SALMON RUN IS UNDER WAY

UNION, Ore., June 1. (Special)—Much interest is being taken this year by Union fishermen in the annual salmon run. Owing to the strike on the lower Columbia earlier in the season there are many more fish than usual coming up this spring and the run up Catherine creek is in full swing now. A great many of the big fellows are being caught, some of the catches running around twenty to twenty-five pounds. In a few places the fish ladders at dams have been placed so far to one side of the main stream that few of the salmon were getting over the dam, and, especially at private irrigation dams, the owners tore down part of the wall so the fish could make better headway upstream.

KEY TO PENNANT

Prior to the start of the 1925 race, Manager Jack Dunn, who groomed Grove at Baltimore, said he would win 20 games for Mack, possibly 25. Conns predicted a pennant if Grove lived up to Dunn's prophecy.

Grove was a disappointment last year after all the press-agenting that had preceded him. He won only 10 games and lost two more. However, he led the league in strikeouts, showing he had the stuff. Incidentally, he gave the most bases on balls, proving he lacked control.

This year Grove is working much slower, has cut down the speed of his motion, almost coming to a stop at the halfway mark and is pitching overhand entirely. Inability to control his sidearm delivery made most of his trouble last year.

"Let Grove win 20 games this year and we will make plenty of trouble. If he cops 25 we will just about win the pennant," says Mack.

These two St. Louis Browns hurlers, Claude Jonnard (left) and Alex Gaston are exchanging pitching confidences. Gaston is showing Jonnard how he holds the fork ball. Jonnard seems to be taking it all in, no doubt figuring on trying the same delivery himself.

Billy Evans Says:

WADDELL'S FEAT

Eighteen years ago Rube Waddell struck out 16 batters in an American league game. That is the best modern day record for whiffing the opposition.

It was sweet revenge for Waddell, for he made the record against the Athletics, after being released by that club to the St. Louis Browns.

Back in 1884, Charley Sweeney of Providence, pitching against Boston, caused 19 batters to wend back to the bench via the strike-out route.

Walter Johnson and Dazy Vance have several times threatened the modern record of 16 but always something happened to spoil the big chance.

I recall one game I umpired for Johnson in which he got 10 men in the first five innings. He was going great and it seemed a certainty that Waddell's strikeout mark would be shattered.

Up to the last half of the fifth neither team had scored, Johnson was being pressed to the limit. In that inning his club gave him a four-run lead and he immediately eased up. He struck out only two more batters during the remainder of the game.

RECORD IN DANGER

Of the present day pitchers in the major leagues, I am inclined to think that Lefty Grove of the Athletics, has a better chance than any other pitcher to shatter Waddell's mark of long standing.

Twice this year, although the race is still in its infancy, Grove has struck out 11 of the opposition.

The first time was in a game with the New York Yankees, which he pitched June 10th last, scoring all their runs in the last half of the eighth. So the 11 strikeouts were registered in only eight innings of play.

The second time the feat was performed, the Chicago White Sox was the team to suffer. In the first three innings Grove got six batters on strike. I wondered if Mack's southpaw was in for a record performance.

During the remainder of the game I kept close track of his work. On an even dozen batters who finally either walked, hit safely or retired, Grove had two strikes. So that 12 other batters aside from the 11 who fanned were in imminent danger.
