Billy Evans Says:

NOT GOOD OMEN
A record-breaking start in golf is far from a good omen if you are willing to take the word of some of the game's greatest players.

While the leading professionals and amateurs always relish a low score, many of them are mighty superstitious about being the medalist in the qualifying round of any big tournament.

In like manner, while most pitchers strive to retire the first batter in any ball game, settling him down on strikes is considered bad luck.

In baseball it is regarded as a good bet that the pitcher who so starts a game by fanning the first batter will be beaten even if able to finish.

GLAD TO QUALIFY
Most golfers are well satisfied if able to qualify, without giving any thought to their score.

As a matter of fact any player who qualifies with a round that he knows is far below form, feels that his play is certain to improve. He has something to shoot at.

Just as in baseball, when a player leads the league at bat, anything short of repeating is looked at in the light of a batting slump.

When a team wins a pennant, fanfare expects it to repeat or be regarded in the light of a failure. Champions are always expected to deliver.

The case of Jess Sweetser, in the recent British amateur championship, is proof that a good start is not necessary for ultimate success.

MADE POOR START
In their first appearance across the American amateurs made a terrible showing. None played more poorly at Sandwich than Sweetser. In weather conditions decidedly unfavorable for good golf, Sweetser took a 99.

In his debut, Sweetser had performed poorly yet his golfing friends gave no thought to his high score. Knowing his fine competitive spirit they were positive his game would show steady improvement. It did.

How he came on to win the British amateur is now a matter of golf history. Later he defeated Holderness, the British crack, in the Walker cup test.

The star golfer must watch his game, perhaps more closely than any other athlete, unless it is the fighter. To reach top form, too soon, then, go stale, is fatal!

ANENT THE GAMES.
Received a query the other day which invariably stirs up plenty of argument. In discussing winning streaks, the question was raised as to whether a tie game was considered a win.

We have made several people hopping mad in the last few days—there are so many orders that have come in that our business got rather congested. Just about the time we would start filling an order the telephone would buzz and we would be detained 3 to 5 minutes explaining why we couldn't get their material there when they wanted it. We have always tried to make quick delivery but when we sell the stuff so cheap it can't help but make big business. I believe that most customers are pretty well satisfied as we are now beginning to see daylight and we have saved them all lots of money. The lumber market is stiffening, due to all the large mills shutting down over the Fourth of July. There is some talk of most of the large mills on the coast shutting down for a month. If I were going to build at all I would begin to make tracks now. Small old window sashes, 65¢ apiece. They have the glass in them.

Wins Golf Title

This is Mile Thlon de la Chaume, 17-year-old French girl, who surprised the golfing world by defeating the very prominent Miss Cecil Leitch in the finals of the French women's open championship recently. The annual tournament was staged on the links of the St. Germain Golf Club, Paris, the English celebrity losing 3 and 2.

considered as having broken the run of victories.

Playing a tie game does not break a winning streak. A run of victories can only be broken by a defeat. A tie game is, after all, nothing, because no decision is reached.

In this connection I might state that the games were played in the two longest winning streaks ever staged in the majors.

When New York set a record in the National League in 1916 by capturing 26 in a row, the Giants were held to a tie after winning 12 straight. The thirteenth contest was stopped by rain in the eighth, with the score standing 1-1.

Likewise, the Chicago White Sox, when they won 19 games in a row in 1906. After capturing eleven straight, New York held the Sox to a scoreless tie in nine innings.

GOT MANY SHUTOUTS
The New York Yankees this year won 16 straight without having a tie figuring in the run.

Looking over the scores of the games of the three winning streaks referred to revealed some very interesting facts.

In winning the 26 straight, the New York Giants never once went into the double figures in making runs, proving the club got excellent pitching.

The Giants recorded 10 shutouts, while the White Sox turned in eight. The Yankees, on the other hand didn't blank a single team while winning 16.

The White Sox, in starting their streak shut out the Boston Red Sox in three successive games, while the Giants finished their feat with three straight whitewashes of the Boston Braves.

Seventh Infantry in Tie with Monterey Men

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 1. (AP)—The Seventh Infantry polo team, of Vancouver, Wash., defeated the Finley All-Stars, of Portland, 9 to 6 in the northwest championship polo tournament yesterday thereby tying Monterey, Cal., for first place. Each team now has two victories and no losses and makes the game between them Friday the crucial one of the ten day meet.

PROSPERITY TOKENS
NEW YORK—Tokens of great prosperity for the first half of the year were in the mails today—checks for much of the $491,915,000 in interest and dividends due on American securities this month. The total is an increase of $53,000,000 over July 1 a year ago.

That was a red-letter day for me!

THE day I discovered the tidy red tin was a red-letter day for me. Up until that time, I was fairly well satisfied with my smoking tobacco. At the suggestion of a friend, I tried a pipe-load of his Prince Albert. More to please him than for any other reason.

Little did I realize then what a big favor he was doing me. I'll never forget that experience. Here I was, a seasoned smoker (as I thought), learning something new about tobacco. Why, that very first taste won me. Still, I wasn't hasty. I tried another load to be certain.

That settled it. I bought a tidy red tin of P. A. right then and there. That was a good many years ago, but P. A. is still ministering to my smoke-taste, repeating my early experience many times a day. P. A. is so cool and sweet and fragrant, you just never tire of it.

No matter how hard you hit it up, P. A. never backfires. It is uniformly mild and mellow. Never bothers your throat or tongue. It is so genuinely friendly that you just go to it from morning to midnight. Cool contentment in every perfect puff. Get some P. A. today.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

U. S. Prison Official Dies in Portland Today

PORTLAND, July 1. (AP)—Luther White, superintendent of federal prisons at Washington, who arrived in Portland Monday suffering from an abscessed ear, resulting from sinus trouble, and who has since been in a grave condition, died this afternoon without regaining consciousness.

The fish trust is accused of making 400 per cent profit. Those back of the combine must be eviscerated.

D'Autremont Suspect Held in Wausau, Wis.

WAUSAU, Wis., July 1. (AP)—A man giving the name of Lawrence Anderson is being held here, suspected of being Ray D'Autremont, sought for three years in connection with a train robbery and a murder on the Pacific coast. The suspects answer in many details the description of the fugitive, according to Postoffice Inspector T. W. Evans and Under-Sheriff Arthur Sbert, who made the arrest.

The arrest was made at Spokane, Wis., where the man had been employed for the past month at a paper mill.

DANVILLE, Ill., July 1. (AP)—Cecil Belsan, of Artesia, N. M., the last of a trio arrested Monday suspected of being the D'Autremont brothers wanted for train robbery and murder at Siskiyou, Ore., in 1923, was released today. The other two were released yesterday.

The saxophone was invented in 1840 by Adolphe Sax. He escaped.

NOT "SILENT" CAL

NEW YORK—Instead of the "Silent Cal" of popular fancy, President Coolidge is a talkative person, in the opinion of Jacob S. Worm Muller, counselor to the Norwegian Nobel institute, who is completing a tour of this country. He avers the president is willing to let the other fellow say the "Yeses and Noes."
