of household equipment, which will be the source of a great deal of enjoyment for all the family.

Aristo Motor Oil

Non-Carbonizing Western

Aristo Motor Oil is all lubrication, containing neither paraffin nor asphalt. The hard, flinty abrasive "carbon" that many motorists find on valves, cylinder heads and spark plugs after a few thousand miles of use never comes from this fine Western oil.

The small amount of residue that Aristo leaves is a fine, soft, fluffy substance, most of which blows out with the exhaust.

Motors in good condition which are lubricated with Aristo, therefore, run several years without the troubles, lay-ups and expense so often due to "carbon."

A further preventative of "carbon" is the use of non-detoxinating Union Gasoline with Aristo Motor Oil. This combination is probably the most effective that is known.
