LOST

LOST—Alphabet. Answers to the name "Doris." Reward. Notify Mrs. L. R. Adams of Union, 2-8-11p.

WOMEN AND PUBLICITY
LOOKING FOR—British newspapers are constantly publishing that all Americans are publicly mad, but the Daily Sketch admits the Duchess of Roxburghe, who recently entertained the Duke of Wales at Floors Castle, has a "first class" of publicity, despite her American origin.

The Duchess was Miss May Gordon of New York, daughter of Captain Gordon, and has a beautiful home in Carlton House Terrace, London, as well as Floors Castle, but very little has been said by the newspapers about the Duchess's entertaining. She has a thirteen-year-old son, Lord Darnley, and Crawford.

PRINCE LIKES POI
HONORABLE—Gossiping of acquaintances compared to the detestable handling of Poi, a Huxfordish dish made of fermented taste of two root vegetables to the experience of French Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden. The Huxfordish prince-like Poi, and he expressed a admiration of him, but a dancing girl like he, and his wife attended a rather festal.

If you ever get rich we are going to hire some dentist to let us bite his thumb.

OVERALLS—THE VERY NEW AND THE NOT VERY OLD.

AT THE THEATERS

Cyclists Head Arcade's Sunday Vaudeville Bill

Novelty, musical features, singing, dancing and comedy genre had distinction to the new vaudeville program to be seen at the Arcade Theater on Sunday.

The feature of this meritorious bill is the incomparable Wodans, novelty and trick cyclists. Beryl and Rena are billed "Personality 'Phoo." They are comedians and present a number consisting of stunts, smiles, fashions, pep and music in addition to a repertoire of song and dance numbers. Forest City Trio, "Harmony Sangsters," present popular and catchy songs and, Tom and Dolly Bennett in "Youth and Age" are a veritable couple presenting a profane offering replete with humor, character impersonations, and a few snappy and witty remarks. Barbara and Poi in "A Novelty Twist and Twist" offer an act that shows what kindness and perseverance can do to a dumb animal. The little dog is almost human.

Johany Hines at Star Sunday in Whirlwind Comedy

And now everybody ought to be satisfied. For some time motion picture producers have been telling us that the comedy is the thing that the screen was made for, and so on, and so on, and so on. Johany Hines has kept the promise for all of them. His new First National Picture, "The Brown Derby," which will show Sunday and Monday at the Star Theater will take its place among

"3 Weeks in Paris" At Sherrys With Matt Moore

Matt Moore and Dorothy Devore, supported by an all-star cast, are coming to the Sherry theater on Sunday for a two days engagement in their latest picture for Warner Bros., "Three Weeks in Paris."

Moore plays Oswald Bates, a brilliant young grocer who is sent to Paris on business immediately after he has been married. Miss Devore plays the deserted bride, who awaits his return hopefully and patiently. This popular screen team were recently seen in "The Narrow Street," "How Baxter Dinted In," and "His Majesty, Buicker Beau."

Willard Louis is seen as a friendly soul who accompanies his friend Moore abroad, and sets the merry pace of adventure which leads them both in a Paris prison. Mr. Louis, ever since his characterization of the Prince of Wales in "Boas Hummel," has become one of the most popular screen comedians, noted for his subtlety and versatile portrayals.

Gayne Whitman, who made his film debut with the Warners in "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted," and who in a former stage star, plays a French duke in this production; and Nora Cecil, a recent recruit from a successful theatrical career, appears as the dominating mother of the bride.

The remainder of the cast includes John Patrick, Helen Lynch and Frank Bond.

"Three Weeks in Paris," adapted to the screen by Darryl Francis Zanuck, was directed by Roy Del Ruth.

Comedy showing "Gimme a Strength."

Pottlerin leads a hard life. Never knows whether to sit on the water wagon or on the fence.

About the only thing you can get for nothing is cheating.

"Whispering Smith" Showing at Sherrys Tonight

George Melford, director of "Whispering Smith," the new Metropolitan picture production, at Sherrys tonight, was fortunate in obtaining some of the best players in the industry for the leading roles in that important screen feature.

H. B. Warner in the title role, Lillian Rich, John Howers and Lillian Tashman are featured. Eugene Pallette, Will Walling, James Mason, Robert Edson, Nelson Meddow, Warren Rodgers and Richard Nell comprise the supporting cast.

Aside from the capable assistance rendered by the players named, Frank Hamilton Spearman, author of the story and Joe La Foa, from whom Spearman drew his chief character, also assisted in making the production notable.

Spearman and La Foa were in the employ of the Union Pacific railway in the early days when that railway blazed its trail westward. When Spearman left railroading to enter upon his literary career, La Foa was made deputy U. S. marshal covering Wyoming, New Mexico and Arizona.

Much of the action in this picture is true to life—while a few names and locations described in the story and production clearly are fictitious, nevertheless, the story in the main, is part of the history of the winning of the West.

The Union Pacific railroad was used in all of the railroad scenes, and particularly those of the shooting and holding up at "Tower 'W.'" The picture is romantic and thrilling.

Comedy showing "Runt-in-Can."

DAWS CATCHES MORE FISH
DENVER—Without the use of a single curse word, Vice President Dawes has caught more fish on his vacation than President Coolidge, who proverbially used no words at all. "Hell and maria" and such expletives were laid aside by Mr. Dawes while fishing for two weeks at Wagon Wheel Gap. He thought that he caught more fish than the president simply because the fishing was better in Colorado.

Engines that are used for short trips should have oil changed at least every 500 miles. When the engine is cold the gasoline does not vaporize thoroughly and the raw gasoline passes the rings, getting into the crankcase and diluting the oil.

For Eight Cents A Day

Perhaps you've always regarded the telephone as an expensive luxury—beyond your means?

Is eight cents a day too much to pay for the luxury of being within a few seconds' talking distance of everyone else who is on the 'phone? After all, nearly everyone is one the 'phone—your friends, your stores, your doctor, your theater, your office. A luxury did we say? Isn't the telephone a practical need of modern life?

Why aren't you on the 'phone?
