To Attend University Graduation Exercises

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pearson will leave La Grande this evening for Eugene, Ore., where they will be present for the graduation of their daughter, Miss DeLoria Pearson, from the University of Oregon. The commencement exercises will be Monday morning. Before that time the senior play, the rose and fern procession and the baccalaureate services will be featured at the university, which Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will attend. Their son, Lanier Pearson, who has been attending the school of Osteopathy and Surgery at Los Angeles, Cal., will join them at Eugene for commencement. The three accompanied by Miss Pearson will return to La Grande Wednesday of next week.

Miss Pearson has been active in student affairs at the University of Oregon. For the past year she has been secretary of the student body of the university. She has been speckling in history and science. Two other La Grande girls will also graduate from the university Monday. Mrs. H. H. Cleaver went to Eugene the first of the week to be present for the graduation of Miss Constance Cleaver, and Miss Jessie Andrew will be among those receiving diplomas. Both of these young women are graduates of the local high school and made good records during their four years at the university. Miss Andrew has been prominent in the women's vice club of the school.

Engagement Is Announced

The news of Miss Marcella Berry's engagement to James K. King, of Eugene, will be of interest to her many La Grande friends. Her betrothal to Mr. King was announced at a party given by Mrs. Keith Higgins at Eugene last week. Miss Berry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood Berry, formerly of this city. She is a graduate of the local high school and also a graduate of the University of Oregon. Since her graduation from the university two years ago she has been secretary to Dean H. Walker. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and has a wide circle of friends both in Eugene and here. Mr. King is an attorney of Eugene, associated with the firm of Potter and Foster. He is also a graduate of the university, and a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

Although no definite date has been set for the wedding it will probably be an event of the fall.

Miss Courtney, Mr. Dial Married Here

Miss Marjorie Courtney and Charles Dial, both of this city, were united in marriage by the Rev. C. V. Dunn of the Christian church last evening at 8 o'clock, at the church parsonage. The young couple were accompanied by Miss Courtney's mother, Mrs. J. L. Courtney.

Both Miss Courtney and Mr. Dial are well known in La Grande. She has lived in La Grande most of her life and he has made this city his home for several years. They will continue to make La Grande their home.

Entertains at Dancing Party

Stanford Neilson entertained at a farewell dancing party last evening honoring Frank, Jack and Muriel Swezey, who left La Grande this morning, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Neilson, on Fourth street. Twelve young people were guests of the evening and an enjoyable time was spent dancing. Refreshments were served at an appropriate hour.

Those present were: Miss Theilma and Helen Bray, Sanford Neilson, Miss Clara Johansen, Miss Wanda Neilson, Frank, Jack and Muriel Swezey, Miss Margaret Mulholland, Miss Leibel Synons, Robert Synons, and Miss Holbert Neilson.

Miss Price Hostess To Four-M Members

Members of the Four-M club were entertained at a delightful party Tuesday evening when Miss Veda Price was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Price on X avenue. Twelve girls were present and spent a very enjoyable evening sewing and visiting.

Bouquets of roses in pink and white were arranged about the rooms forming a delightful setting for the affair. Refreshments were served before adjournment.

Local Couple Take Marriage Vows

At 9 o'clock Tuesday evening Miss Edna Watkins and Bennett P. Dolbow, both of La Grande, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. A. Hall, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church south. The ceremony took place at the church parsonage.

The happy couple will make their home on Monroe street.

Aid Society Meets At McWilliams' Home

St. Peter's Aid of the Episcopal church here met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William McWilliams at her home on Fourth street. During the afternoon the members of the society packed a missionary box to be sent to Alaska for the Sunday school there. A social hour was observed and refreshments served before the close of the meeting.

The next meeting of the society will be June 23 at the home of Mrs. C. C. Bull.

Missionary Society Making Bandages

The regular meeting of the Foreign Missionary Society of the First Methodist Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. F. Tyler on K avenue. Mrs. R. W. Leighton, president, presided over the business session, after which the remainder of the afternoon was spent making bandages to be sent to missionary hospitals in foreign countries. The members of the organization brought books to the meeting, which will be sent to the Philippine Islands.

About twenty-five members were present for the meeting. Mrs. Tyler served refreshments before adjournment.

Sister Mary Says:

Breakfast—Baked rhubarb, cereal, thin cream, fried bread, strap, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Lunch—Cream of spinach soup, bread slices, cottage cheese, whole wheat bread, pineapple, sponge, milk, tea.

