

LaGrande Evening Observer

(Incorporated)
An Independent Newspaper

FRANK B. APPELEY Editor and Publisher
HARVEY F. MATTHEWS Business Manager
Published evenings, except Sunday, at 1816 Adams Avenue, La Grande, Oregon. The Observer-Star published every Friday. Entered at the Postoffice at La Grande, Oregon, as Second Class Mail Matter, under act of March 3, 1879.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF UNION COUNTY AND THE CITY OF LA GRANDE

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited if published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches in this paper, and also the local news here-in also are reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier
Daily, per month in advance. 75c
Daily, per six months in advance. $4.50
Daily, single copy. 5c

By Mail
Daily, per month in advance. 60c
Daily, per six months in advance. $2.50
Daily, per year in advance. $6.00
Weekly Observer-Star, per year. $2.00

ADVERTISING RATES
Display, foreign, per column inch. 42c
Display, local, per column inch. 40c
Time contract rates on application.

GOD SPEAKS TO MAN—"Our God hath showed us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice. . . . We have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth."—Deut. 5:24.

What do people do who lack children as an excuse for going to the circus?

This is realtors' week in La Grande. Everybody's best smile and boosting spirit will be in order.

When the new well starts providing water for the city there will be many sighs of relief on the part of citizens who have harbored a heavy hate recently for the Grande Ronde river and chlorinated tastes.

We did not have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Moore's complimentary remarks concerning The Observer and its Institute at the final session Friday afternoon and therefore had them brought to our editorial attention for the first time when reading Saturday's paper. Although we appreciate such comment from so kindly and sincere a gentleman as Dr. Moore, The Observer lays no particular claim to credit for the event it provided. Rather do we desire that credit to go to Dr. Moore and the other experts who were so generous in contributing their knowledge and time to make it a success—and to Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, director of home economics extension at O. A. C., who selected the talent and so capably planned and personally directed the program.

STUDENT AUTOS

Should a college student be allowed to have a car? The controversy, on which various stands are being taken by different institutions, is raging more than ever. The state universities of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin have decided that the automobile cannot be banished from college because it is a necessary means of conveyance. They seem to think it is no more harmful to student life than it is to business life.

Meanwhile two Indiana institutions, Purdue and the state university, have forbidden student use of motor cars just as some eastern colleges have done. And now the University of Illinois follows their example with a stronger arraignment of the college automobile than has yet appeared. Student ownership of autos, the authorities say, has a direct relationship to their school standing. The student motorists are the poorest students and the more use they make of their cars, the poorer students they become. The colleges say it is a question of cars or education.

More particularly, they say, the possession of a car tends to result in a constant and serious waste of student's time; it leads to numerous accidents; it encourages violations of the traffic laws by the students; and it seriously congests traffic near the campus. Many of these objections are convincing and a visit to our own state institutions indicates that the student auto presents a real problem.

Not all of the blame (if such there is) can be laid at the door of over-indulgent parents. Many college students own motor vehicles, either individually or in partnership, without the knowledge of parents. The used car market which has put aged flivvers within the reach of anyone who can scare up thirty-five to fifty dollars in cash has made it possible for almost any student to jump into the car owning class. At many colleges four or five students, girls as well as boys, for a car-owning partnership, put six or seven dollars into the common fund—and the purchase is made. Parents would have difficulty denying such a small expenditure even if they all knew about it.

Regardless of the condition of the many wrecks that are thus student property, the problem remains the same. Most young people naturally prefer to play rather than work and the more opportunity afforded them, the more unattractive the work appears. Colleges are for educational purposes. They have a perfect right to banish student cars if it hinders that purpose. And with cars prohibited there are still many ways for students to enjoy life. We have only seen one college where we thought automobiles ought to be furnished—Wellsley, one of the big colleges for girls. The buildings there are so far apart that transportation is a real problem—but it is one that the girls seem to solve readily with fast walking and cheap bicycles. Both provide exercise that is not without value.

Artists' models aren't as bad as they're painted.
He—Gladys never lets any one but her friends kiss her.
The Opposite—She doesn't seem to have any enemies.

Teacher: "Who can name one important thing we have now that we did not have one hundred years ago."
Tommy: "M."

She (inspecting the engagement ring he has just given her): "It's very much like the last one I had."
He: "That's what the last girl I gave it to said."

Wife: "You think so much of your old golf you don't even remember when we were married."
Hubby: "Sure I do. It was the day after I sank the 26-foot punt."

An advertisement inquired: "You raise off the ladder—than what?"
Well, with us it's usually: "Where in hell is a towel?"

The bottom is reported to have fallen out of the Florida real estate boom. So it did have a bottom!

If people died from exposure the female of the species would have long ago been extinct.

BOOST YOUR TOWN
If you want to live in the kind of a town
Like the kind of a town you like,
You a-d-n't park your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
For you'll only find what you've left behind.
For there's nothing that's really new.
When you blame your town you blame yourself.
For it isn't the town, it's you.

