Billy Evans Says:

BREAK BALL GAME.
 For break ball games I recommend the one staged at Cleveland June 3 between the Indians and the New York Yankees.

To open, Cleveland won from New York, 15-2, the worst defeat the league-leading Yankees have suffered all season.

Brooklyn's heavy-weight southpaw, aside from holding the Yankee safe, was the field and batting hero of the afternoon.

In four trips to the plate he made as many hits, including a home run, double and two singles.

In the field, with the bases filled and no one out, he caught a line drive and started a triple play that got him out of a deep hole.

Incidentally, Babe Ruth made his 15th home run of the season.

THIS SPEAKER DAY.
 This Speaker, Cleveland manager, also figured in the day's events in a decidedly unusual manner.

The event was designated as "Speaker Day" to honor the famous manager of the Indians, a rather isolated testimonial to the fact that he was the most valuable player in the American league in 1912.

When the most valuable player scheme was inaugurated by the American league, club managers were made ineligible. Their prevention of some of the greatest stars of the game, like Cobb, Speaker, Collins and others from being so honored.

Years ago, a similar plan known as the "Chalmers trophy" was the vogue and in 1912 Speaker received that award. The honor was simply brought up to date in the recent "Speaker Day" game.

UNIQUE DOUBLE PLAY.
 To round out an afternoon of break happenings, Rubie Lutskak completed an unassisted double play, the like of which I have never seen during my 21 years' connection with the American league.

With one out, Bob Meusel on second and Lattner at bat, Lutskak went into action.

The batsman hit sharply to Lutskak at third. Meusel was in motion with the pitch. Seeing he was a sure out if he continued on to third, he started back to second with Lutskak in hot pursuit.

Lutskak touched Meusel out when within a few feet of second. Lattner, only a few feet away, realizing he would be retired if he continued on his way, retraced his steps to first.

Lutskak gave chase. Back he hit first base as Lutskak made his first effort to reach Lattner with the ball. The Yankees' second-baseman overran the base and was out.

Lutskak had completed a double play unassisted, retiring runners at second and first after dodging the batted ball at third.

I never expect to witness another ball game like it.

KATS FOR SPEAKER.
 Generously considered the greatest outfielder in the history of the game, Speaker has never been the victim of a batter.

A left-handed batsman, Speaker has always been able to hit either kind of pitching with equal ease. This spring he slumped at the bat and has been having his troubles hitting out of it.

At the opening of the season, some one had suggested that before the move was made Speaker should be sending in a substitute native for Outfielder Speaker, the idea would have been ridiculous. Yet it so happened that Manager Speaker did that very thing.

In the final inning of the game with the Yankees, June 3, with a run needed to tie and a man on second, George Uhlen, head hitting pitcher, was sent in to hit in place of Speaker.

It was the first time in his long career as a major league that a pinch-hitter swung for the great Division.

Speaker got personal pride out of the bats at victory.

OLD SKEW OR NOTHING.
 "ST. LOUIS (AP)—Inventor is going to make an attempt to get the "skein" in his whaling after the process. Next year it will be illegal to sell in the Free States any whisks which has not been marked for the year. Since 1913 whisks only three years old might be sold, but the government has adopted the three-year restriction to increase the percentage of the fish not used for food, and also to check the adulteration in the country of the Scotch whisks which for some time has been depressing the home product.

PLASTER WONT STICK.
 WASHINGTON.—It looks like the falling plaster business is due for a professional investigation.

Many of the men making white Plaster Castings, with a 112,247,144 claim service in a charter. The First International church, which is usually worshipers, has been closed for plaster repairs and the business next year will have to make the plastering business while the plastered roof is being repaired.

KLAMATH WHEELS.—Building permits for three wheels of size to build ELAZUL.

Stage 2 A. Tower tops of Fort Madison, Ia., inadvertently drove out a backboard with the other 20. So he opened court next day by being himself 21, along with other attending members. Then Chairman Henry Mueller the next passed a stop sign. "Klamath wheels" came in voluntarily and cut around the dollar.

Harvard Does Rare Feat

Harvard University didn't win the annual eastern intercollegiate track and field meet this year, but it performed a rather unusual feat by copping the three long running races, the half mile and two-mile. In the above layout we find "Red" Haggarty (left) leaving the tape in the mile, with Willard Tibbets right taking the two-mile. In the center "Sunny" Watters is winning the 500 in a thrilling finish.

Problems of the Pioneer Woman

When the first faded away before their eyes.

One lady, my grandmother, says it was times when she and her family had toiled for weeks for months, a pioneering family came by her cabin. As payment for day for their team, the travelers gave grandmother a little basket of provisions. This she kept for a very long time, eating some herself, but keeping it as long as possible to use as a treat for her husband and babies.

