Monte Blue is the star, a young Irish pugilist, and he has this reviewer convinced that he can easily switch from the screen to the ring at any moment with equal success. He's a husky young hero, the idol of the alley in this screen version of Gregory Rogers' story, so perfectly directed by Roy Del Ruth.

And then there is lovely Patsy Ruth Miller as little Patsy Ryan, the terror of the alley, the impudent youngster who grows to charming girlhood and becomes engaged to Monte. With Louis plays her father, a genial old Irishman for fair and Louis' friends in her most amusing as a Broadway she wags. The suave villain is played by Nigel Barrie and Max Davidson is delightful as the old clothes man. The remainder of the cast is excellent, and includes Frank Bond, Frank Hagney, Ben

"Flaming Waters" At Sherrys Sunday and Monday

Delightful comedy touched with the magic wand of pathos which makes a true comedy great vivid, colorful thrills; adventure, and a smashing drama of old fields with a literal river of flames sweeping down the bottom of the dry-wash to engulf the villain and provide the hero with a settler for one of the most spectacular rescues ever screened make "Flaming Waters" a whole of an entertainment, as its local showing at the Sherry theatre will prove. The picture, adapted for the screen by Fred Kennedy Myton from E. Lloyd Sheldon's original story, is as affable as its title—affable with a sensationalism that is different, with dynamic movement, and with a colorful romance. F. Harmon Weight, who made "Dusky With A Million," directed the production, and his fitness in handling the many elements of the story makes this F. L. O. picture an outstanding success. The cast is fine and the incidents of the flaming sea of oil is done with a realism that provides a great background for the tenuous drama of the closing reels.

"I Must Tell That To Doris!"

Prattling! "That you, Doris? . . . My dear, what do you think? Muriel's engaged! . . . What? Yes, to Jim. And they're going to be married quite soon—next month, even. Isn't it too thrilling! They're calling round to see me tomorrow afternoon. Will you come along? . . . Right-o! . . ."

That's how Doris was the first to hear about it—on the telephone. What a wonderful institution the telephone is! Always ringing out news. Always handy for a chat with anyone else who is on the 'phone.
