LARGE NUMBER BASS RELEASED

ELGIN, July 24. (Special)—The 15,000 or more bass which have been maintained by H. H. Weatherpoon in the artificial lake on his place north of here are to be released next winter by Eastern Brook trout. It is recently learned here. The original quantity of bass given Mr. Weatherpoon by the state some ten years ago have multiplied to such an extent that the Elgin apple orchardist wrote to the state game commission to help him get rid of the fish, as it is understood that he plans going into commercial trout farming.

Although he has raised, cared for and fed the bass, Mr. Weatherpoon was not permitted to sell or commercialize them in any way. In clearing his ponds of bass and stocking them with trout of his own, he plans going into the business on a fairly large scale, $10,000 brook trout eggs having been ordered through the state game commission. It is said. These it is expected will be delivered from some point in Washington state in January at the same time that the Oregon commission releases eggs for its own hatcheries.

Opportunity of Lifetime.
ENIGON, July 24. (Special)—Sportsmen desiring that certain of their favorite streams and fishing holes be stocked with bass now have the opportunity of a lifetime according to H. H. Bonney, superintendent of the state fish hatchery here. The state game commission has put it up to the local hatchery, Mr. Bonney says, to dispose of approximately 15,000 bass raised during the past several years by H. H. Weatherpoon of Elgin, who is now seeking to get rid of

This is Chief of Police B. A. Longel of Canton, O., who was bitterly criticized by Donald R. Mellett, publisher of the Canton Daily News, in the editorial campaign that led to Mellett's murder. Citizens now are demanding that some one else besides Longel take charge of the investigation of the murder.

Billy Evans Says:

THE SEASON'S FIND

"Push 'em up Tony?" That is the favorite expression of New York fandom at present. It closely rivals what has been the college yell of the Yankee supporters for years.

"Bust one Babe!"

For Tony Lazzeri, playing his first year under the big tent, is already an established favorite in New York.

Without a doubt, Tony Lazzeri is one of the best looking young infielders to break into the American league in years. He is destined to be a star, a much-talked-about athlete. In fact, already he is the subject of considerable gossip.

A GREAT HITTER

Lazzeri is colorful. He has an easy, graceful style in the field, is fast, and at the bat takes a swing which some scribe tries to get great distance when he connects.

Tony, however, is not strong on oratory. He is a tough guy to interview.

"You play baseball with your head, hands and feet, not your mouth," is Tony's favorite expression when some scribe tries to get him to talk about himself.

While Tony is very appreciative of all the kind words that have been said about him, he much prefers the newspaper men to draw on their own imagination for copy rather than talk about himself.

CAME AS SHORTSTOP

Lazzeri came to the Yankees as a shortstop. He looked rather awkward, a trifle out of place in the spring when shifted to second base. There was much skepticism as to whether he would deliver.

Since being assigned to second he has improved his play with each game, already looks the part of the finished ball player and is certain to be one of the best men that has ever played in that position in the majors.

Recently he was shifted to shortstop when Mark Koenig slumped in his work. He has performed brilliantly at his old position. However, second base looks like his post.

That it pays to gamble in baseball is proved by the case of Lazzeri. When the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast league put a price of $75,000 on Lazzeri, New York was the only club interested.

The reason: Serious doubt as to Tony's ability to hit major league pitching. The case of Paul Strand, who cost Mack $100,000, only to "differ," was fresh in the minds of the magnates.

It is possible, Mr. Bonney said, that he and his men may liberate quite a number of the bass in the Grande Ronde river at a point near Elgin. Many of the bass weigh from 5 to 6 pounds each.

COST BIG PRICE

The consensus of opinion was that the raffish air of Salt Lake was responsible for Strand's average. Since Lazzeri had won fame under the same conditions he was placed in Strand's class.

Last season Lazzeri hit .355 for Salt Lake; drove in the amazing total of 222 runs and set a home-run record with 60.

New York gave $50,000 and five players for Lazzeri, practically $75,000, and he is worth every cent of it and then some.

And Lazzeri, by the way, assisted by Oscar Melitt of St. Louis, has aroused new interest in baseball among the fans—some Italian blood.

Melitt is the recruit whose fines work, once he struck his stride, has done much to round out the St. Louis Browns, now playing pennant winning baseball.

STRANDED HIS SWEETIE

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Joguro Mori, a Japanese, was in jail here yesterday because he insisted that he strangled his sweetheart, Adelheid Brunjes, recently of Germany for reckless spending of money he had given her to save for their wedding.

The German girl came to America two years ago and met the Japanese while both were working as servants in the same neighborhood. Mori told his story to a policeman who thought at first he was unbalanced by the heat.

The Japanese said he had not in Central park for half an hour thinking it over before he reported the slaying. Police went to the furnished room and found the girl's body on a couch.

STRIKERS IN LIVELY RIOT

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Both subway strikers and police claimed themselves victims of an unprovoked attack in the first clash of the strike last night.

The strike, called off Thursday as lost, yesterday was declared on again when strikers failed to get their jobs back. Interborough Rapid Transit company officials refused to talk with strike leaders, except an individual when they applied for jobs for the men, after the company reported 16 attempts to pull motormen from trains and three trains thrown through windows.

Anthony Guggoni, a striker was knocked unconscious in the clash last night, taken to a hospital and later arrested for disorderly conduct. Fellow strikers got him free on $500 bail. Other strikers are being harassed from night-stocks on their heads and about-decks.

Mr. Alexander Barton, wife of a striking motorman, declares she overheard police and detectives in an automobile say before the onslaught: "Don't give them any time; wade right in."

Police claim the trouble was started by the cry of a striker: "Here are the police; we'll give them all they want now."

Shook restored Seattle man's voice. Divorce does the same.

AUTO INSURANCE

With the streets nowadays congested with cars and with the stealing of cars and accessories having developed into a regular business by organized gangs it behooves every owner of a car to insure himself. We handle all kinds of insurance against auto losses and our collision policy cannot be surpassed. Pay one-half of the premium down and the balance when the accident occurs.

Bell Boy, 19, Swallows Poison in Tulare Jail

TULARE, Cal. July 24. (AP)—Harold Tracy, 19, a hotel bell boy, swallowed poison last night in the city jail half hour after his brother, Percy Tracy had caused his arrest on a forgery charge. The youth died before medical aid arrived.

The elder Tracy said the boy had forged a withdrawal slip to secure $500 left in trust for him by a grandmother, and that, suspecting an accomplice he had him arrested to learn all the facts.

A note on the body read: "They are trying to railroad me for something I didn't do. I am innocent of the charge."
