TACOMA HEARS JOHNSON, DAVIS

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 19. (AP)—Speaking at a republican meeting here today one hour before the arrival of Secretary of Labor Davis, Representative Albert Johnson, Washington, chairman of the house immigration committee, said that opposition to the national origins amendment to the Johnson immigration act may lead President Coolidge to withhold the proclamation required to put it into effect.

Representative Johnson said he spoke in the house against the national origins amendment but that "in conference we had to accept it in order to save the act."

Davis Opposes Act

"Secretary Davis was opposed to it," said Johnson. "Commissioner general of Immigration Hull's last report opposed it. Secretary Herbert Hoover telegraphs from Spokane that he desires to see me. These secretaries soon will meet senator Hiram Johnson, California, chairman of the senate immigration committee. So all signs show the national origins plan is so far overboard that President Coolidge will not issue the proclamation required under the act of 1924.

"The national origins scheme carried out will make more bad feeling than it will do good, but the abandonment of the origins plan will require strengthening of the two per cent quota law. The tightening generally will mean more opportunity for admission of the desperately hard cases.

"This law will be tighter and we can put Canadian and Mexican immigration on a reciprocity plan which will be satisfactory to the United States and its two closest neighbors."

graduated from Harvard this year. Vigo Rizzi, the other man who lost his life, was manager of London's noted Ambassador club.

The Americans injured in the crash were taken to the Royal Victoria hospital where it was stated that unless unexpected complications set in, all probably would recover.

The passengers had a most terrifying experience as the plane, careening toward the earth, struck a barn and several haystacks before it finally collapsed.

10 KILLED

LEHRTE, Germany, Aug. 19. (AP)—Nine persons were killed and five seriously injured early today when the Berlin-Cologne express, speeding at 50 miles an hour was derailed near here. The tragedy is attributed to the deliberate loosening of fish plates by an unknown person.

Although the total loss of life at first believed great it mounted steadily as further victims were found when the debris of the wreck was removed with difficulty.

Victims Disfigured

The victims of the wreck were so disfigured that only nine bodies two of them English have been identified. The authorities admit that there may be more dead in the wreckage.

FAMILY OF NINE KEPT UP BY BOYS

journey and were picked up by the Baker police yesterday, to whom they also told an identical story with that heard here.

Father Denies Story.

The Baker police wired to La Grande and shortly afterward the father came into the police station, searching for the boys. He denied that he made them work in each town and said that he didn't know they were out asking for money until after they came back to the place where the family had camped.

After sizing the man up, the police chief started lecturing the father and finally asked him if he would go to Baker and get the boys and treat them as they should be in the future. The man said that he didn't have money enough and asked if Mr. Haynes would get them.

Offers to Adopt Boys.

The chief replied that he would get them if he could keep the boys after he returned but that he wouldn't go after them only to return them to a father that would make them work to support so large a family.

Finally, the father decided he would go and get them and left the police station. Whether he went to Baker is as yet unknown but the police chief is eagerly awaiting any new developments in the case.

Boys Talk Freely.

The two boys, who are the oldest of the seven children, are bright little fellows and they talk readily and clearly. They have a good knowledge of the country through which they have passed.

During their story to the Baker police they said that their father never gave their mother enough to feed and clothe them, even when he was making money himself, which they said was not often as he usually wanted to get a job in the next town rather than in the place where he was.

The boys received a pair of shoes and some clothing from the Baker city officials.

EPISCOPATE APPEALS TO MR. CALLES

church cannot live under such regulations. Thus, unless President Calles should completely reverse himself, most observers feel that the episcopate's letter will not alter the fundamental deadlock.

Boycott Feared.

Business men, obviously feeling acutely the effects of the economic boycott, are fearing that some of them will go under unless the stalemate is broken. They are particularly perturbed because the boycott is distressing the Catholics themselves, since the majority of Mexican business men are members of that faith. Some stores are advertising bargain sales directed "especially to the attention of Catholics."

SCHOOL TO OPEN HERE ON SEPT. 6

if the locker is kept in good condition. The lockers provide ample room for all books, coats, hats and other necessary belongings.

New Class Rooms

Two new class rooms have also been added to the high school. The largest room in the high school building, known as room 15, has been divided into two good sized class rooms. Seats have been placed in the chemistry room making the second class room.

Superintendent J. T. Longfellow and Principal E. D. Towler are working at the high school every day making preliminary arrangements so that the schools will be efficiently administered throughout the coming year. The schedule is now being prepared and the regular announcement will be out within the next week or ten days. As yet things are more or less in the "red tape" stage.

Inquires from teachers concerning room and board accomodations are being received each day. Persons who could accomodate a teacher during the school year are asked to call the superintendent's office. A list of the rooms available will be made and handed to the teachers Friday, September 3, before the opening of school. About 20 places are already listed, and names are still coming in.

There will be 74 teachers in the schools here this year, three more than last year's number, 71. Two of the additional teachers will take the two new rooms at Willow school. W. W. Nusbaum, music supervisor is the third.

Mr. and Mrs. Nusbaum and son, Wayne, were in the city yesterday. They were looking for a suitable place to live and will move here to make their home soon. They are from Nampa, Idaho.

