$5,500 A MONTH PRICE OF HUBBY

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—A value of $5,500 a month is placed by Arthur Noel Wright on the society of her husband, Frank Wright, celebrated architect. She has brought suit for $109,000 damages against Olga Milanoff, Russian dancer, charging that for 18 months she has been deprived of her husband's companionship and entrance to their home due to the dancer's influence. Since December, 1924, Wright has ceased to love her, Mrs. Wright declared since she is barred from Tallent's, Wright's villa, near Spring Green, Wis., early in June. At that time she charged that Miss Milanoff was in the house and in the alienation suit she asserted that the dancer persuaded Wright to quit her from Tallent and by "false representations contrived to keep her away" from the home. The suit charged that Wright was the father of a child which she alleges was born to the dancer in Chicago, in December, 1925. A declaration accompanying her suit, she spoke of the loss of "the comfort, fellowship, love, affection, society and assistance" of her husband, which she attributed to "the dancer's youth, feminine charm and attraction, insidious and persistent wiles and machinations."

THEOSOPHISTS HOPE FOR SIGN

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—For 15 minutes today, while Jiddu Krishnamurti spoke to members of a children's order of theosophists, pupils who thronged the auditorium behind the rows of children watched the Hindu's lips for a message from the world teacher whom they expect to reappear through him. There was no sign. But delegates to the American Theosophical convention still hoped that Krishnamurti's visit would bring them the message they expect perhaps late today when he addresses the order of the Star in the East and advanced theosophical group which he leads. Today's talk before the order of round table, theosophical branch for children under 15 years old, brought Krishnamurti for the first time before the microphone. He was noticeably disturbed by the necessity of talking into the microphone, which he said was being broadcast and some followers thought that but for this the world teacher might have brought a message through the lips of their holy man.

In a letter to Lotus Langley, chairman of the democratic state central committee, Pierce requests that Langley make arrangements to issue the challenge formally, and in a letter to Senator Patterson the governor indicates a copy of the letter to Langley. As a forerunner of his action today the governor, in the course of a speech, called "No Pockets for Shrouds," delivered in the Portland library August 17, challenged Mr. Patterson orally. The governor states his opinion that the five leading issues are reduction and re-distribution of taxes, making the Oregon state penitentiary self-supporting, irrigation, highways and law enforcement, but in addition to these subjects offers to debate Patterson on any other matters that the latter may deem important.
