ALL WE PROMISED—AND MORE!

If it were possible to acquaint just half of the women of the La Grande territory with the facts and details which indicate the excellence and unusually interesting character of The Observer Home-maker's Institute to be held week after next, we are confident that their enthusiasm would be so great that the other half would hear about it frequently enough to assure a 100 per cent attendance at every session.

The Observer does not make a habit of using superlatives in editorial comment but this particular subject deserves an exception. Last year when we experimented with a Cooking School and had an average of 300 women in attendance each day, we outlined such an institute as is provided this year and promised an event far superior to anything of the kind ever given here. We are going to give the women of the community all that was promised and a great deal more. We are spending several hundred dollars to make it possible—and the entire affair is planned for community service because it is impossible to provide features of this character in regular newspaper space.

Cooking and table service under the direction of a woman who has a national reputation in home economics work; interior decorating lectures and demonstrations by a man who is extremely practical and recognized as the best in his profession on the Pacific coast; child health lectures and demonstrations by a child specialist of the highest reputation, together with conferences that will permit mothers to discuss special problems; hat renovation and dress design by the best sewing expert in the state; lectures on household efficiency, home equipment, budgeting, etc., by a woman of national reputation in those lines; lectures on home planning and rebuilding, art in the home, etc., by the head of O. A. C.'s department of Art and Architecture—these are the high-lights of the program to be given Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of week after next.

The Observer feels particularly fortunate in having secured Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, head of the home economics extension work of O. A. C., to personally direct the Institute, and it is through her efforts that such an excellent staff has been assembled for the event. Mrs. McComb spent yesterday in La Grande arranging a number of details and securing a final approval of the four-day schedule. She is, herself, an expert along many of the lines to be given attention and promises sessions that will interest and profit every woman of the community. Mrs. McComb says that never in her long experience in home economics work has she seen such a complete and outstanding program made available outside of a college or university.

The Institute will be absolutely free to everyone who wishes to attend—and many of the subjects are such that men will be attracted as well as women. The sessions will all be held in the high school auditorium, through the courtesy of the school board, and will provide a light, cool place large enough to accommodate the crowds anticipated. It will also permit conference rooms where the Institute faculty members can talk to individuals as desired.

We do not hesitate to commend the Institute in every particular and are confident that it will measure up to everyone's expectations. The woman who appreciates the importance of this opportunity will make her plans so that she can attend both morning and afternoon programs throughout the week without a break.

PANTING FOR INFORMATION: "What have you in knickers?" an Oregon tourist inquired at a store the other day. "My wife," replied the proprietor.

Did Virginia win a prize at the costume ball? "No, but she got a lot of compliments on the showing she made!"

Many girls marry to get a home of their own. Homes will soon be heated with radio is the claim. Would be easy if the hot air generated in congress could be used.

They went into a movie show in time to see the start. And prim precise and proper quite SAT THIS EAR APART.

But Oh! the hero wooed the girl; Twice Oh! he stole a kiss, And when the lights came on again. THEY RATTLED LOBELIKETHIS.

Before you are married to a woman you can tell her you love her. Afterwards you've got to show her.

A wife can be as satisfying as a sweetie, if you'll try as hard to show her a good time.

Married life is merely a habit. The scene is in a barber shop.

If the question of short skirts was left to the men to vote upon, the eyes would have it.

It is announced this week that cotton stockings have gone up in price but none of the girls will ever find it out.

HALL EXPLAINS HIS STATEMENT

president elect of the university, explaining his views on the prohibition question.

Matter Cleared Up

The Oregon Anti-Saloon League, the Portland Ministerial association and the Dry Legion of America, had addressed statements to the board of regents requesting an investigation of Dr. Hall's address at Iowa City June 29, in which he explained doubt as to the wisdom of the eighteenth amendment.

"His own words clear up the entire matter of criticism," said Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, one of the regents.

R. E. Clook, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, however, indicated that Dr. Hall's statements are partially satisfactory and that he and his organization wouldn't be satisfied with his views on local option.

Dr. Walter H. Nugent, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church who presented the resolution to the ministerial association criticizing Dr. Hall's reported views on the eighteenth amendment, also expressed doubt as to the wisdom of favoring local option as a method of enforcing prohibition.