Instead of having a desk in the Central school building, Mrs. L. L. Douglas, art supervisor, will be located in the superintendent's office this year. Both offices in the high school building have been rebuilt and more conveniently arranged.

Twenty-three high school students went through the year last year without being either absent or tardy. Of this number seven were boys and 16 girls. The boys were: Earl Barnwell, John Berry, George Bugg, Paul Bull, Max McMillan, Norman Sting and Harmon Wolfe, and the girls were: Trillian Ashby, Olive June Cotner, Eana Gekeler, Eunice Gray, Bernetta Kochensparger, Margaret Michaelson, Ina Mae Neiderer, Tillie Olsen, Ulla Prouty, Mabel Schaefer, Mabel Stoner, Flossie Vedder, Marjorie Wallsinger, Bernice Weeks, Jean Williams and Ruth McDaniel

Out of the 516 students enrolled in the high school last year between 162 to 320 were neither absent nor tardy by the monthly records.

Out of the 2200 students in the four grade schools an average of neither 800 and 1000 were neither absent or tardy during the month.

CHIEF FACING BUSY PROGRAM

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y. Aug. 19. (AP)—Reports on several phases of the country's political and economic life are to be made to President Coolidge in the next few days by a number of visitors.

In addition to Secretary of State Kellogg who returned to the president's vacation home last night, after making an address at Plattsburg, Mr. Coolidge today had engagements with Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears Roebuck and company; Senator Capper, republican of Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brosseau, of New York City. Mr. Brosseau is president of the Mack Truck company, while Mrs. Brosseau is national head of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Tomorow Senator James W. Wadsworth Jr., of New York and Mrs. Wadsworth are to call. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor and vice presidents of that organization are to call Monday and have luncheon at the summer white house after inspecting the citizens military training camp at Plattsburg which President Coondge is soon to visit.

Senator Capper, who is to spend tonight at the presidential camp, will give his views on agriculture and political questions.

Mr. Rosenwald arrived yesterday reporting to the president on the business conditions throughout the country as viewed by his mail order company.

GRAND JURORS TO TAKE CASE

out rhyme or reason" and "in an advanced stage of intoxication."

Jack Kellogg, a gasoline station attendant testified for the state that early on the 17th Gaines appeared there after hunting all night for his daugter and said he would like to live 20 years longer to punish her slayer.

Suspicion Discarded.

The lawyer declared that the suspicion that Mrs. Gaines had slain the girl, her stepdaughter, over whom the husband and wife had quarreled, "was discarded when he talked to the gasoline station employe in almost the next breath."

Carmody called attention to the fact that Harry L. Wurster, an auto mechanic who testified that Gaines' car was well known to him and that he saw it 50 yards from where Sylvia was killed and at the time she met her death, had not informed the jury how Wurster remembered when he saw the machine there.

"There is no question," continued the lawyer, "that Wurster knew Gaines and knew his roadster, but let me direct your notice to the fruth that he gave not one word of testimony explaining how he fixed the night as June 16. This fixing of time was not overlooked by Prosecutor Colvin. He has tried this case with professional thoroughness, and I am sure that if Wurster could have explained how he fixed the night Mr. Colvin would have had him do so."

Hits Golf Story.

Carmody declared that it was impossible to play golf at 9 o'clock in the evening of June 16 here, and asserted that John Couden, 15, who testified that ath tat time he saw near the scene of the tragedy a car just like that of Gaines had been "influenced by suggestions." Couden said he was playing golf with other boys there at the time, but Carmody pointed out that Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Stokes who testified they saw a villainous looking man nearby, passed the place at 8:55 o'clock and noticed no boys.

FATAL PISTOL FOUND

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19. (AP)—The pistol believed to have been used in the murder of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills was recovered here today by Lieutenant William Belshaw, of the police murder squad.

The weapon, a .25 calibre automatic of Spanish make, was said to have been wrapped in a New Brunswick newspaper of a date a few days after the double slaying. Lieutenant Belshaw said it had been recovered in a house in West Philadelphia, but he refused to specify where. He said there probably would be an arrest here in the case tonight.

A camera has been made for the army air service which will take photographs at an altitude of 35,000 feet. The camera is 4 feet long and weighs 160 pounds.

WILL TIGHTEN LIQUOR LAWS

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Aug. 19. (AP)—A further tightening of prohibition enforcement machinery aong the Canadian border by joint action of Canada and the U. S. is expected to be proposed by the Washington government at an early date.

Indications were given in offical circles here today that a conference probably would be arranged between officials in Ottawa and Assistant Secretary Lincoln C. Andrews, of the American treasury department, in charge of prohibition enforcement to see if joint action could be agreed upon in an administrative way for tightening the border against smugglers.

In general the object would be similar to those which recently occupied the assistant secretary in his conferences in London with British officials on the rum running problem.

While Secretary Kellogg of the state department said here today that he had given no consideration to the question and had not discussed it with President Coolidge, it "would be the natural thing" for him sometime after his return to Washington to take up the possibility of such a conference with the British ambassador and see if one could be arranged.

Fresh fruits and vegetables used on the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, are now being inspected for grade and condition by the food products inspection service of the department of agriculture.
