(A Review)
 "On Flanders Field," an official World War picture, is all that advance publicity has claimed for it. Its first showing, under auspices of the American Legion, took place yesterday at the Star Theatre, and today's showing will close its engagement here.

The film, taken by members of the U. S. signal corps under great difficulties and despite danger from shellfire, gives a short historical sketch of the activities of the Russian, French, British and Italian troops in the war and then depicts the arrival and part the Americans played in the turmoil.

The giant Leviathan, serving as a transport, is shown bringing Americans to Europe, under convoy and a glimpse of a periscope and pictures of safety measures—smoke screens, anti-bombs, etc.—are clearly shown.

The activities of the Americans at several fronts are depicted. Scenes, ranging from the firing of the big guns to actual charges with men dropping under the enemy's machine gun fire, charge the picture with realism. It is a picture that is well worth seeing, especially if one had a relative or friend "over there."

NEW YORK—Walter Wellman's forty-year run of bad luck is ended, his being held in jail for debt was such a sad spectacle after heroism in failure of expeditions that H. M. Jacoby, a banker and amateur explorer, paid a bill of $280 for him.

Buffalo (N. Y.) woman was robbed in church by someone who should have been listening to the sermon.

JUNCTION CITY MAN ACCUSED OF COUNTERFEITING

EUGENE, Ore., July 21 (AP)—Joe Gilstrap, 48, rancher of the district west of Junction City, is in the Lane county jail, on a charge of counterfeiting, and will be taken to Portland to appear in federal court to answer to the charge.

Gilstrap was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Frank E. Taylor, Deputy Vanavarud, and a secret service agent from Portland. The arrest was made after an outfit alleged to have been used in making bogus silver dollars had been found at his home. Gilstrap was working at a sawmill at Goldson, several miles distant.

The discovery of five counterfeit silver dollars in the possession of a Junction City youth led to a search. The boy said that Joe Gilstrap had given him the coins in payment for a number of pigs which Gilstrap purchased. The alleged money making outfit consisted of a quantity of half-dollar coins, some plaster of Paris, a outfit at his home. No more of making lads, and other paraphernalia were found by officers with him. Expert finds cigarette ruin complexion. They don't. Nothing does except leaving the compact at home.

"$14.98 As Advertised"

"How do you spell 'financially'?" asked a college student of his room-mate.

"F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y," said the room-mate, spelling out the word slowly. As an afterthought, he added: "And 'embarrassed' has two r's and two s's."

How often have you said to a salesman, "That's more than I care to pay"? If you had known the price in advance you would have been spared this little embarrassment. That's one of the great services rendered by newspaper advertising.

By reading the advertisements before going to the stores, you know what you will have to pay for an article. You need not reveal your financial status to a salesman. You perhaps do not like to ask the price of goods anyhow. If the merchant has told you the price in his advertisement, you do not have to ask.

Any way you figure it out, it pays you to read the advertisements. Regularly! The one advertisement you skip may contain just the news you would have welcomed. Read all the advertisements you can. Keep informed.

The intelligent way to shop is to read the advertisements and then go to the stores that offer the best values. Make notes beforehand of the articles that interest you. That's the way to get the most for your money. That's the way to save time.

When you know the price in advance, you can ask to be shown the goods "as advertised."

SEE WAR'S HORRORS

Troops huddled in the wet, muddy trenches, waiting for the zero hour. A low command from the officer in charge and out over the top into the hell of shell fire, machine gun bullets and gas laden air. A buddy hit, a moment to make him a bit more comfortable, then shoving on again. That's war—That's what "ON FLANDERS FIELD" shows you. You have a new conception of real horrors of war when you see this wonderful film.

Only a company such as "Union Oil of California" can make a motor fuel as good as—

Union Gasoline

Non-detonating

Union Gasoline provides, and always has provided to Western motorists, the non-detonating feature which supplies full power to the pistons throughout their entire stroke and eliminates all explosive "knocking" or "pinging" on the hills or in heavy pulling—a quality for which Eastern motorists are now buying "special gasolines" and paying 3 cents per gallon in excess of usual prices for them. Yet Union costs no more than other high grade fuels.

Always use Aristo Motor Oil with non-detonating Union Gasoline because this combination minimizes carbon to the extent that motors in good condition are run for several years without it.
