Wedding Feature of Hulse Reunion

On Sunday August 15, the last day of the eighth annual reunion of the Hulse family held at the home of J. E. Hulse at the foot of Mr. Emily, Miss Julia E. Hulse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hulse, was united in marriage to Clarence I. Gilstrap, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Gilstrap, of Portland.

The wedding took place at high noon before a beautiful arch of flowers and ferns. The Rev. O. W. Jones, former pastor of the Christian church here, officiated. Miss Frances Burns played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered.

The bride, who was accompanied by her father, wore a lovely gown of beaded cream satin. Her veil of tulle was held in place by a head-dress of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a shower-bouquet of rosebuds and sweetpeas.

Miss Ruth Brown, her maid of honor, wore a frock of orchid georgette and carried sweetpeas. Hugh Whisler was best man.

Miss Hulse is a graduate of the local high school and is also an Oregon Agricultural college graduate where she was a member of the Phi Chi, national honor society, and a member of Theta Kappa Psi, national medical fraternity. He is at present a student in the Portland Medical school.

The young couple will be at home in Portland after a few weeks at the coast and a motor trip into Canada.

About 100 members of the Hulse family gathered here from Oregon and Washington for the reunion were present for the wedding. After a wedding dinner, the young couple left for Western Oregon.

The reunion was a success in every detail. Plans were made for next year's reunion before the visitors departed for their various homes.

Those from out of the county here for the reunion and wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Harris, of Rich, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hulse and son, of Enterprise; Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, of Flora; Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, of Lostine; Miss Lily Harris and H. Finstad, of Lostine; Mr. and Mrs. Luke Weaver and four children, of Walltown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hulse and four children, of Walltown; Miss Hannah Weaver and Mr. Prout, of Walltown.

Party Compliments Mrs. Quinn

Mrs. W. H. Quinn, of Portland, who is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. P. McAdory, was the inspiration for a high tea last evening at 6:20 o'clock for which Mrs. H. B. Coburn was hostess at her home on First street. Bouquets of lovely snapdragons and sweetpeas were arranged about the rooms forming an attractive setting for the affair.

Bridges was the diversion later in the evening with high score prize going to Mrs. Chase Robinson. Mrs. H. N. Ashby received the second prize.

Mrs. Quinn and her little son, Wellington, arrived here last week and plan to be here until the end of the month at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. McAdory.

Spekharts Entertain At Dinner

Honoring Dr. E. P. Mossman on his birthday anniversary and Theodore Spekhart, who is visiting here from Quincy, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Spekhart entertained at a delightful dinner party last evening at their home on Fifth street.

At 7 o'clock 21 guests were seated at the dinner table, decorated with lovely bouquets of the season's garden flowers, and a delicious dinner was served.

Following dinner Mr. Spekhart took his place at an old-fashioned organ, and four gray haired men of the party sang several songs, others present joined in the songs later.

The home was artistically decorated for the affair with autumn flowers in many lovely colors. At an appropriate hour a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

Presbyterial Meets at Union

The officers of the Grande Ronde Presbyterial, the missionary organization of the Presbyterial church, met at the Union hotel yesterday afternoon for an executive session.

After luncheon at 1 o'clock Mrs. Kennon, of Baker, president of the society, presided over the business meeting held in the parlors of the hotel.

Those attending from La Grande were: Mrs. E. P. Mossman, honorary president; Mrs. Herbert Hanna, Mrs. C. M. Humphreys, Mrs. H. H. Cleaver, Mrs. L. C. Howser, Mrs. Lee Reynolds, Mrs. Earl Reynolds, Mrs. George Richardson and Mrs. A. V. Lindgren.

Dinner Honors Mrs. Kramer

Complimenting her niece, Mrs. Francis Kramer, who with Mr. Kramer and their two little sons, Jack and Billy, has been visiting in La Grande for the past six weeks, Mrs. Sherwood Williams entertained at luncheon at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Union hotel. Covers were laid for six.

Mr. and Mrs. Kramer and children left today for their home at Coquille, Ore., where Mr. Kramer is president of the Coquille high school. While in La Grande they were house guests at the home of Mrs. Kramer's mother, Mrs. W. E. Oesterling.

Advise Women

to adopt new hygienic method and retain freshness this way; true protection; discards like tissue

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new way that supplants uncertainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old-time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the risk of old ways.

Breakfast—Apple sauce, cereal cooked with dates, thin cream, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Stuffed green peppers, bread and butter sandwiches, radishes, cold fried watermelon, sponge cake, milk, tea.

Dinner—Jellied bouillon, rice loaf, boiled okra watercress and cheese ball salad, junket ice cream, crisp cookies, milk, coffee.

This day's menu is planned for one of those days when it's just too hot to eat! However, the meals are interesting and appetizing enough to induce even the most languid to "sit up and take notice."

tender pods and test by cutting a little. Small pods are cooked whole but large ones are cut in half-inch slices. A pound of okra measures a little over a quart and will serve six persons.

Boiled Okra

One quart okra pods, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon pepper.

Wash pods well and carefully to avoid breaking. Cut off stems. Put into stew pan and pour over boiling water to cover. Simmer until tender, about 20 minutes. Let water cook away as much as possible without burning. Drain if necessary.

Put into hot serving dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and pour over butter melted. Put dish in a hot oven for five minutes to make very hot and serve.

SHORTS WORN BY MEN

PERFUME PASTE

Like the daughter of Kings in the Song of Solomon, an whom sweet ointment was anointed, Miss 1926 takes her perfume from a jar. From Paris has come this sweet frivolity—lily painted or enameled jars of perfume paste, easy to slip into the purse, unappetizing and fragrant with all the "smarter" scents.

VOGUE OF VELVET

Women smokers are recommended by A. G. B., one of the leading fashion magazines in France, to wear narrow stoles made of old-style braid or moire, embroidered and beaded with gold and much resembling the ritual ornamental worn by the priest over the surplice. Or a narrow lame metallized leather stole, well ornamented, can be adopted. It can be fitted with little pockets for the cigarette case, a lighter, the powder puff and rouge for the lips, and can of course be worn with everything, from evening dress to pajamas.

A Matter Of Time

When you first met one of the people now your friends, he was only a face and a name. You saw him oftener, listened to him, learned what he was doing, what his friends thought of him . . . claimed him yourself as friend. It was only a matter of time.

It is only a matter of time before you will also claim as friend many a product which advertising is introducing to you. It may be a truer watch, a quieter door-closer, a long wearing silk stocking, a better oil for your car. If you notice more in the advertisement than just appearance and name, you may want to be friends at once. You will learn what the product means to others and can helpfully mean to you. Advertisements tell you frankly all that makes a product friendly. Qualities, mannerisms—what the watch, door-closer, oil is in the habit of doing. Advertisements make you acquainted before you give the product your faith. Since you choose your friends often, why not keep your choice wise?

ADVERTISEMENTS GIVE YOU TRUSTWORTHY FRIENDS THAT MAY PROVE INDISPENSABLE TO YOU.
