"He suffered considerably from gas in stomach and colic attacks, and at times was very yellow. His doctor diagnosed his ailment as gall bladder trouble and that an operation was necessary. Some one persuaded him to try 'Mayer's.' Since taking it one year ago he tells me he has been able to eat anything. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all drugists. -Adv.

Cherry Harvest Ended At Union and Vicinity

UNION, Ore., July 21. (Special) - The middle of last week saw the final windup of the 1926 cherry harvest for this end of the valley. About 12 car loads of the fruit being shipped out by the local fruit company in what is known as a pool. Many trees, especially the Royal Anne are still hanging full of the fruit, as the owners did not believe that it would pay to pick them and run the risk of having them turned down at the packing houses as some were both here and at Cove.

This you find out what it's all about it's all about something else.

AT THE THEATERS

From Hula Dancer To Choir Girl In "The Wise Guy"

Betty Compton, beautiful screen star, goes from the ridiculous to the sublime in "The Wise Guy." Frank Lloyd's new First National picture, in which she has one of the featured roles with James Kirkwood and Mary Astor. "The Wise Guy" is slated to be shown at the Arcade theater for three days starting Thursday.

In the first half of the picture Miss Compton is seen as a hula-hula dancer. She is associated with a medicine show and does a South Seas dance to draw the crowds.

But Kirkwood, who plays the part of the "Wise Guy," decides that there is more money to be made in preaching, so he becomes a traveling evangelist. Miss Compton now becomes a soul-searching choir singer, hula-dancing not mixing well with religion, even with the sort that the "Wise Guy" is dispensing.

The "Wise Guy" is very eloquent. While he holds his congregations spellbound his confederates go through their pockets. Eventually, however, the canting preacher's words reach the hearts of his "agent" and they decide to go straight.

Others in the cast in addition to Kirkwood, Miss Compton and Miss Astor are Mary Carr, George F. Marion and George Cooper.

"Shamrock Handicap" Is Drama of Steeplechase Race

"The Shamrock Handicap," which will show at the Star theater Thursday and Friday is a

Thrilling Peter B. Kynes story of a heroic Irish jockey who rides an American track, Leslie Fenton and Janet Gaynor, who play the dramatic role of Anna Burger in "The Jolietters Flood," have the leads while the comedy centers about J. Farrell MacDonnell, of "The Iron Horse" fame. John Ford directed "The Shamrock Handicap."

Fenton plays the Irish jockey. Miss Gaynor plays the Lady Sheila Gaffney, who owns Rosaleen Dhu, a famous Irish jumper, while MacDonnell takes the part of Dennis O'Shea, the trainer.

Lady Sheila is the daughter of an impoverished Irish land owner, and Ross is a jockey who grew up in the Irishman's service. An American turfman brings Ross to the United States where the boy sees that Rosaleen is superior to all American jumpers. He saves his money and sends $2000 to the Gaffneys so they can come to America. That day, however, he is injured in a race. Chesty Morgan, whom he has displaced in popular favor, pulls on Ross' saddle just as his mount is poised for the first obstacle.

The horse falls on him and the boy is believed to be permanently crippled. He refuses to notice his friends in Ireland of the accident and when they arrive with Rosaleen, Ross in a wheel chair, meets them at the dock.

The Irish arrivals are broke, which gives an opportunity for a lot of humorous situations which continue until the day of the great race. Rosaleen's jockey is unable to manage his horse and Ross insists on being strapped in the saddle so that he can ride her. He goes out and wins over Morgan and with the purse money under goes treatment which restores him to health, after which the Irish partly return to Gaffney Manor where Lady Sheila becomes Mrs. Ross.

Dramatic Film Story Presented with Great Cast

For a dramatic story, for a brilliant cast, for excellent direction, there is a decidedly worth while photoplay at the Sherry theater. It is "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted," a Warner Bros. classic of the screen, pictured from the popular novel by Gertrude Wentworth-James.

It is a story of a mother's sacrifice of her happiness, her husband and her reputation to save her son who has been convicted of manslaughter. Her husband's honor means more to him than his son, and the dramatic situations in which the mother finds herself compromised, as a result of scheming with her old-time sweetheart, lead up to an unexpected climax.

Irene Rich gives one of the very finest performances as the charming and self-sacrificing mother, playing with sympathy and understanding. Huntley Gordon makes a
