

SIX RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR

DALLAS, Tex., July 16 (AP)—Three bonnets and as many som-breros have been tossed into the Texas democratic political ring, the exit from which may lead one of the owners to the governor's mansion.

Governor Mariah A. Ferguson wants to return to the capitol for a second term. Mrs. Edith Williams, of Dallas, inspired by her distinction as the first woman member of the Texas legislature, also desires the job, as does Mrs. K. M. Johnston, of San Antonio.

The Men Contestants
In the race to restore the man under the executive house dome are Dan Moody, attorney general; Lynch Davidson, Houston business man, and Rev. G. F. Zimmerman, known as "Zim, the Tithing Evangelist."

Moody has concentrated his attack on the Ferguson administration. Davidson's principal plank is conservation of the state's natural resources and his slogan "more business in government and less government in business."

Mrs. Johnston advocates modification of the Volstead act, while Mrs. Whitman calls for strict enforcement of the prohibition laws, reduction of taxes and reform in the care of insane persons. Mr. lists from the state, if given the opportunity, to crush portunity, bootleggers and drive evolution. One feature of the campaign is

HOMELESS REFUGEES

An improvised tent by the road leading from stricken Lake Denmark, N. J., with a family thankful to have escaped death in the explosion and bombardment which wrecked their home along with the navy ammunition depot there. The picture shows, left to right the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rich: Mary, Nettie, Lucy, and the father and mother.

Governor Ferguson's offer to resign after the primary—July 24—if Moody leads her by one vote, provided Moody resigns if she is ahead of him by 25,000. Moody accepted, whereupon Davidson charged the two principals with placing two of the highest offices of the state on the plane of a "common crap game."

The republicans also will hold their primary on July 24 and for the first time in years there are two candidates for the nomination, H. P. Scott, Corpus Christi, and H. H. Haines, Houston.

Primitive bushmen in the great Kalahari Desert, South Africa, are believed the shyest on earth. At the approach of a stranger, even of their own color, they will run for miles or, if taken by surprise, will burrow in the sand and hide themselves.

The apple has been crossed with the pear by grafting apple twigs on six-year-old plum trees. The shoots thus obtained being grafted in turn on pear trees.

Hobbed hair has made 16,700 Chinese women dependent upon charity. They were formerly hair-net makers but the popularity of short hair has thrown them out of work.

Charleston dance is said to be healthy. So is hurdle jumping.

SCATTERED DESTRUCTION

A roof crashed in at the town of New Hope, N. J., a mile and a half from the navy ammunition depot at Lake Denmark. Shells were hurled in all directions over the countryside by the explosion and a barrage rained down as terrific as on a battle front in wartime. The population fled madly from the stricken region, and scores of civilians were injured by the bombardment.

Some men have winning ways. Doesn't matter, but wonder if St. Louis girl stole $175 to elope, shoe dealers ever walk to work?

Alaskan Sugar Beets
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 15 (AP)—An experiment in raising sugar beets will be made in Alaska.

The department of agriculture and the Alaska railroad will cooperate in the effort. The experiment will be made in the Matanuska and Tanana valleys north of here. Cost of production and product will largely determine the future of the venture.
