SUMMONS.
In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Union County.
George A. Sparks, Plaintiff, vs.
Josephine Sparks, Defendant.
To Josephine Sparks, the above named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to answer the complaint filed against you herein, on or before August 26th, 1926, and if you fail so to answer, or otherwise plead, plaintiff will take default against you and apply to the court for the relief prayed for in his complaint herein, viz: for a decree forever dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, and granting unto plaintiff an absolute divorce from defendant.

This summons is published by order of the Hon. J. W. Knowles, circuit judge of the State of Oregon, for the Tenth Judicial District, duly made and entered on July 12th, 1926.

E. F. HUBBARD,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

Saxophone Case in New Role—Crime Preventor

ELKHART, Ind., July 15. (AP)— Young America is safely blowing away its excessive and sometimes dangerous energy through the maximum, the sliding trombone and similar instruments in the opinion of C. D. Greenleaf, of Elkhart, president of the National Association of Band Instrument Manufacturers.

"It is a serious problem with many parents in these days to find wholesome methods of recreation for their children, and the band and orchestra furnish one solution," Mr. Greenleaf said.
"They furnish an ideal outlet for the energies of the 'gang,' which might otherwise be expressed in ways not nearly so healthful. The growing interest in music among our young people will, in my judgment, in a few years make America a musical nation."

Baggage transfer companies blame the change in women's fashions and the fact that clothes are neither so heavy nor so plentiful as before for the serious decrease in their revenues.

"The Awful Truth"
Showing at Sherrys
Today and Tomorrow

Elmer Harris' newest offering, "The Awful Truth," an adaptation of Ina Chaire's recent Broadway hit, starring Agnes Ayres is at Sherrys today and tomorrow.

The story concerns the trials of a newly wedded pair, the husband of which is possessed of a consuming jealousy that makes him grind his teeth when his lovely bride so much as speaks to another man.
The fun begins when, returning unexpectedly from a business trip, he poses a burning apartment house and discovers his wife, clad in a flimsy negligee, descending the fire-escape, accompanied by an old maid, who, previous to the marriage, had been his most despised rival.

Check out of hearty laughs and humorous situations, it promises to afford a delightful evening's entertainment.
In support of Miss Ayres, we find such capable players as Warner Baxter, Carole Clark, Ward Haymond, Lowrey and Winifred Brayson. Paul Powell handled the microphone, under Elmer Harris' personal supervision.

Thrilling Jump Shown in "My Own Pal" at Star

One of the most thrilling jumps ever photographed is seen in "My Own Pal," now at the Star theatre for a three day run when Tom Mix, star of the production, forces his horse, Tony, to leap into the baggage car of a swiftly moving train, to evade a band of men who are pursuing them.

And the picture gives but a suggestion of the thrill that went with the watching of the real performance when Tom, mounted on Tony, galloped down the road, pulled the horse back on his haunches, gave him an encouraging pat and pumped to the platform of the moving train.

Tom and Tony have done many thrilling stunts in their work together and have had many narrow escapes—some of them coming too near being fatal to be funny.
One time, in particular, while making "Miles-a-Minute Romeo," in the mountains of California, Tony was just a trifle slow in starting and both Tom and Tony were badly hurt when the horse went off to a tenth horse and rider.
However, Tony is absolutely fearless and will go any place and jump anything as long as Tom is on his back.

As for his master, he will never allow a double to be used and takes many chances to afford the audience a thrill that would completely terrify a man of less steady nerves.
In "My Own Pal," the leap to the moving train is but one of the many thrilling chances the great star takes.

This is but the beginning of a breath-taking and at the same time entirely human photoplay.
Aside from the thrills, "My Own Pal" is filled with bits of human interest sure to add to Mr. Mix's already unbelievably large list of grown-up fans.

Vivacious little Olive Borden plays opposite the gallant Western star in the leading feminine role.
Others in the cast include Little Virginia Marshall, Tom Sanich, Tom McGuire, Jay Hunt, Bardson Bard, Helen Lynch, Jacques Rol-lens and others.

Reginald Denny at Arcade in "Rolling Home"

Reginald Denny has definitely taken a position among the very few great comedians of the screen.
He stepped into it first with "Oh Doctor!" He convinced a great many picture fans of his ability in "The Show You The Town," "Where Was I," "What Happened to Jones" and other pictures.

But in "Rolling Home" his latest Universal production which comes to the Arcade theatre Friday and Saturday, he leaves no ground for argument on the question.
"Rolling Home" is, without doubt Denny's funniest picture since he stepped into feature fare.
Comedies two years ago, and he has culled all of his previous performances.

Starting with a bang and a silly laugh in the opening scene, "Rolling Home" rolls homeward, gathering laughs as it goes, like a snowball gathering speed.
The situation is piled upon situation, with the comedy growing at each new scene, until the audience begins to wonder vaguely if the hero ever can be extricated from the hopeless tangle in which he has become involved.

He has been bluffing his old home town, and learns for himself the truth about the "tangled web" which one spins when one first attempts deception.
True when he has the difficult situation already in hand, his whole house of cards is toppled over by the cold blast of truth. But the ingenuity of the director and the scenario writer puts the situation out of the fire in a wholly logical manner, and the hero finally finds a way to make good his bluff.

The star has been admirably directed by William A. Selter, and together they make the most of every situation.
The picture is greatly enhanced, from a visual point of view by the presence of charming little Marion