EUGENE, Ore., July 2. (AP)—Eugene in general, is not perturbed by the controversy over the speech of Dr. Hall on the prohibition situation. Faculty members of the University of Oregon, to which institution Dr. Hall has been elected president, are of the opinion that Dr. Hall was well within his rights and that criticism of his talk is, for the most part, rather in the nature of a political move.

WOMEN CAPTURE DOUBLES FINALS; KINSEY BEATEN

WIMBLEDON, England, July 2. (AP)—America's lawn tennis stars won one of the Wimbledon championship honors today but lost another. Miss Mary K. Browne and Miss Elizabeth Ryan captured the women's doubles final from Mrs. Kitty McKane and Godfree and Miss Evelyn Colyer by the decisive score of 6-1, 6-1.

Howard Kinsey, sixth ranking American player, lost to Jean Borotra, the "bouncing basque" at 6-6, 6-1, 6-2.

stetter, following an investigation last night. In Hogan's pockets was found a letter dated July 1, 1925, and addressed to a sister, Mrs. G. P. Jasper, of Grants Pass. Following is an excerpt:

"Dear Lillian: I want you to take Lorraine and Maxine and take good care of them, but I don't think you can get along with Madelle."

"There was no explanation of why Hogan wanted Mrs. Jasper to take care of the two children. Lorraine is 9, and Maxine is 5 and Madelle is 14."

It was said that Hogan had threatened his wife on other occasions.

Six Shots Fired

More than three shots were fired, according to evidence. Neighbors said they heard at least six shots and there were six empty shells on the ground. The gun, a .32 automatic, had been reloaded and one shot fired after that.

3,000,000 TROUT EGGS RECEIVED FROM MONTANA

PORTLAND, Ore., July 2. (AP)—About 3,000,000 cut throat eggs were received during June from Montana by the state game commission, according to the report of M. L. Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries.

Five hundred thousand were shipped to the Bandon hatchery, a like number to the Necanicum, 1,500,000 to the Cedar Creek hatchery at Hebo, and 500,000 to Dolph creek.

About 4,000,000 trout fry are being held at the Dolph creek hatchery. Some of these will have to be released soon in order to make room for growing fish.

GALLOWAY CHOSEN

PORTLAND, Ore., July 2. (AP)—Francis V. Galloway, of The Dalles, has been chosen to manage Bert Haney's campaign for U. S. senator. He is a native of Yamhill county, and graduated from the University of Oregon in 1907. He is now serving his third elective term as district attorney in Wasco county.

CANYON CITY IN DARKNESS

SALEM, Ore., July 2. (AP)—In a telegram to the Prairie Power company, at Canyon City today installed emergency equipment to relieve the condition there. If it is done in that time the case is to be placed in the hands of the attorney general for court action.

The commission threatens to impose the penalties provided by law. This provides treble damages for persons or corporations injured by negligence of a utility.

According to telegrams received by the commission today from E. Hicks, operator of an ice plant, and Chandler and Haight, publishers of the Blue Mountain Eagle, Canyon City is in a dire condition because of failure of the power company to comply with an order of the commission by installing emergency equipment.

Hicks declares his business is on the rocks as a result. The newspaper publishers report that their plant has been closed for a week because of lack of power and that Canyon City is in darkness.

a road that goes east from Agua Prieta at a point about three or four miles from town. The tracks went from the road to a small shack absolutely unfurnished, with a dirt floor, which is used by customs guards as a shelter during rainstorms.

"The tracks were made by a woman's shoes and went both to and from the road and the shack. We compared the tracks with one of the shoes that had been worn by Mrs. McPherson on that occasion and they matched absolutely.

Tracks Again Appear

"The same tracks again appeared at a point beside the road about 200 yards nearer town. They lead to a slaughter house which is about one mile east of Agua Prieta. At the slaughter house they were lost again.

"My belief is that Mrs. McPherson was taken by automobile to a place about 200 yards from the shack and deposited there and she walked from the automobile to the shack and back to the automobile several times. Tracks made by her shoes were found all around the shack but not be-out, though a search was made as far as Gallardo, nine miles away.

"I further believe, from the investigations made by me and those by my supervision, that she was picked up by the same automobile, any within an hour or two from the time she was taken out, brought back to a place on the road where the tracks start toward the slaughter house.

"My opinion is that the entire transaction was consummated during the afternoon or evening of June 22, the day before Mrs. McPherson appeared in Agua Prieta."
