RED NAMED IN DIVORCE BILL

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Red Grange, the "galloping ghost" came home to Wheaton yesterday, but he barely had time to doff his sun helmet with its sky blue band and change his pastel colored tweed suit for vacation raiment when a news despatch came rattling after him, quoting a Los Angeles paper as saying he had been named in a divorce bill in answer to a divorce action.

Grange, who has been registering before a movie camera in Hollywood and who is going back to his first love, a Wheaton league wagon, in preparation for his fall football campaign, registered amusement when informed of a story printed in the Los Angeles Examiner, saying that Charles A. Taylor, oil supply man of Beverly Hills, had named him in a divorce complaint to a divorce action previously brought by his wife Clarice Taylor.

A "Wonderful Boy." The Examiner's story said the oil man charged in the bill that his wife became infatuated with the football player, calling him a "wonderful boy," went riding with him on one occasion last June, once sat on his lap and kissed him, and on another occasion called him on the phone, made an appointment for a meeting, despite her husband's objections and kept the appointment, accompanied by her sister.

Grange, who declared his acquaintance with the Taylors was entirely casual, said:

"Mrs. Taylor did come over to the hotel one night with her sister. There was a big bunch there. So there was nothing wrong in that."

The alleged kissing episode brought the reporter's "I'm not going to me. The whole thing is news." Red received a warm welcome yesterday from his dad, Lyle N. Grange, and his kid brother, Garland, the latter joking about the pith helmet which framed Grange's titan pate.

ELGIN PERSONALS

ELGIN. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, of La Grande, spent the week end here with the Hydam Brothers. They went to Bear Wallows buckieberrying Sunday, returning to Elgin with about six gallons of buckieberries. The fire which broke out here last week is now checked. Men were called from Elgin to fight the fire and keep it from spreading to Red's mill. No serious damage was done as it burned mostly over logged-off land. The blaze was started by lightning.

RUDY STILL ROLLED
NEW YORK—If that Chicago editorial writer who got Rudy Valento all hot up turns out to be a woman, well, the movie week will laugh the matter off. But if it is a man woe unto him; a man's staid he-lacking is threatened.

TOOK FIVE STRAIGHT
Ability to knock off the strong contenders is what wins pennants. So far the Cincinnati club has been unusually successful in this respect.

For instance, if the Pittsburg team fails to repeat, the reason for such a decided upset, will probably be traced back to a recent five-game series between the Reds and the Pirates, in which the world champs were defeated five straight.

Trimming your strongest contender, closest rival, in five straight ball games is no mean feat. That performance is sure to add greatly to the chances of the Cincinnati club and won't help Pittsburg.

Already of the 17 games played between the two clubs, Cincinnati has won 11 games, a decided edge. Likewise against the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati has recorded eight victories while suffering five defeats.

If the Reds can continue knocking off the contending clubs, Cincinnati has a mighty fine chance of seeing a world series this fall.

SEEKS 400 MARK
Babe Ruth has other ambitions this year aside from shooting at his record of 59 home runs made in 1921.

Sitting on the New York bench the other day, discussing the possibility of his breaking the record, which is rather remote, I learned Babe has other ideas about batting feats.

"I would like to bat 400 this year," remarked the Babe. "I never have hit that mark in the big show."

"I really think I have a better chance to do that than make 60 home runs."
"You see this is the last year of my fat contract. If I can lead the league in batting, with a mark better than 400 and make in the neighborhood of 50 home runs, I will be able to talk good business with Colonel Ruppert."

To which Colonel Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, adds:
"Ruth can't have too big a year to suit me. I hope his showing is so good he makes me pay him a

Ask $100,625 for Him

When Bob Moses Grove, sensation Macklin flinger, cost the lean and lanky Mr. Connie Mack $100,625 it was thought the high price for baseball players had been reached. But along comes Otto Borchert, owner of the Milwaukee Brewers, asking even more for his youthful centerfield phenom, Fred Schulte (pictured above). Borchert has placed a figure of $100,625 on the youngster's services—and only a year ago Schulte was just a semi-pro pastime on the sandlots of Iowa.

FRANK DOLP IN SEMI-FINALS BY BEATING HUNTER

WHITE BEAR LAKE, St. Paul, Minn., July 22. (AP)—Frank Dolp, of Portland, Ore., went into the semi-final of the western amateur golf tournament today when his opponent in the quarter finals conceded him the match.

Chuck Hunter, of Tacoma, Wash., Dolp's opponent today, was suffering from an injury to his right hand, caused when a door closed on it last night, and the pain forced him to default after they had played ten holes of the morning round.

Playing the same calibre game that he showed yesterday in downing the medalist, Harrison Johnston, of St. Paul, the Portland star had Hunter five down at the end of the first nine. They halved the tenth and Hunter then announced his withdrawal.

"This gives Dolp an opportunity to get some additional rest for the 36 hole semi-finals tomorrow when he will oppose the winner of today's match between Kenneth Hicert, Chicago, and James C. Ward, Kansas City.

Come play at LONGVIEW

Washington
the wonder city of the Pacific Northwest

MOUNTAINS, rivers, lakes, valleys, trees, an unexcelled climate—to these bounties of nature, the founders of Longview added boulevards, parks and fine architecture. Longview, today, is one of the beautiful cities of America. Nature and its designers made it so. Add to these things unsurpassed industrial opportunity, abundant raw materials, nationally famous highways, and transcontinental transportation by rail and world-wide transportation by sea, and no wonder Longview in three years has grown from nothing to a prosperous city of 11,000—without a boom. Be your own judge of Longview and its future. See it for you.