Dinner—Red snapper with shrimp sauce, twice baked potatoes, buttered green beans, head lettuce with French dressing, orange tea, sponge cake, milk, coffee.

Some of the fish without the sauce should be served to children under 10 years of age. With this exception there are no dishes mentioned that may not be served to children of school age.

Red Snapper With Shrimp Sauce
Two pounds red snapper, 1 cup boiled and shelled shrimp, 2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons onion, 1/4 cup minced green pepper, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon tomato catsup, lemon juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar, parsley.

Remove skin from fish and tie in a piece of cheesecloth. Put vinegar and 2 teaspoons salt into a quart of boiling water and add fish. Simmer for 20 minutes. In the meantime prepare the sauce as follows:
Melt butter without bubbling, add onion finely minced and pepper. Simmer five minutes. Sift over flour and stir until smooth and bubbling. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt, pepper and celery salt and bring to the boiling point. Slowly add catsup, stirring vigorously and then the prepared shrimp. Heat thoroughly. Remove the fish from cheesecloth to a hot platter. Sprinkle with lemon juice and pour sauce over and around. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve.

Women Crowd Onto Page One

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK.—What are the women doing? Look on the front page of any newspaper and see how they are crowding the men for space.

The first lady of the land turns the first spadeful of earth in Washington for the new home of an orphan asylum. Particularly fitting, as the first president of the institution was Dolly Madison, wife of the fourth president.

On the other side of the ocean, Jane Cowl, the American actress, scores a great triumph in London premiere of Nowel Coward's new play, "Flowers." Curtain calls and finally speeches marked the ovation for the actress.

Crown Princess Louise of Sweden, visits the Woolworth tower and Wall street, and then gives an interview to general reporters in which she praised "the typical New York girl's legs." "I think it's the lovely silk stockings they wear," she said.

Elaine Hammerstein, movie actress and daughter of Arthur Hammerstein becomes the wife of J. Walter Kays, insurance broker, in Los Angeles today.

Another engagement of interest—that of Claire Dux, opera star, to Charles Swift, Chicago packer.

HEALTH

DANGERS OF THE COMMON DRINKING CUP

(By Dr. Frederick Stricker)
Now that the warm months are upon us and bodily and solar heat produce within us an exceptional craving for water and other drinks, it is well to recall the fact that there may be danger in satisfying this healthy thirst unless care is exercised in doing so.

It is probably no exaggeration to say that every day there are in the United States on an average of a million persons who suffer or are recovered from a communicable disease of some kind. Among the most prevalent and the most damaging of these ailments are the so-called respiratory diseases.

Practically all contagious diseases are conveyed by the secretions of the nose and mouth and consequently by the common drinking cup. Included in these groups are tuberculosis, pneumonia, influenza, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, whooping-cough, mumps, cerebro-spinal meningitis, poliomyelitis, smallpox, chickenpox, mumps, German measles, sore throat, and, last but not least, the common cold.

Some of these diseases may be conveyed in some other way, but certainly all of them may be conveyed by the secretions which escape from the body through the nose and mouth. They may be spread to articles that are carried to the mouth such as glasses, cups, spoons, towels, handkerchiefs, and pencils when such articles are used in common with other persons. If one drinks from a glass that reaches him unsterilized from previous use by persons whose mouth reaches the bridge of the nose and two points on each side come down to the eyebrow.

or lips contain the germs of any of these diseases, he exposes himself to the danger of contracting them. This danger has long been recognized by the sanitarians of the country and it was mainly from their insistence that the first effort was made to combat the continual danger from this source.

of infection. The Oregon State Board of Health was the earliest of the state boards to adopt rules and regulations against the common cup and the common towel, and similar measures have since been placed on the statute books of forty-five other states.

Insofar as legislative action can protect, with the exception of two states, the public is safe against common drinking cups. However, and this is the most difficult factor public health authorities have had to face, the people of the communities for whom these safeguards have been devised, at all times fail to support the laws by failing to comply with them individually, and by failing to insist on their enforcement.

Every man, woman and child has a responsibility in this matter—a responsibility to himself and to his fellows. It is the duty of every one who drinks to find out whether the receptacle from which he drinks is safe, and if not, to demand one that is. In sanitary conditions of any nature should be immediately reported to the local health authorities.