On another occasion, grandmother claims to be the cabin and said, "I guess old Diggins and Jerry will have to do tonight."

Speaker and Jerry were the men which had been given by grandmother to Oregon from the east. It was winter and a blizzard raged outside. Grandmother quickly moved what furniture she had inside and made room for the couple to be in one room of the one-room cabin. Diggins and Jerry had food but much of the stock would be other kind of food.

The woman wanted to dress as nicely as possible, even if they were in an unheated country. Grandmother took of her and other women have done their own and their families' clothing. Willard Tibbets and Diggins were used to make a full well-colored day. This was the only color they knew how to make. The cloth they used was one-hundred pound flour sacks. From those drawers, aprons, shirts and other articles were made. The women did all their sewing by hand. Some even made their husbands' suits.

Sugar was scarce and high. There were no fruit jars. Fruit was very hard to get but the women saw that their families had fruit during the winter. Huckleberries, wild cherries and gooseberries were picked and dried. We can imagine these women tramping some streams and working long hard hours for the small fruits. This experiment has not been from our environment or orchards and dried fruits.

In spite of the sturdy hardships of pioneer days, I wonder if the pioneer mothers were not happier than the housewives of today. Surely they knew their neighbors better and spent much more time with their own children in their own homes.

Material for this story was received from Mrs. California, Granger, Velma McCall and Mrs. W. A. McCall, and from a book entitled, "The History of Union and Well-known Oregonians."

OPEN TOURNEY IS UNDER WAY

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—Fairest to foulest weather greeted the more than six hundred golfers who went into the qualification tests of the national open championship on seventeen widely scattered courses yesterday.

A drenching rain followed by sleet and a cold wind presented themselves at Chicago, while in the Rocky mountain region the course was soft from recent downpours. A shower of large proportions dampened the spirits of many a candidate in the east.

115 Qualified.

That withal, 115 players qualified, although the rain at Chicago made necessary postponement of a play-off in which two were to have been chosen from six who finished with 155.

There were few upsets. The veteran Alvie Smith, an open champion of 15 years ago, failed to reach the select list in the New York district. John Black, who tied with Bobby Jones in 1922 for the runner up position to Gene Sarazen at Skokie, went down in the Kansas City area. Jimmy Mansie, of St. Louis, veteran amateur, also failed.

Several amateurs of caliber scored exceptionally promisingly for the professionals in clinging to the open crown which Cyril Walker won in 1924 and Willie Macfarland in 1921.

Chick Evans, the Chicagoan, who paid his own expenses to England to participate in the recent amateur championship won by Josep Swobber, was in a tie for fourth place at Chicago.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 15. (AP)—Jack Westland, Everett, Wash.; Ben Stein, Seattle, amateurs, and Johnny Junor, Portland, Ore., a professional won the right here yesterday to represent the Pacific northwest in the national open golf tournament at Columbus, O., July 5, 9 and 16. Westland's score for 26 holes was 144, the others 145.

ELMIRA, N. Y.—William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, who lost an eye in England, is the victim of another accident. He was run over by an auto, but not seriously hurt. Mr. Johnson reported, however, that he was "terribly lame."

QUICK QUAKER

QUICK QUAKER, savory and delicious, takes less time to prepare than plain toast. Thus provides a hot and nourishing breakfast in a hurry.

That is how every day should be started.

Started with the ideal food balance of protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—that leading dietary authorities now so widely urge.

Start your days and your children's in that way. No need now, simply to save time, to deny them the supreme strength food of the world.

Your grocer has Quick Quaker—also Quaker Oats as you have always known them.

UNITED STATES TIRES AND RUBBER CO.

Answering some Questions about the New "Sprayed Rubber"

Q—What is Sprayed Rubber?
 A—It is an entirely new form of crude rubber produced from rubber latex without the use of smoke or chemicals.

Q—Who produces it?
 A—The United States Rubber Company.

Q—Where?
 A—In Java and at its rubber plantations in Sumatra and on the Malay Peninsula, by means of a special patented process discovered by its technical staff and by means of special patented apparatus also designed by United States Rubber Company technicians.

Q—What are its advantages?
 A—It is used in just the same manner as any other form of crude rubber—but being produced without the use of smoke or chemicals, it is cleaner, more uniform in texture and has a higher tensile strength.

Q—Is it used in building United States Tires?
 A—Yes. Millions of pounds of it have been used, and more and more will be used all the time as new plants for producing it are completed by the United States Rubber Company in the Far East.

Q—Does the United States Rubber Company make Sprayed Rubber only from rubber latex from its own plantations?
 A—No. The Company considers that Sprayed Rubber is markedly superior to rubber derived from latex by the old methods. Therefore it has located factory units for producing Sprayed Rubber in various rubber producing areas in the Far East, thus supplementing the supply made from the latex from its own trees.
