Visitors Honored At Social Affairs

Mrs. William Horne McNab, of Berkeley, California, and Mrs. Wally Vaughn, of Portland, have been the inspiration of many delightful social affairs while they have been here visiting with their parents and friends. Mrs. McNab was formerly Miss Helen McDonald, of this city, and is the daughter of Mrs. Emma McDonald. Mrs. Vaughn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tuncar McDonald and made this city her home for a number of years. Both have a wide circle of friends here. Mrs. Vaughn plans to leave the first of the week for her home in Portland, and Mrs. McNab will probably return to her California home sometime next week also.

One charming affair in their honor was a tea at which Mrs. E. P. Mossman was hostess on her home on Spring street. Twenty young matrons, school friends and schoolmates, of Mrs. McNab and Mrs. Vaughn called during the afternoon.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Speckhart entertained at a dinner at their country home honoring a number of out-of-town guests. Mrs. McNab and Mrs. Vaughn appearing among them. The other honor guests were Mrs. Vaughn, Miss Esther Knauts, of Spokane, Washington, and Theodore Speckhart, of Quincy, Illinois, who is a house guest of the Speckhart family.

For this affair covers were laid for twelve. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion with lovely bouquets of garden flowers.

A third party for the guests this week was a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knauts at their farm home near here.

Party Compliments Mrs. Bush

Several neighbors and friends of Mrs. J. W. Bush honored her with a surprise party yesterday afternoon. The guests called at the Bush home at about two o'clock bringing with them cheer and good things to eat for the luncheon, which was served later in the afternoon.

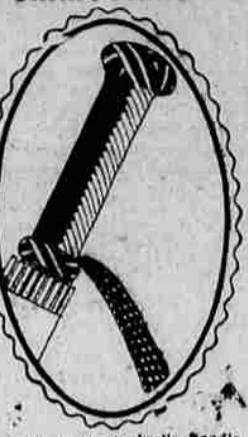

Those who participated were Mrs. Laura Jackson, Mrs. Fred E. Gaskill, Mrs. J. Evans, Mrs. Lucy Stanchfield, Mrs. Harold Hurren and Mrs. Harry Hoffmann.

Johnson-Eller Wedding Announced

A wedding of interest to many La Grande people was solemnized in Portland on July 27, when Alfred J. Johnson, formerly of La Grande and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Johnson of this city, was married to Miss May Elizabeth Eller, of Portland.

The marriage was quiet, only relatives, together with Mr. and

Mr. Johnson lived in La Grande until a year ago when he went to Portland to enter the Northwestern University of Law, and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson expect to visit La Grande in the very near future.

Sister Mary Says:

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal, thin cream, creamed dried beef on toast, crisp granola toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Stuffed beets, peanut butter sandwiches, apple bread pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER: Roast beef, browned potatoes, creamed carrots, head lettuce with chiffonade dressing, junket ice cream with fresh crushed berries, crisp cookies, granola bread, milk, coffee.

Roast beef is quite as good sliced cold as it is hot, in warm weather, so it's economy to buy a roast large enough to serve your family two meals.

Stuffed Beets
Four medium sized beets, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 1/2 cups cooked green peas, 4 tablespoons buttered crumbs.

Choose beets of uniform size. Wash and cook until tender. Slip off skins and scoop out centers to form cups. Combine melted butter, sugar, salt and vinegar and brush beets inside and out with this mixture. Fill cups with well seasoned peas moistened with cream. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake about twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Any preferred vegetable can be used in place of the peas. It's quite important that the vegetable chosen be well moistened before baking. Otherwise the dish becomes too dry.

MRS. F. S. HALL ASKS FREEDOM

SOMERVILLE, N. J. July 20—Application for the release of Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, held in jail here for the double murder four years ago of her clergyman husband and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a singer in his choir, was made today.

Hearing of the application will be made this afternoon before Chief Justice Gummiere at Point Pleasant.

William Phillips, factory worker has joined Mrs. Hall in the county jail. He was arrested last night as a material witness and held in $6,000 bail. He informed investigators four years ago that he had seen Mrs. Hall and her brother return home on the night of the slayings.

Denies Belief
Mrs. Louise Kiehl, formerly maid in the Hall home, denies assertions of her husband that she was paid $5,000 for secrecy. She is quoted, however, as revealing that Bertha Tough, another maid in the Hall home, off duty on the night of the murder saw the Rev. and Mrs. Mills at their "trysting place" in an abandoned orchard, and telephoned to Mrs. Hall. Mrs. Hall is said to have left her home afterward in company with her brother, Willie Stevens, and her chauffeur, Peter Tamulity.

