Kamela Man Remodels Blue Mountain Store

KAMELA, Ore. June 10. (Special)—Guy Norden, proprietor of the Blue Mountain grocery and fountain here near the summit, is about to complete an addition to his business building, it being a room 18 by 20 feet, which he will use as a lunch room for tourists and railroad men. He plans to move his soda fountain from the grocery to the new building and is constructing a lunch counter with a capacity of 20 people. Mr. Norden has installed an ice-making machine and a 6-hole ice cream cabinet, in anticipation of a heavy summer trade.

These are the days when cork-soles and can openers are used until they wear out.

Stomach So Bad Can't Eat Even Fruit

"For years was badly constipated and troubled with gas after eating. Could not eat fruit and many other things. Adierka has done me good—can now eat anything." (Signed) W. H. Fletcher.

Adierka removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Brings out a surprising amount of old waste matter you never thought was in the system. Stops that full bloated feeling and makes you enjoy eating. Excellent for chronic constipation. The L. & L. Drug Co.—Adv.

"Love Gamble" In Last Showing At Sherrys

For the first time in the history of motion pictures the alluring atmosphere of Beacon Hill, Boston, has been caught by the camera. The beautiful Lillian Rich is the star.

The story which is showing at Sherrys Theatre is based on the popular novel by Maxie Drive, titled "Peggy From Beacon Hill."

Here is the touching story of Bohemian life in the careless, artistic center of Boston, from which have come some of the most famous writers and artists of our day. You'll enjoy every "shot" for they were taken overlooking Boston Commons among the queer little homes on the hill.

Comedy showing. "Itain and Shines."

Murder Mystery Drama Opens At Arcade Friday

Based upon the law that every man is innocent until proven guilty, "The Blind Goddess," opening at the Arcade theatre Friday for a two-day run, brings to the screen a heart-gripping, human-interest drama, in which love and duty, romance and a murder-mystery are some of the complex elements.

The story, directed by Victor Fleming, is based on the Arthur Train novel of the same name, which originally appeared in serial form in "The Designer." Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton attended to the film adaptation.

Matching the plot in strength and power is the formidable cast

Mix Is Different In Picture from Gregory's Novel

Tom Mix has a role of a different sort in "The Everlasting Whisper," a fast-moving story of the

By WILLIAMS

Northwest by Jackson Gregory, famous novelist of the out-of-doors school. The picture is playing at the Star theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

There are thrills enough to satisfy any taste in this William Fox production and the story is given added interest by a pretty romance in which Tom proves himself an ardent and persuasive wooer.

Allice Calhoun, as the heroine, is most captivating and lends a feminine appeal to this picture of rugged men and the great outdoors. One doesn't blame Tom for risking his life for her—and sympathizes deeply with him when it looks as if he were going to lose her, even though she is his wife.

The climactic realistic fight in a cave high up in the mountains where Tom mixes it freely with a gang of outlaws led by Brody, this is the high spot in the action. The doughty Tom, of course, vanquishes his foes, and the girl adds the finishing touch by her presence of mind just as Tom is about to be hurled over a cliff.

It is good, old-fashioned melodrama with a rousing finish, and if it doesn't make you grip the edge of your seat, there's something wrong with your red blood.

Robert Cain makes a most suave and hatable villain, while Tony, the celebrated horse, comes in for a share of the honors.

One of the notable features of "The Everlasting Whisper" is the excellent photography of the snow-covered. Some of the long shots of the mountain are veritable pieces of art—worthy of framing if they were reduced to "still's."

The common garden snail has 1500 teeth while the great black slug has more than 30,000 of them. The snail's teeth are found in rows on its tongue and are replaced when worn out by other teeth growing just beneath.

Sometimes a woman is so considerate she won't kick if her husband has to work three or four nights a week.

You Poor Kid, Why Are You So Skinny?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamins and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sleeky thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask Red Cross Drug Store, Glass Drug, or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy—and if at the end of 30 days if she isn't glad she bought them, your druggist is authorized to return her money.
