CHAMBER PLANS TRIP

PORTLAND, June 30 (AP)—Reservations are being taken by the chamber of commerce for a special excursion train from Portland to Eugene and Klamath Falls, commencing the completion of the new rail line, establishing direct connection between Portland and Klamath Falls. The special train will leave at midnight, August 18 and return August 21, making the trip to Klamath Falls over the line in the day time.

Billy Evans Says:

JINX IN BASEBALL

Most baseball managers are just as superstitious as the ball players and superstition runs riot among the athletes.

As one watches Connie Mack methodically directing his ball club from the bench, he would never suppose the tall leader of the Athletics believed there was such a thing as a jinx.

Yet only recently, Connie, by deciding that "Lefty" Grove should never again be used as the opening pitcher in a three or four-game series, proved he did.

And thereby hangs a very interesting tale of how superstition often causes smart baseball men to suffer an entire change of opinion.

PAIR OF PLANS

When a ball club has a big defensive threat like Grove or an offensive menace like Babe Ruth, the manager of the club has two lines of action.

One is to hurl your best bet at the opposition, get 'em 'groggy,' and then try your best to keep them in that condition. The other to keep him in reserve.

Landing an early knockout was Mack's original intention in using Grove to open every series. With the star southpaw at the top of his game, the odds are always in favor of his turning in a victory.

Winning the first ball game in any series is the edge. It puts the opposition on the defense. That is all very well if form holds good and your best bet comes through. If he fails, it is different. You have used your ace and lost. That removes the big threat and adds to the confidence of the rival club.

THREE TOUGH TILTS

All season Grove has pitched sensational ball for the Athletics, yet his pitching percentage would never convey that impression to the fan who had only the figures to guide him.

Grove has done little better than break even, yet with the possible

Portland Hunt Club Wins From Boise, Ida.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 29 (AP)—The Portland Hunt club won its first game in the Pacific Northwest tournament yesterday by defeating Boise, Idaho, nine to five. Captain G. R. Mauger, of the Boise team, who made his first appearance yesterday, greatly to the confidence and strength of the Idaho team but they fell behind in the last three chukkers.

STARKEY, DOTSON DRAW

KLAMATH FALLS, June 20 (AP)—Kid Starkey and Benny Dotson, lightweights, fought ten hammer and tongs to a draw here last night, Starkey taking the aggressive despite the fact that in a previous meeting Dotson knocked him out in the first round.

MAY WORK BETTER

That was too much for the usually complacent Mr. Mack. A change of program was decided upon. Instead of starting a series, Grove was named as the selection for the third or fourth game.

In addition to keeping the big threat in the background, it enabled Manager Mack to use him late in the first two games to hold a slight lead.

Grove, who has a free, easy motion, doesn't think anything of working a couple of innings as a pinch pitcher.

As a matter of fact, it is not at all unusual for him to warm up a bit each day. Certain pitchers rest a day, or two after taking their regular turn but Grove is not that sort.

Strong and willing, this feature of his makeup will permit his use in pinch roles without any way hurting his work in his regular start.

It will be interesting to watch how the new program that has been outlined for the pitching season of 1926 turns out.

Have You Met "The Union Oil Company?"
Do You Know "Who It Is" and What Its Aims Are?
The Purpose of This Announcement is to Introduce It to You

NO DOUBT you buy the products of this Company—non-detonating Union Gasoline and Aristo Motor Oil. And you know they are efficient in your motor.

But that doesn't satisfy us. We want you to know these products "personally"—the organization behind them and the standards and ideals on which it is built.

"Union Oil of California" is an organization that is forty-three years old. It is all Western. Its founder, Lyman Stewart, whose son is president of this Company today, drilled some of the first wells in the West in 1883.

Since that time "Union Oil" has developed until it has become one of the biggest industrial institutions in this part of America.

The management and progress of "Union Oil" has always been in the hands of Westerners. Many of the most prominent pioneers in California have been associated with it. And in the growth and expansion of the oil industry "Union Oil" has been a prominent figure for four decades.

Today, as in the eighties, the control of "Union Oil" is vested in directors who are business men and "oil men" with years of practical experience behind them.

But the mere production and refining of crude oil is not their sole interest. Their main interest is in you who drive a motor car—to serve you to this company's best ability.

Because you are the buyer of their products, and you must be served in such a way that you will be friendly, be pleased, be well served, so that you will buy and buy again.

For 10,200 stockholders—76% of whom are themselves Westerners—look to these men for dividends.

So these directors work for people—for you, so that you will gladly buy the Company's products—and for those thousands of stockholders so that their investment will earn a reasonable profit.

When you use non-detonating Union Gasoline and Aristo Motor Oil, therefore, you are dealing with an institution which is a community affair—a Western institution, paying $15,600,000 yearly in salaries to Western employes and the greater portion of its dividends to Western people, a Company directed by Western men, whose products are "Western made" for Western motoring conditions.

"Union Oil" isn't soulless—it is human. It wants you for its friend. It renders service and manages its business with that desire uppermost in all of its endeavors.

Thus it is "introduced to you." And it invites you to enjoy a closer, better acquaintance in the future through the use of the products that it makes.