Although Mrs. Hall insists that her arrest was ridiculous she makes the best of her situation. She has a room with barred windows on the second floor of the jail. Her meals are sent and she spends considerable time in conferences with her three lawyers. She is 45 years old and reputed to be worth $1,750,000.

May Arrest Trooper
It was learned at Tranton, N. J., today that a warrant is out for the arrest of former State Trooper Henry Dickman, lone hand investigator assigned to continue the Hall-Mills probe after all other troopers had been recalled from the case in October, 1922.

Dickman is wanted on a bad check charge involving Jersey City bank and on suspicion that he has knowledge of the killing of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor H. Mills. The search, that has been going on for him ever since he disappeared in June 1923, is now under way with fresh vigor.

duction, featuring Lillian Gish and John Gilbert, with Renee Adoree, Karl Dane, Roy D'Arcy, and Frank Currier thrown in for lavish measure.

"Mars Nostrum," by the same director who triumphed in "The Four Horsemen." Some call it better. Albert, "Mars Nostrum" promises beauty and deep-hewn drama. Althea Terry and Antonio Moreno play leads.

"The Magician" is a Rex Ingram production from Somerset Maugham.

The heroine for the screen version of Goethe's "Faust" will be kept a mystery until this European production is released. Emil Jennings has the role in chief. F. W. Murnau is the director.

Peter B. Kene's "Understanding Heart," running now as a serial in the Cosmopolitan magazine, is another welcome title in the list.

"The Callahans and the Murrpiles" has been awaited impatiently by those who kept up with the critics.

Another "Big Parade" If "Tin Hats" lives up to its producers' promises, here is another "Big Parade."

Along with these pictures exceptional, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer list includes honest entertainment starring Lon Chaney, Ramon Novarro, Norma Shearer, Mae Murray, Marion Davies, and other best-beloveds.

Paranquet devotees, who are legion, have kept admiring tab on the making of "The Rough Riders," an heroic epic based on the stirring days of '98. Frank Hopper, fell into stellar luck because he could act and looked like Teddy Roosevelt.

Comedy Booked
No one who agonized in mirth over "Behind the Front" will be willing to miss seeing Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton in "We're in the Navy Now." Mary Brian adds a pleasant third to the triangle. The picture will be here in December.

La Grande liked "The Show-Off" on the legitimate stage. It comes now as a movie attraction with Ford Sterling playing the winsome contemptible.

Only respectful lip speak of "Beau Geste," the mystery romance of the Sahara, that is easily an outstanding picture for the season opening.

Gilda Gray, luxuriantly and fittingly mounted as "Aloma of the South Seas" will be shown at the Arcade three nights beginning Aug. 19.

Mature drama, that lack neither for art nor for intelligence, is the nature of "Paddock," which comes to town Aug. 12-14. Nothing released this season has received more serious attention from the critics. Little Lois Moran is said to surprise even her most ardent worshippers with her portrayal of a girl whose life nearly succumbs to the severity of hypocritical morality.

Harold Lloyd, Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Douglas McLean, Raymond Griffith, Richard Dix, of "Quarterback" fame, Adolphe Menjou, Dorothy Gish and Bebe Daniels are all on their way in Paramount vehicles. Eddie Cantor in "Kid Boots" and the Ziegfeld Follies cinematograph, "Glorifying the American Girl," should be mentioned among them.

Doug and Mary to Show
Topnotching the United Artists productions, will be the ever-appealing Mary Pickford in her orphan-farm escape entitled "Sparrows." Her athletic husband will be the titular star in "The Black Pirate," a picture all in technicolor. Rudolph Valentino will revive the desert era with "The Son of the Sheik." "The Bat," mystery play of legitimate, is pronounced equally spine-bristling on the screen.

"The Great Glory," based on Edith Shaugbnessy's "Viennese Medley" will be a First National headliner for August. Anna Q. Nilsson and Conway Tearle are commendatory names in the cast of characters. Other First National stars booked for La Grande are Norma and Constantine Talmadge, Pauline Moore, Corinne Griffith, Milton Sills, Richard Barthelmess, Harry Langdon, Johnny Hines and Leon Errol.

Universal pictures will bring Laura La Plante, Norman Kerry and Hoot Gibson in Don Marquis' lovable play, "The Old Soak."

Nellie Revell's "Spangles," the circus story in which some of Al G. Barnes' staff members will be recognized, "Take It From Me," another Reginald Donny "Anteporter," and House Peters' interpretation of Oliver Curwood's drama in "Prisoners of the Storm," are linked with blonde Laura's portrayal called "Midnight Sun."
