La Grande Theatres

Revue Heads
Attractions of Sunday Vaudeville

Many attractions of worth are promised on the new vaudeville bill at the Arcade theater on Sunday.

The Bobby Thompson revue makes its initial appearance in "Minutes of Music and Dance."

Bobby Thompson's specialty is the violin. Jim McGill in "A Fellow of Infinite Jest" has a perpetual smile and a preponderance of ability as a comedian.

Anderson brothers, "Sons of Syncopeation," are two clever colored entertainers in singing and dancing numbers mingled with bits of jazz. Simono and Marilyn Dawn in "A Study of Youth and Harmony" are two fascinating misses whose offering consists of harmony, singing, music, comedy and dancing.

Leo Edwards, well-known in vaudeville, is featured as a contortionist extraordinary.

It is the story of a girl who goes west to search for her brother's murderer, and her adventures before she finds him and brings about his capture and punishment.

Of course she is aided by one of the cowboys with whom she falls in love. These two parts are taken by Dick Hutton and Neva Gerber and judging from advance reports they do some of the best work they have ever done in this production.

It's an Arrow picture and was produced by Wild West Productions under the supervision of Ben Wilson, one of the best known producers in motion pictures.

Comedy showing "Whoo Emma."

New Western Picture Showing At Sherrys Today

"Western Fate," which will be the feature picture at the Sherry theater today only is said by those who have seen it to be one of the fastest moving, most actionful pictures that the popular stars, Dick Hutton and Neva Gerber, have yet made.

Wonder Dog Has Thrilling Part In Picture

That a dog picture can be made with understanding and realism will be proven at the Sherry theater when Columbia's "Lure of the Wild" holds the screen tomorrow and Monday.

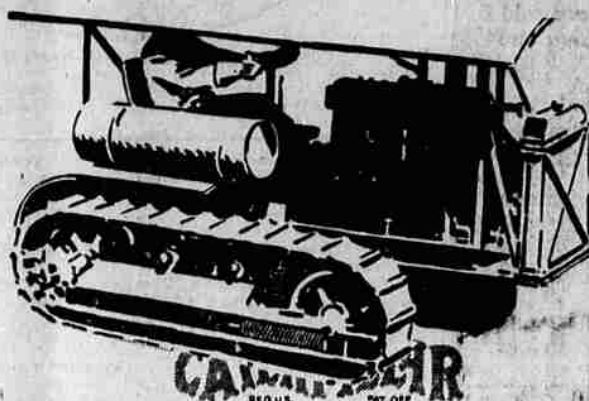

Director Frank Strayer deserves abundant praise for the way he has handled a theme that the public interest in animal actors has made all too common.

"Lure of the Wild" is not usual and has been made by a director of known intelligence, with fine restraint and ability. "Lightning," the half wolf-dog, displays himself conclusively as an exceedingly clever canine. The animal is provided with a collection of exacting and stirring scenes that test him to the utmost. But "Lightning" comes through with banners flying as the interest of a large audience testified.

There is a peculiarity about this Columbia feature that deserves mention for its wisdom. And that is the presence of a cast of fine character actors headed by the lovely Jane Novak.

Miss Novak in a typical emotional role, is bound to capture the affection and sympathy of an audience with whom she has long been a leading favorite. Her part is that of the young wife whose jealous husband unjustly accuses her and leaves for the wilds of Canada, taking their baby daughter with him. A gentleman who has reasons for desiring his death sends a scoundrel after him to accomplish it.

Comedy showing, "Tea for Four."

"Love Thief" Coming to The Star On Sunday

Drama, comedy and a gorgeous background are the outstanding remembrances of "The Love Thief" which will be the attraction at the Star theater Sunday and Monday.

Rapid action, a sweet love story, and some very clever comedy to relieve the dramatic moments are the "makings" of this pot pourri of entertainment.

Through it all suspense is kept at a high pitch by the intrigues of grasping foreign powers whose representatives are in the court. We have two countries about to make war, with Norman Kerry representing one and Greta Nissen the other. A marriage is arranged to avert such a calamity but Kerry falls in love and refuses to take part in the royal wedding.

Duels, fights, disgrace, escape and final happiness occur in rapid succession to the impressive background of lively court scenes, beautiful sets and attractively uniformed men.

Kerry rises to dramatic heights in this picture of greater sincerity than anything he has done recently and he has done some very fine work in recent pictures.

That little Norwegian girl, Greta Nissen, discloses the reason she was brought from Europe and immediately starred. She is beautiful, wistful and a consummate actress.
