Sunday Lures Picnickers

Sunday spells picnic-day in the summertime. Grocers, stenographers, lawyers, housewives and abstractors—everyone whose day-to-day duties keep him on the muggy side of doors—will be up with the meadowlarks tomorrow morning and out on the open road almost before their feet-leaving ground squirrels begin their startled scuttling.

A thousand picnic places call. The Blue Mountain region abounds in lakes, streams, heights and timberlands, a single one of which would afford grateful relief to many less favored countries.

But of the nearby spots, Pine Cone camp in the Grande Ronde canyon, where the old country club used to hold forth, is weekly gaining in popularity.

From 50 to 100 picnickers, both local and from afar off, gather Sunday after Sunday to enjoy the cool shade, the rugged scenery and the water. The more industrious golfers like to test their prowess on the "great course." Hikers find the country rough enough to be interesting. There is a tank for the swimmers. And mothers relish the thought of grass plots for the babies where flies and mosquitoes are not plaguing. Pine Cone camp is sure to lure scores of outdoor seekers tomorrow.

Carnation Club Meets At Price Home

Mrs. E. F. Housler merited first honors and Mrs. E. N. Keown finished second when Mrs. Parley Price, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Swan, entertained the Carnation club at her home Friday evening. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Jack Blatt. After the games, the hostesses served a two-course luncheon. A pink and blue color motif was followed in the decorations, with roses forming the bouquets. When the club meets Friday, August 13, the hostesses will be Mrs. H. E. Williams and Mrs. Clark Webb.

Mrs. Templeton Entertains

Members of the Junior Bridge club surrounded two tables for play at the home of Mrs. Hill Templeton Friday evening. The prize for high score was awarded Miss Carolyn Rosenthal. Garden flowers made centerpieces for the two-course luncheon Mrs. Hill served when the games were over. Mrs. Lloyd Young was announced as hostess for the meeting in two weeks.

Society Welcomes Mrs. Clark

Mrs. H. Ralph Clark, who came here a June bride from Corvallis, was welcomed into La Grande society Friday afternoon by 55 matrons and misses who responded to the at-home invitation of Mrs. Robert Clark and her daughter, Miss Blanche. Mrs. Grace Johnson, of Portland, who is visiting at the B. A. Benham home, and Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe, a house guest of Mrs. A. L. Richardson, were among the callers. The company was greeted on the porch by little Jean McKennon, daughter of Mrs. Raymond McKennon, and her chum, Clarice Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Renwick H. Clark. Mrs. Robert S. Eakin received with the hostesses and the honoree. The dining room, a picture in pastel colors, with blue tapers in the candelabra on the table accenting the mingled tints of flowers banked on the buffet, was presided over by Mrs. J. K. Wright, Mrs. Hall K. Wallis, Mrs. Renwick A. Clark and Miss Helen Williams. Misses Rose Klein and Lois Nelson helped them serve refreshments. The menu consisted of brick ice cream, angel food cake in three varieties, butterscotch cookies, fruit punch and candies. Nosegays were given as favors.

Alicel Ladies' Aid Meets at Park

Forty women enjoyed themselves at Riverside park Thursday afternoon when the Alicel Ladies' Aid society held a social meeting there. Accordion music by Miss Lydia Hug and quartet selections by Miss Marmie Woodell, Mrs. James Moss and Mrs. Ida Maats furnished entertainment. After the program, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. W. Lytle, Mrs. Irwin Moss and Mrs. Ray Fuller. Summer flowers made the tables gay.

BREAKFAST—Chilled cantaloupe, creamed dried beef on graham toast, corn gems, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked spinach, raisin graham bread, berries with cream, cup cakes, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled mutton chops, baked new potatoes, creamed kale, oatmeal bread, Nancy's lemon pie, milk, coffee.

Children under ten years of age should be served a breakfast of stewed fruit or fruit juice, cereal, thin cream, crisp toast and milk. The meal suggested in the day's menu is for adults.

This lemon pie is quite different from the usual variety covered with a meringue. Men always like it.

Nancy's Lemon Pie.
One and one-fourth cups sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 lemon, 1 cup water, 3 eggs, 2-3 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 3 tablespoons lard, 2 tablespoons cold water.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in lard, using a "mixer" or tips of fingers. Add water, kneading only enough to hold dough together. Roll on a floured molding board, rolling away from the center and keeping the dough as perfectly round as possible. Make about 1/4 inch thick. Line a pie pan with paste and chill in the refrigerator while making the filling.

Mix and sift sugar and 1 tablespoonful of flour. Rub in butter, grated rind and juice of lemon and yolks of eggs well beaten. Add water. Beat well and fold in whites of egg beaten until stiff and dry. Pour into chilled pastry and put into a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Reduce heat and bake in a slow oven for forty-five minutes. Serve cold.

Pastry flour should be used in making the crust.—(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Aimee Relates Kidnaping Details

Aimee McPherson tells the story of her kidnaping to Capt. Herman Cline of the Los Angeles police department (left) and Joe Ryan of the Los Angeles district attorney's office seated on the lawn in front of the Calumet and Arizona hospital at Douglas, Ariz., where she arrived after fleeing the Mexican cabin in which she was held a prisoner. The picture shows the noted Los Angeles evangelist's face thinned and drawn by her experience while "holed" for over a month.

and at once convert it into dollars, as they declare nobody but an American woman could or would pay $40 for a pair of stockings.

SOME AT ECLIPSE
SAN FRANCISCO—Anything that cuts in on California's sunshine is not so popular—in California. Consequently yesterday's partial eclipse of the sun aroused little enthusiasm in the state. It was observed in a casual way but astronomers said it did not mean anything as they had plenty of data on eclipses.

When Marco Polo lay dying he was urged to retract the story of his travels in Cathay. He refused, saying: "I have not told the half of what I saw."

Women Notice Things That Men Fail to See

LONDON, July 10. (AP)—"Women notice when other women always wear the same hat and coat, but men only notice when other men make a change." Justice Rowlett observed in the King's bench division where he was hearing a case brought by Mrs. St. Vincent Farrant, to recover for clothing which she alleged was stolen from trunks she left stored in a London hotel.

This remark of the judge was inspired by testimony of the hotel proprietress that although Mrs. Farrant now claimed her wardrobe was very elaborate, she always wore the same coat and hat while living at the hotel.

"Isn't Life Wonderful with Carol Dempster," reads the advertisement, to which, we say, we wouldn't be surprised.

Dentist—"Now that didn't hurt, did it, Willie?"
Willie—"You can't fool me, my dad's an advertising man, too."

Secretary Hoover was talking about a sharp business deal. "It was perhaps a little too sharp," he said. "It reminds me of a girl who had just broken off her engagement."

"I suppose you'll give me back my ring?" her rejected sweetheart said to her.
"No," she answered firmly. "Diamonds have gone up. I'll give you back what you paid for it."

Radio and aviation have this in common—you have to stay up to enjoy them.

HUSBANDS WHO SHOULD BE CROWNED: Those who speak of their wife as the "wife," the "mistress" or "mother."

There was a young maiden named Flo.
Whom a fellow took out to a show;
He thought she was fast,
Now his flag's at half-mast,
For sitting behind was—her beauty!