Kodak as you go
All roads lead to pictures—good pictures if there's a Kodak along.
Lunch by the roadside—interesting views along the way, informal portraits of the rest of the party—it's all easy with a Kodak and it will only take a minute or two to prove it. Drop in today.
Autographic Kodaks $5 up
Brownies $2 up—Kodak Film for every camera and quality finishing. If you've been looking for service you'll find it here.

Red Cross Drug Store

Bloomer Dresses
Age 2 to 10
Sale Prices
98c and $1.49
Discontinued
Oxfords
$1.49
Rompers
49c
Hats
1/2 Price
All
Discontinued Items
Regardless of price
now on sale
25c, 49c, 79c, 98c
$1.19, $1.98
Norton's Kiddy Shop

Real towns are not made by me afraid lest some one else gets ahead.
But when everyone works and nobody shirks,
You can raise a town from the dead.
So if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor makes one too,
You'll have the town you'd like to see.
For it isn't the town, it's YOU.

We know why they always called you European plan hotels. They get your money and you haven't a chance to get any of it back.

PERRY PERSONALS

PERRY (Special)—Mrs. Neph Combs of La Grande, was a Perry visitor last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank German made a trip to La Grande last week.

Miss Blanche Martin is visiting friends in La Grande this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gray went to Portland the last of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Torval Hansen and sons Harold and Leo left Friday for Seattle, Newport and other coast points. They expect to be away a month.

Miss Wilma Thompson visited her cousin, Mrs. Vernon Straum, of La Grande, one day the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Murray were recent visitors at the Fred Polhman home in La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braden made a business trip to La Grande recently.

Bertha and Verla Dean were La Grande visitors one day last week.

SURE MADE SOME CHANGE IN HIM, STATES WILSON

"Believe Me I can Sure Appreciate the Good Health Karnak Has Given Me For I Know What It Is to Be Down and Out," Says Portland Man.

"I tell you there sure is some change in me now from three months ago, but if I hadn't gotten hold of Karnak when I did there might have been a different story to tell," declares Claud Wilson, of 2644 56th Ave., S. E., Portland, Ore.

"No man quits working and lays around the house all the time unless there is something actually wrong with him, and that's just the way it was with me," continues Mr. Wilson. "Three months ago I simply had to give up, but my wife got Karnak for me and it wasn't any time till I made a business trip to La Grande recently.

Bertha and Verla Dean were La Grande visitors one day last week.

knew I was on the road to recovery.

"When I started with Karnak I didn't have any more strength than a kitten. There were pains across my shoulders and back that almost caused me to holler, and I was in such agony I could hardly bend over. My appetite fell off till I ate practically nothing, and my whole system seemed shot to pieces.

"But I have taken four bottles of Karnak now, and I just eat anything I want and don't have an ache or pain in my body. My entire system seems to work now like a smooth running engine. I have gained in weight, and my wife says I look better than I have in years. Believe me, I can appreciate good health now, for I know what it is to be down and out, and I can't thank Karnak enough for putting me in such fine condition again."

Karnak is sold in La Grande by the L. & L. Drug Co., and all leading druggists.—Adv.

Virgil Lee, of Hot Lake, was a Perry visitor Friday.

Miss Erma Turner has as her guest this week, Miss Alma Lilly.

A REPUTATION TO BE PROUD OF:
25 Years of Successful Service to the People of La Grande and Vicinity.
N. K. West & Co. Inc.
La Grande's Leading Store For 25 Years

Fashion Notes
LONDON, (AP)—A smart summer hat to slip in the coat pocket and thin jumper suit of the latest cut carried in a vanity bag are featured in this season's week-end and holiday outfit for women. The vogue of motoring and trips to the Continent have created a desire to travel "light" and modistes have been quick to supply this "pocket outfit" for the woman traveler.
The "pocket outfit" hats are usually of creoline bound with grosgrain ribbon. They crush into quite a small compass and when unpacked at the end of the journey look as fresh as if they had traveled in orthodox milliners box.
Miss Lucille Reher visited her father, Al Reher, here recently.
W. A. Moore and family were recent La Grande visitors.
Miss Elizabeth Johanson is visiting in La Grande this week.
S. A. Robinson and family recently made a trip to Mt. Glen.
Miss Opal Belckol spent the week-end with her sister in La Grande.

NEW TEXACO SERVICE STATION NOW OPEN

Adams and Second

THE NEW AND BETTER TEXACO GASOLINE

CLEAR, CLEAN, GOLDEN TEXACO MOTOR OIL
Free Crankcase Service
Drain your crankcase and fill up with Texaco Motor Oil
Fill Your Tank With

The New and Better Texaco Gasoline
Notice the Easier Starting
Quicker Pickup
More Miles per Gallon
More Power

THE TEXAS COMPANY, U. S. A.
Playle Oil Co. No. 2