RESCUERS
TAKE DEAD
FROM ZONE

Damage was estimated at $100,000 by army and navy officials on the highways. Shells, smoke and fire checked the entrance of investigators hampered relief work for hundreds of civilians in a peace time no man's land.

The depot was the navy's largest ammunition storage establishment covering more than 500 acres. During the war it was extended by the erection of 183 buildings. The depot was a storage place where ammunition and supplies were received and forwarded to other points upon demand.

Lighting Cases. Flares started when lightning struck a T. N. T. magazine. Some 200 buildings were demolished within the reservation limits and danger from further bombardments continued today as new ammunition store houses were menaced. Many other reservation buildings were damaged.

The identified dead were Lieut. George W. Botta, Richmond, Va.; Harry C. Brown, pharmacist, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and Mrs. Frances Feeney, of Brooklyn, a visitor at the plant.

Roads Guarded. Roads leading to the devastated areas were under close military guard today. Some 400 or 500 refugees from the villages of Mt. Hope, Hibernia, Rockaway and Denmark, who stumbled from their homes as they began to fall, Saturday were content to remain out of the danger zone.

Army and navy officers in charge of the rescue work said it might be three or four days before the flames would die down sufficient to permit a careful inspection of the area.

Negro Advisor of Coolidge III Today

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y. July 12 (AP)—The illness of a faithful attaché to President Coolidge occurred at the summer house early today when Major Arthur Brooks, negro valet, who has advised every president since Wm. H. Taft, on the purchase and wearing of clothes, suffered a heart attack.

Major Coupal, physician to President Coolidge, was summoned from Paul Smith's hotel at 3 a. m. and soon reported that the spell was not serious.

Major Brooks, who is over 60, has come to White Pine Camp, really as the guest of the President and Mrs. Coolidge, with instructions not to work but to obtain a rest and the beneficial effect of life in the mountain country. When he was first taken ill two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge drove to his home in Washington and left flowers.

Major Brooks organized negro militia in Washington several years ago.

MARKET LEVEL
STEADY TODAY

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12 (AP)—Sentiment is mixed in the local butter market, at least as far as a decline in print prices is concerned. Outside of that the situation is conceded generally to be pretty weak. Some of the larger creameries here have been in favor of a decline for the past week, but cannot get together with one or two larger butter makers who are opposed to a decline in prints.

In the meantime the local market continues along at a steady level as storage stocks accumulate. The trade generally is bearish and there is little or no life to the cube movement. Storage stocks in Portland coolers alone now total approximately 650,000 pounds, compared to 475,000 pounds at this time last year.

Total holdings on the coast are near the 7,000,000 pound mark or nearly double a year ago. At the same time the outlet to the south for local butter is becoming more restricted and the trade harder to please. San Francisco and Los Angeles both are interested only in high grade stock.

Prints opened at 41c with some price shading. Butterfat offers still unchanged at 39 to 41 cents. Cube prices: Extras 37½¢; standards 36½¢; prime, firsts 35½¢; firsts 34½¢.

The local fresh egg market opened steady Monday at last week's closing figures. Hot weather is reflecting in the receipts and causing more shrinkage in candling. Demand is good for top grades.

Coulters dressed meats shippers, who have stock ready for market, are urged to get them in now while prices are strong and receipts light. Arrivals along the coast this morning were light and demand good in all lines. Choice light calves up to 17 cents with hogs firm at 20 cents. All lines of poultry were unchanged from Saturday.

NEW YORK PRUIT

Prunes quiet; California 6½¢; Oregon 11¢.

Apples firm; slabs 20¢; choice 25½¢; extra choice 27½¢.

Peaches firm; standard 20¢; fancy 24¢.
