CITY DEALS CARNIVALS HEAVY BLOW

The city commission, following a quarter of an hour's discussion, stamped his actions with its seal of approval and passed a motion to reimburse the French and Boucher Oregon shows for license money expended for the period beginning when the shows were closed down. This means a refund to the carnival of about two-thirds of the money paid the city for licenses for the 14 concessions in question.

In the opinion of some of the city officials, the entire proceeding is the reaction following the closing down of punchboards, pull boards and slot machines in La Grande. A petition, signed by nearly 100 business men, was filed against carnivals a few days ago, this petition, representing a powerful element of La Grande's citizenry, started the ball rolling.

Jurisdiction Explained
 The petition called upon the commission to bar carnivals from the city. An opinion given by City Attorney George T. Cochran announced that this is not within the jurisdiction of the city dads but that the commissioners could regulate the operations of shows or carnivals within the city's corporate limits.

During the discussion last night all three commissioners voiced their opinions of carnivals. Commissioner Charles Placy said that games of science and skill, if disapproved of by the town, should not be permitted to operate. President A. T. Hill agreed. Commissioner R. P. Landis said there were devices in operation at the carnival that are worse than punchboards and that it is not fair that they operate contrivances that involve an element of chance.

Carnival Man Speaks
 A representative of the carnival was present and declared that the list of concessions before they were opened and had given them his approval. City Manager Crews emphatically denied that he had passed approval on the games. He said that he looked over the concessions and then called the carnival men's attention to the provisions of the local ordinance governing the matter and that they took out licenses in spite of the law.

Stearns To Make Refund
 City Recorder J. E. Stearns was instructed to make the license refund to the carnival after it had closed all shows here and had cleaned up all rubbish from the streets. Mr. Stearns announced that he would have the check ready by eight o'clock Sunday morning and would give it to the carnival providing all matters had been properly attended to.

Several other minor matters and routine business was attended to during the commission meeting.

This morning it was noted that the carnival has employed an outside lawyer and intends to start action of some nature. What the carnival contemplates is not known.

ONE IS FINED; SEVEN FREED

EUGENE, Ore., June 17. (AP)—H. J. Walker, one of the eight persons arrested in a recent raid by Lewis Kleizing, special state operative and officer of the law enforcement league and a local officer, was fined $500 in justice court here yesterday. The charge against Walker was possession of liquor. The case against the other seven were dropped on recommendation of the district attorney, E. C. Simmons, local automobile dealer; Harry Ellinger, assistant football coach at the University of Oregon, and Rancey W. Rush, Eugene police commissioner were among the seven.

There was a question as to the legality of the seizure of the liquor found during the raid, and failure of proof against the seven, according to the district attorney.

Cleans Up

When Mrs. Hazel Bonner Greene was named U. S. commissioner at Fort Towson, Okla., to succeed her husband, she notified moonshiners and bootleggers that bonds and sentences on liquor cases would be the maximum. During her first 30 days in office she has lived up to her word.

Joe Lay lost one of his sheep last week. Mr. Lay thinks it strayed away to the mountains. Ed Miller's sheepherders here have been having trouble with bears killing the sheep. Chris Lester killed two bears within the last few weeks.

Robert Miller and daughter, Francis, were fishing for Eastern brook trout in Catherine creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gobel, of Medical Springs were visiting at the A. J. Vandevanter home Sunday.

Leoster Miller and Leonard Whitton, of Medical Springs, passed through The Park on their way to Catherine Creek forks to fish a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Firman and little son Billy were afternoon guests of Mrs. J. B. Hunter at Catherine creek forks Sunday.

New Manager Employed in Piano Department

E. R. Taggart, pianist and tuner, has arrived from San Francisco to become manager of the piano department at the W. H. Bohmkamp store. Taggart has had 16 years of piano experience with some of the leading music houses of the coast, including Sherman Clay & Co., of San Francisco, and the Berkell Music company, of Los Angeles. He also has been attached to piano houses in Chicago.

The Bohmkamp line of instruments will be continued, Taggart said this morning, registering pianos, as well as grands and uprights in the regulation models, to be offered.

9:30 o'clock. The hike to camp, which was dreaded by some of the men, proved comparatively easy.

Camp More Attractive
 We find everything much nicer this year than last. There are more modern conveniences and the camp is more orderly and clean. It is very little warmer here than it is in La Grande.

We were delighted to learn at our first meal at camp that we were to share our tables with the Union company. They are a fine bunch of fellows and mix well with our company.

Officers and men were worried to learn, upon leaving Portland that we had left two men behind, Karl Stoop and Robert Smith. Our fears proved groundless when the two arrived in camp some 15 minutes after we did.

The first day was spent in pitching tents and cleaning up the company street. This proved a longer and more tedious job than was anticipated.

Good Meals Served
 Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock, consisting of fried potatoes, beefsteak and canned corn.

Company B has been assigned two army cooks from the 7th Infantry. Prospects are good for having nearly as good food as was

HELEN WONT PLAY

EUGENE, June 17. (AP)—Helen Wills, American lawn tennis champion, will not play in the Wimbledon tournament which begins Monday, her mother announced today. A cable message from Dr. Wills, Helen's father, said it would be unwise for her to play so soon after her recent operation for appendicitis.

ICEBERGS BLAMED

NEW YORK (AP)—Icebergs were blamed for the quick drop of 20 degrees in the temperature here yesterday. Several ships recently have reported sighting them in the Atlantic within 1,000 miles of New York.

HEALTH

(By Derrick T. Vall, M. D., Cincinnati, Ohio)

Member Gorgas Memorial Institute, Shalonspeare in "Othello" puts these words of keen remorse in the speech of Cassio, who in a drunken frenzy, had stabbed his friend: "O God, that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains!"

Had he lived in those days of prohibition and blue laws when the religion of many men and women seems to be, free license to poison their bodies with hopelessly moonshiner, tobacco, and poisonous drugs, he may have aptly written: "O God, that men and women should put in their mouths that which steals away their eyesight!"

When nicotine and alcohol cannot be assimilated because of a jaded, overstimulated, and under-nourished body, they act as poi-
